WHEN YOU DIE . . .

Will State Decide Estate Division?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of four articles by The Star's Courthouse reporter about estates and wills.)

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Do you want the State of Nebraska to decide for you how your estate shall be divided after your death?

If you don't have a will or if all property isn't in joint tenancy, then Nebraska laws of descent will determine what portion of the estate shall go to the various heirs.

Under these laws, when there is no will, the estate must be filed for administration, providing the deceased owned property at the time of his death; and the court then determines and enters a decree of distribution of the property which was individually held by the deceased.

Distributed To Family

In the case of a married couple, when there are no children and the property is not jointly held, half of the estate goes to the surviving spouse and the other half descends to the family of the deceased such as father and mother, brothers and sisters, etc.

If the surviving spouse is not the parent of all the children, and if there is one or more, the surviving spouse shall receive one-fourth with the remainder to go to the surviving children of the deceased.

If there is only one child of both the surviving spouse and the deceased, the surviving spouse will receive one-half and the child one-half.

Spouse Receives One-Third

If the survivor is the parent of all the children of the deceased and there are two or more children, the surviving spouse receives one-third and the children the other two-thirds to be divided equally.

If the deceased leaves no blood relatives, the surviving spouse receives the entire estate.

Regardless of the number of survivors, the surviving spouse also receives, in addition to his or her proportionate share of the estate, all wearing apparel and household furniture, all exempt items such as tools and wages, $200 in cash or other personal property selected, a widow's allowance for one year and the homestead right (use for life) of up to two lots in town or up to 160 acres on a farm.

If all the property is jointly held, with rights of survivorship, there is no property to be probated and the surviving spouse or other survivor with whom the property was held by the deceased automatically becomes the sole owner of the property, and the court determines the inheritance tax, if any.

Blocked In Some States

In some states, until there is tax clearance, joint checking and savings accounts are blocked by banks upon the receipt of notification of the death of one of the joint owners.

According to Lancaster County Judge Ralph Slocum, this problem does not exist in Nebraska. Upon the death of one of the joint owners of an account, the surviving joint owner merely has the funds transferred to a new account in his name.

As a general rule, no provision in a will will affect the property held in joint tenancy or ownership. However, all property being held in joint tenancy does not eliminate the necessity for court proceedings when one owner dies, because the court must determine inheritance tax liability, if any.

Guardian Appointed

If there is no will, and the deceased leaves minor children, then a guardian must be appointed to handle the minor child's portion of the estate until the child is of legal age.

Lawyers note that it is wise for persons having minor children to make some provisions in case of the death of one parent so a portion of the estate is not tied up until the child is 21 years old.

If there is no will and the deceased leaves no children nor spouse nor father nor mother, the estate is divided in equal shares between the brothers and sisters of the deceased or the children of any deceased brother or sister.

To Next Of Kin

If there are no surviving brothers and sisters, then the estate descends to next of kin, and if no kindred nor spouse, the estate goes to the State of Nebraska.

A surviving spouse may choose between the provisions of the will and the share to which he may be entitled under the law of descent, but he may not take property under both unless the will clearly shows that such was the deceased's intention.

For example, regardless of a will, one may not prevent his wife or husband from receiving the share to which she or he is entitled under the law of descent had there been no will.

However, if the surviving spouse chooses to take his her share under the provisions of the will, he or she can't also take his or her share under the law of descent.

REDS STILL ON RUN . . .

Cavalry, ROKs Riddle Enemy

Saigon (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen and South Korean infantry riddled a communist battalion in the central coast highlands in two days of heavy fighting, and reported Tuesday the toll of enemy dead had mounted to 323. Another 131 were captured.

The mixed force of North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong was in retreat, with the helicopter-borne U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division and the Korean Tiger Division in pursuit. Moderate contact with the enemy was reported.

The air cavalrymen reported killing 43 more enemy soldiers Monday night, running their total to 271 since the jumpoff Sunday. The Republic of Korea (ROK) troops reported killing 52.

Viets Too

Units of South Vietnamese troops were in the chase but apparently had little contact. They reported capturing five suspects.

The air cavalrymen in what is known as Operation Irving pounced on the fleeing enemy from helicopters repeatedly Monday and the casualties mounted until the fighting ebbed at nightfall. U.S. Casualties were described as light.

The fighting raged over brush and jungle covered heights about 290 miles northeast of Saigon and 30 miles north of the coastal city of Qui Nhon.

Plastered Again

Two hunt-and-kill operations of the U.S. Marines along the southern edge of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) slackened off Monday but B52 bombers from Guam plastered North Vietnamese positions for the fourth straight day of raids in or near the zone. This time enemy concentrations and infiltration routes just below the zone took hammerings from the eight-engine saturation bombers.

The DMZ operations are designed to cut off infiltration of North Vietnamese army regulars into South Viet Nam's uppermost province.

U.S. Navy and Air Force bombers kept up attacks in North Viet Nam. Flying 113 missions Sunday, American pilots reported destroying or damaging 46 buildings, 13 trucks, and 10 bridges. Numerous hits were scored on oil depots and for the second day in a row, U.S. planes hit the important Phu Ly railroad yard and transshipment point 35 miles south of Hanoi.

No U.S. planes were reported lost.

McNamara Going

In Washington, the Pentagon announced Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will spend next week in South Viet Nam. It will be his eighth trip here. He will be back in Washington before President Johnson flies to Manila for a conference of leaders of the seven nations fighting the communists in Viet Nam.

In Manila, the Philippine government announced that the conference, originally set for Oct. 18, was being postponed and that the new tentative date is Oct. 28-29.

BEES FOR A NECKLACE

Eleven-year-old Lora Ellard of Dallas, Tex., was shown a picture of a beekeeper with a swarm of bees on his neck. She wanted to try it and did. Said Lora: "First they tickled and then they started itching. Bee owner C. J. Howard said, "I've been stung thousands of times. But the more the better. The poison is good for arthritis." Lora was neither stung, nor does she have arthritis.

Mansfield Asks What He Meant

. . . IN EARLIER STATEMENT

Washington (AP)—The political uproar over Viet Nam welled up Monday in a fresh-win-the-war-now demand by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and a stout defense of President Johnson's peace efforts by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield.

At almost the moment Mansfield was telling his Senate colleagues the voters have a right to know whether Eisenhower is advocating nuclear attacks, the Republican former president was saying he would not automatically preclude the use of such weapons in Viet Nam.

"I would do anything that would bring the war to an honorable solution as rapidly as I could," Eisenhower told newsmen after attending a meeting of the Republican Coordinating Committee, of which he is a member.

Nothing Automatically

In response to questions whether he included the use of nuclear weapons, he replied:

"I would not automatically preclude anything."

Although Eisenhower indicated he was speaking in terms of holding the threat of nuclear weapons over the North Vietnamese and not advocating their actual use at this point, his views here likely to be given a wide variety of interpretations around the world.

Mansfield, a sometime critic of administration policies, attacked those at home and aboard who question the "honesty of President Johnson's flexible proposals" for peace in Viet Nam.

"I do not doubt his honesty and sincerity," the Montanan said.

Mansfield Wonders

Did Eisenhower's earlier statement mean he would employ up to two million men, invade North Viet Nam and use nuclear weapons?

Mansfield declared: "The Congress is entitled to know and if the matter is to be considered during an election campaign, the voters of the nation are entitled to know."

Eisenhower brushed aside questions about the Mansfield speech and headed home to Gettysburg, Pa. "I've had two news conferences today," he said. "I'm all done. I've got to go home."

Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said the question of nuclear weapons was one topic discussed as Republican leaders worked out a statement demanding "every practicable step" to win the war.

Dewey's Version

Dewey said none of the GOP leaders on hand, including Eisenhower, advocated the use of nuclear weapons. "He simply meant that we shouldn't advise the enemy in advance as to what we're going to do," Dewey said.

The Republican Coordinating Committee issued a statement endorsing the coming Manila conference on Viet Nam.

The arms-length exchange of Democratic and Republican viewpoints came after retired Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, former Air Force chief or staff, had called present strategy in Viet Nam "the ultimate in military blindness." LeMay recorded his views in an interview with U.S. News and World Report.

'Only Way To Win'

"The popular philosophy that we can, by cautious and timid military tactics, keep the war from escalating into a larger conflict is the ultimate in military blindness," LeMay said. "The only way to win a war is to escalate it one way or another above what the enemy can take."

Eisenhower recalled that the United States had been comitted to bringing freedom to South Viet Nam.

"All right," he said, "as long as we have to do that, let's do it in whatever way it is necessary."

Eisenhower said that during the Korean War he never openly threatened to use nuclear weapons nor did he openly rule them out.

"Do you think the Johnson administration has precluded the use of nuclear weapons?" he was asked.

"I don't know," he replied.

City Backs Alcoholism Project

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Council Monday gave its general endorsement to a city-county level alcoholism rehabilitation project.

The council directed the city administration to contact other agencies, both public and private, to "investigate how the proposal can best be implemented."

A $30,000 federal sum is available to the community to help staff and equip a rehabilitation center for alcoholics, but the application for the government grant needs to be sponsored by local governmental subdivisions.

Need Exists

Verne Pangborn, State Hospital Division director, told the council that "there is a need in this city for this type of facility, and it is only possible through city and county sponsorship."

He suggested that the medically-oriented center might be set up in the old Lincoln General Hospital building, "which is already a governmental facility."

David Hancock, director of the Lincoln Council on Alcoholism, said the rehabilitation center should offer testing, therapy, and counseling, as well as restoring the alcoholic to physical health.

Few Indigents

"We need this to do the job that is not now being done, Hancock said, adding "we would not be dealing with the skid row alcoholic . . . there would be a few indigents, but most people would pay their own way."

He said that in two years of service the alcoholism council has seen between two and three hundred alcoholics and interviewed several hundred more family members.

In other action, the council repealed provisions which make it unlawful to leave the ignition key in the ignition of a parked passenger car. The key-in-car ordinances had bounced around the council agenda in various forms for several weeks.

Comstock Opposed

Voting for repeal were council members Mrs. Helen Boosalis, Lloyd Hinkley, Ervin Peterson and Carroll Thompson. Against was John Comstock, who sponsored the legislation.

The first ordinance introduced and passed was declared unenforceable by the municipal court. The second, after being amended and passed by the council, was returned unsigned by Mayor Dean Petersen. He asked that all ignition key provisions be repealed.

Council Creates Rights Unit

The City Council Monday passed an ordinance creating a Commission on Human Rights which will investigate instances of discrimination in employment and housing.

Authorization for the new city agency was given by Lincoln voters at the May City Charter election.

The nine-member commission will be appointed by Mayor Dean Petersen, subject to approval by the council. It will not have a full-time, paid director, at least for the first year, and will not have the power of subpoena.

Under the ordinance, the purpose of the commission is defined as: "to foster, encourage and promote mutual respect and understanding among all individuals in the city . . . and to discourage unlawful conduct and violence in the attainment of the goals of equality in civil rights, equal employment, and housing opportunities in the city".

The human rights commission will also:

—Investigate complaints of discrimination because of race, color, religion, sex or national origin and initiate its own investigation of such discrimination.

—Develop and recommend to the city and public and private organizations programs and techniques designed to eliminate discrimination.

—Recommend that the City Council hold hearings, administer oaths and take the testimony of persons relating to matters before the commission whenever the commission determines it is necessary to obtain information which cannot be secured by voluntary procedures.

Although the ordinance provides authority for the mayor to appoint employes in the city classified service in the executive branch to work for the commission, that section is regarded as permissive by the council.

No funds have been budgeted for a paid staff this fiscal year, but the authorization was written into the ordinance so a full-time director can be hired in the future if needed, said Councilman Carroll Thompson.

State Grange Holding 56th Annual Meet

The Nebraska State Grange began its 56th Annual Session Monday with committee meetings in the areas of agriculture, education, taxation and legislation.

The four day meeting continues Tuesday with election of officers and an address by the National Grange Master Herschel Newsome, of Washington, D.C. He will also speak at the Wednesday evening banquet.

Wednesday morning's session will feature an address by Clayton Yeutter, University of Nebraska agricultural economist and tax specialist, concerning Nebraska's most desirable state tax. State Sen. Stanley Matzke will also speak in place of Congressman Clair Callan who is unable to attend.

Don Shriner, director of the Nebraska Centennial Commission will speak Wednesday morning and Joseph Soshnik a Vice Chancellor at the University of Nebraska will address the afternoon session.

THREAT TO FLORIDA GROWING

Miami, Fla (AP)—Hurricane Inez started a slow drift Monday night on a south-southwest path that increased her danger to Florida's heavily-populated southeast coast.

As she drifted four miles an hour, Inez already had in her grasp a disabled Liberian tanker with 38 persons on board.

"This south-southwest drift represents more of a threat to the U.S. mainland than before," forecaster Paul Moore of the National Hurricane Center said.

The compact storm was expected to continue her drift early Tuesday, shifting to a more southwesterly course. That would bring Inez and her 85 mile-an-hour winds even closer to south Florida.

The Coast Guard sent its 311-foot cutter Mackinac into the screaming winds and heavy seas that engulfed the tanker 50 miles from the center of the storm.

It had been bound for Baton Rouge, La.

Pounding waves roared into the streets of sleepy coastal towns in the northern Bahamas, in some cases less than an hour after residents had fled their flimsy homes for the safety of higher ground.

Gale warnings were raised for the southeast Florida coast once again, for weary forecasters at the National Hurricane Center were uncertain which way the storm would turn.

The tanker was 60 miles north of Nassau, the Bahamian capital that has been taking a beating from Inez.

At Williamstown, Grand Bahama Island, seawater surged into the streets. Fifty-seven of the quaint, seafront town's 100 residents were evacuated to nearby Freeport. The others prepared to leave.

At Freeport, gambling tourists listened to 60-mile-an-hour winds howling through the town as they played the gaming tables at the Lucayan Beach Hotel Casino.

Most stores and offices had closed by lunchtime, but an English-type pub went on serving pints of beer far into the night as its customers casually played darts.

Industrials Fall To Lowest Point In Nearly 3 Years

New York (AP)—The stock market was battered Monday in a trading session which sent the closing Dow Jones industrial average to its lowest point since late 1963.

The average fell 16.26 points to 757.96, the lowest closing since Dec. 24, 1963, when it read 756.86.

The 16.26 drop was the largest decline in the average since July 25 when it dropped 16.32.

Volume was 6.5 million shares compared with 6.19 million Friday.

Osceola Girl Dies; Hit By Dad's Tractor

The girl's father, Rex Grossnicklaus, said his daughter had been playing in the front yard while he was repairing a tractor. Grossnicklaus backed the tractor up, and not seeing the infant, accidently ran over her.

The child was rushed to a Lincoln hospital, but died shortly after arrival with head injuries.

. . . CAN'T BACK MADDOX

Atlanta, Ga. (AP) — Rep. Charles L. Weltner, in a startling move, withdrew Monday as the Democratic nominee for a third congressional term rather than vote for Lester G. Maddox, arch-segregationist who won the party nomination for governor.

"I will give up my office before I give up my principles," said Weltner. He said he could not keep a pledge required of Democratic candidates to vote for party nominees in the general election.

"I cannot compromise with hate," he said. "I cannot vote for Lester Maddox."

Negro Interested

A Negro senator, Leroy R. Johnson, said immediately he would like to get the nomination. Johnson, who four years ago became the first Negro legislator in Georgia in half a century, said he was a loyal Democrat but would not vote for Maddox.

Weltner, reading from a brief prepared statement, noted that he had said last Friday he could not violate the party loyalty oath.

"Today, the one man in our state who exists as the very symbol of violence and oppression is the Democratic nominee for the highest office in Georgia," Weltner said. "His entire public career is directly contrary to my deepest convictions and beliefs.

"And while I cannot violate my oath, neither can I violate my principles . . . Therefore, I am withdrawing as the Democratic nominee for the House of Representatives."

No Write-In

Weltner, 38-year-old attorney, ruled out a write-in candidacy for himself and said he would sit out this election. But he added, "I hope I can sometime have the chance to serve again."

Maddox, the 51-year-old furniture merchant who quit the cafeteria business rather than serve Negroes, said he wanted to know if Weltner now would resign from the party.

"The Democratic Party is becoming more conservative by the hour," Maddox said at Savannah.

Rep. Howard H. Callaway, Republican nominee for governor, said he was "shocked and surprised." He said Weltner's act "points out the fallacy of the Democratic loyalty oath."

Callaway said the GOP requires its candidates to pledge support of state and federal Constitutions only

Mayor Surprised

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. of Atlanta, an ally of Weltner, said he was surprised but declined comment. He denounced Maddox last week after Maddox defeated moderate Ellis G. Arnall to win the nomination in a runoff.

Most other Democratic leaders, including Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, have said they would support the nominee.

Talmadge and Reps. Maston O'Neal, John J. Flynt Jr. and G. Elliott Hagan declined comment on Weltner's action.

Rep. James A. Mackay said he was astounded. But he said he would vote the Democratic ticket, while not having time to "affirmatively campaign for Mr. Maddox."

'One of Bravest'

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said: "Charlie Weltner is one of the finest and bravest men I have ever met."

Weltner was elected over veteran James C. Davis in 1962 and voted for the final version of the 1964 civil rights act. Last year he was a leader n the congressional investigation of the Ku Klux Klan.

His district, including most of Atlanta and surrounding Fulton County, is about 33% Negro.

Pork Co. Strikers Rampage When 17 Transients Arrive

Harlan, Iowa (UPI)—Strikers angered by the arrival of transient Mexican-American workers Monday went on a rampage of violence and vandalism at the Western Iowa Pork Co. plant.

The strikers, members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (UPWA), shattered plant windows, smashed automobile windshields, overturned mobile homes and chased non-striking workers from the plant.

Damage was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Shelby County Sheriff Orrel Gearhart said he feared renewed violence when other non-union workers try to cross picket lines. But tension eased after the 17 Mexican-Americans agreed to return to California.

Guard Call Nixed

Gearhart asked Gov. Harold E. Hughes to call out units of the Iowa National Guard. Hughes, in Des Moines, said the situation did not justify a Guard call-up.

Union and company officials said the pullout of the transient workers should ease the situation and make further violence unlikely.

Between 70 and 90 union members — a third of them women—assaulted the cars of workers trying to enter the plant late Sunday night and early Monday.

They damaged five trailer homes housing the transients. Some of the Mexican-Americans fled into nearby cornfields.

Disperse

The strikers dispersed about 10:30 a.m. shortly after District Judge Bennett Cullison arrived at the plant. Cullison six weeks ago issued a permanent injunction limiting the number of UPWA pickets to four at each of the plant's two entrances.

Production resumed on a limited basis last week when non-strikers were allowed to work and additional employes were hired from the area.

Elvin Troll, president of UPWA Local 1225, said he had been able to control the union members in the 50-day strike until Sunday night when the out-of-state workers arrived.

"I lost control of them then," Troll said.

Four Injured

Three of the Mexican-Americans were slightly injured when the house trailers, moved onto the plant grounds last week, were damaged.

Another man suffered a cut head and was treated by a doctor and released.

Defanged Packaging Bill Passed By House

Washington (AP)—The House passed a "truth-in-packaging" bill Monday stripped of Senate provisions for mandatory federal packing standards.

Only eight votes were cast against the measure which supporters said is too weak; critics contended it adds little to existing law. The roll call vote was 300 to 8.

The bill passed authorizes the government to bring manufacturers together in an effort to work out voluntary packaging standards. If after a year they fail to agree or do not obey their voluntary standards the government would have to ask Congress for additional legislation.

She's Disappointed

"There's little in this bill that does anything of importance," said Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., a leading congressional champion of legislation to aid American consumers. She said the bill "should have gone a great deal further."

And Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said the legislation "should have had mandatory standards of weights and measures."

From the GOP side of the aisle, Rep. Samuel L. Devine of Ohio said the bill was "gutted" by the Commerce Committee of which he is a member. The Senate version, Devine said, "would have created "a monstrous bureaucracy to regulate" the free enterprise system

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, chairman of the Commerce Committee, defended the bill which he piloted through his group after an initial vote last month to table it.

He said it is "a good bill" but added that if the housewives of America had written it "it would be about 10 times as strong as it is."

The bill sets mandatory federal labeling standards and also gives the federal government authority to regulate such things as "cents off" campaigns, use of such descriptive terms as "giant economy size," partially filled packages and use of "servings" to indicate quantities without specifying what a serving consists of.

Authority is divided between the Food and Drug Administration and the Federal Trade Commission.

Mortgage Interest Jacked Up Again

Washington (AP) —For the third time this year, the government Monday increased the interest rate on home mortgages it guarantees or insures—this time from 5¾% to a record 6%, the legal limit.

Officials said the action stems from high interest rates which have reached record and near record levels and have drained money from the mortgage market.

The new rate won't apply to the roughly six million outstanding mortgages now guaranteed by the Veterans Administration or insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

These will continue to bear interest at the rates agreed upon when they were approved.

6½% Total

Monday's action, effective immediately, will mean a total charge of 6½% on FHA mortgages since the government collects an additional 0.5% as an insurance premium.

The VA has no such continuing premium but charges a flat fee of 0.5% at the time a person obtains a mortgage. This non-recurring expense averages about $72 per mortgage, VA said.

In announcing the increase, Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development, said "abnormally high" interest rates have drained funds away from the mortgage market and made it difficult for home buyers to obtain money.

The VA said the increase would make GI loans more competitive and attract additional money into this market.

Interest rates on conventional home mortages have been rising for the last eight months and now average more than 6%.

Hope On Premium

Weaver expressed hope that the higher rates will reduce the premium sellers of homes must now pay to obtain mortgage financing. This rate—called points — runs about 7 to 8% of the total value of a mortgage in some areas.

FHA and VA interest rates went from 5½ to 5¾% last April.

In a related action, the Federal National Mortgage Association raised the ceilings on mortgages it purchases under its secondary market operations but decreased the price it will pay for them.

This was the sixth time since last December that the agency had reduced the price it will pay lenders for FHA and VA mortgages.

The FNMA fixed $25,000 as its limit for a proposed new home and fixed $17,500 as its ceiling on existing home mortgages.

Tunisia Cuts Ties To Egypt

Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser have been at odds for years over the Israeli issue and other problems.

Relations between Cairo and Tunis were strained in April 1965 when Tunisia withdrew her ambassador from Cairo and Egypt followed suit.

The moves followed statements made by Bourguiba during a Near East tour that the Arab nations should open talks with Israel on the implementation of United Nations resolutions on Palestine favorable to the Arabs.

Bourguiba's statement drew heavy fire from the other members of the Arab League who accused him of being a traitor to the Arab cause. The attacks continued even though Bourguiba repeatedly stated he merely sought implementation of resolutions backing the Arab cause.

Teacher Allowed To Deduct Costs Of More Training

Washington (UPI) — The Treasury Department said Monday it has decided that teachers who take additional courses to improve their professional standing normally could deduct all the cost from their income tax.

Assistant Treasury Secretary Stanley S. Surrey wrote Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr., D-Ind., who has led the fight for such a ruling, of the decision.

Under the proposed new ruling, the treasury said deductions would be allowed if the additional education is needed to maintain or improve skills required in the teacher's present position or to fulfill new requirements imposed by his employer.

State Weekend Highway Death Toll Rises To 14

By The Associated Press

Fourteen deaths were recorded, raising the state toll to 326 compared with 288 a year ago.

La Donna Harpham, Hastings.

Terry Johnson, 10, Wakefield.

Robert Leesley, 21, Greenwood.

Sharilyn Ellsworth, 24, 7301 Kearney, Lincoln.

Wallace J. Packard, 22, Wymore.

Rev. H. F. Beebe, 76, Omaha.

Mrs. H. F. Beebe, 76, Omaha.

John A. Gibbons, 18, Omaha.

Mrs. Lorraine Githen, 52, Omaha.

Edward Orr, 48, Omaha.

John E. Seeman, 18, West Point.

Eva McKay, 51, Elgin.

Dewayne Tims, 12, LaVista.

Anton Roschnialski, 49, Columbus.

Lancaster County deputy attorney Ronald Lahners said Leesley and Miss Ellsworth were killed and two other passengers in the car were injured when the westbound car hit a bridge rail, on Interstate 80 near Waverly, veered and then went through the rail, dropping 12 to 15 feet down an embankment.

Packard was killed in an intersection collision one mile west of Wymore Sunday night. Gage County Sheriff Fred Steinkamp Jr. said he was a passenger in a car driven by Margaret L. Mick, 17, of Wymore, who suffered minor injuries along with two other passengers.

The sheriff said witnesses told him the brakes on the Mick car failed and it passed a stop sign. The Mick car was hit broadside by a car driven by Ervin Rickers, 40, of Wymore, going east on a blacktop road. Rickers, his wife and two children were injured, but apparently not seriously.

The Mick car remained upright but the Rickers car rolled over on its side, pinning Rickers' arm between the car and the ground.

Terry Johnson was killed and six other persons injured, one critically, in the near head-on collision of a pickup truck and an empty stock truck about one-tenth mile east of Waterbury Sunday night.

Young Johnson and his two brothers—Randall, 11, and Allen 8—were riding in the rear of the pickup truck, driven by their father, Eugene Johnson, 38. The three youths were thrown from the pickup which overturned.

The driver of the stock truck was identified as Kerry L. Miller, 25, of Wayne. Riding in the cab of the pickup with Johnson were Otto Brummund of Wakefield and Ernest Lieber, 65, of Jackson.

Johnson was reported in critical condition Monday and Lieber and Randall Johnson in fair condition. The others escaped serious injury.

The Harpham women died in a Hastings hospital shortly after a two-car crash at the top of a hill a mile north and four miles west of Harvard Sunday night.

Her husband, Charles, was reported in fair condition at a hospital Monday. Florence Owens of Hastings, driver of the other car involved, was reported in good condition.

The sheriff's office said the Owens' car was traveling north and the Harpham car south when the crash occurred.

Lincolnite One Of Victims In IS 80 Crash

Two persons were killed and two were injured early Monday morning when their car swerved out of control on Interstate 80 near Waverly.

The victims were Robert E. Leesley, 21, of Rt. 1, Greenwood, and Mrs. Sharilyn Ellsworth, 24, of 7301 Kearney. In fair condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital were Beverly Wilson, 28, of 7301 Kearney and Harley Coy, 31, of 4125 E.

Mrs. Ellsworth is survived by her husband, William K.; sons, Ricky and Troy, both at home; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schaaf of Lincoln; brothers, Roger and Richard Schaaf, both of Lincoln, Robert of California, Donald of the U.S. Navy, and Ronald; sisters, Mrs. Shirley Reifstake of Dubuque, Iowa, and Mrs. Diane Hanna of Lincoln.

Senate Unit OKs Funds For State

Washington (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Monday a $4,139,244,000 public money bill carrying funds for hundreds of irrigation, flood control, navigation and power projects.

The Senate Committee increased the bill by $28,312,000 over the amount approved by the House. It was still $27,829,000 under President Johnson's budget and $186,348,000 under the appropriations for similar purposes last year.

Here are the changes affecting Nebraska:

Construction: Missouri River, Sioux City to mouth, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska, $8,300,000. The House allowance was $7,100,000.

Planning: Little Nemaha River, $25,000. The House made no allowance.

Reclamation Bureau Project:

Planning: Missouri Basin Project, Mid-State division, $175,000. No House provision.

Man's Body Is Found In Canal

Officers said Baker's son reported his father missing Sunday and a search was begun. The man's car was found near the lake Monday and further search yielded the body.

Funeral services are set for Thursday.

Tessmer Chosen

Wilber — Gary Tessner, Friend High School principal, has been named president-elect of the Saline County Education Association. Other officers elected at the association's first meeting of the year are: Donald D. Clark, Wilber, president; Mrs. Irene Drevo, Crete, secretary; Mrs. Lesbeth Gilbert, Wilber, treasurer; Mrs. Shirley Olsen, Crete, legislative chairman; Robert C. Cork, Dorchester, legislative chairman-elect; Mrs. Bernice Jeffries, Wilber, nominating chairman; Lynda Umberger, Western, program chairman.

Hurley Pleads Guilty To 2nd Degree Count

Ponca (AP) — An 18 - year - old Ponca youth, James Hurley, pleaded guilty Monday to a reduced charge of second degree murder filed in District Court by special prosecuting attorney Rodney Smith of South Sioux City.

Hurley earlier had been charged with first degree murder in the April 22 death of his former girlfriend, Julee Armstrong, 17, of Ponca.

Defense Attorney Mark Ryan also introduced written psychiatric reports from Dr. F. M. Stark of Sioux City, Iowa, regarding Hurley.

The youth was hospitalized in the psychiatric ward of a Sioux City hospital and later taken to the State Hospital in Lincoln for further tests. Details of the reports were not made public.

Oregon Man Killed, Wife Said Critical

Lincoln Star Special

Hampton — A 71-year-old Portland, Ore., man, Guy Hart, died Monday afternoon of injuries received in a highway accident just west of Hampton on U.S. 34.

His wife, Anna, 69, was listed in critical condition in an Aurora hospital.

A Safety Patrol report said the westbound Oregon car collided almost headon with an eastbound semi-truck loaded with hogs while attempting to pass a car.

A car following Hart and driven by LaRhue G. Friesen of Henderson also collided with the truck after it landed crossways in the highway, the patrol said. Both cars wound up in the north ditch.

Charges Filed In Fatal Car Crash

Fremont (AP)—Dodge County Attorney Richard Kuhlman has filed a motor vehicle homicide charge against David Hovendick of Herman, operator of a road scraper which was involved in a fatal accident.

Hovendick's vehicle was in collision with an auto driven by Donald Fergus of Omaha near Hooper Sept. 24. Mrs. Iris Fergus, 50, was killed.

North Platte Girl Given Scholarship

Omaha (AP)—Ak-Sar-Ben has granted three $200 scholarships to the University of Nebraska School of nursing this fall, including one to a North Platte girl, Roberta Kanive.

The other recipients were Omahans.

Season's First Snow At Harrison

By the Associated Press

Northwestern Nebraska had a mild preview of winter Monday.

About an inch of snow fell at Harrison and the temperature dipped to the 30-degree range. Observers reported winds gusting from 27 to 34 miles an hour.

Snow showers also were reported at Gering, Chadron and Scottsbluff.

Mitchell Critical Of Curtis For Senate Absence

Kearney (AP) — State Democratic Chairman John Mitchell Monday criticized Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., for his absence from the Senate last week, and said that as a result, Curtis, "the great economizer, missed eight chances to build his record of opposition to progress."

"Last week the Senate took action on what the news media described as eight major record votes," said Mitchell. "Carl Curtis was reported as not voting on each question. The reason, of course, is that he is busy politicing in Nebraska. He does it every six years — when election time comes around."

Nebraska News

"What must be particularly disturbing to Curtis' fans is that six of the eight votes dealt with the money needs of government agencies for health, education, welfare and labor. If he had been there he could have voted against every one of them — as he has done so often in the past — and could have reinforced his claim he holds down the cost of government."

85% Corn Crop Mature; Little Damage By Frost

By The Associated Press

Last week's freezing weather ended the growing season for many garden plants but appears to have caused little or no damage to field crops in Nebraska, government crop observers reported Monday.

Slightly more than 85% of the corn crop was mature by last weekend, according to the weekly crop report of the State - Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Although killing frost occurred over most of Nebraska during the weekend, crops were generally mature or nearly mature and crop damage resulting from the frost will probably be limited to a few late fields, the observers said.

Fall harvesting operations are picking up in most areas of Nebraska, and combining of soybeans and grain sorghum has begun in several sections.

Moisture content varies but most grain is requiring artificial drying before storage. The corn harvest, however, has barely started and most operators will wait for further drying before picking.

Other crop report observations:

The dry bean harvest has passed the halfway mark in the Panhandle, and yield and quality continue good.

Millet and potato harvest continues in the Panhandle, while the sugar beet harvest is expected to begin soon.

Nearly 95% of the winter wheat crop has been seeded. Fall sown grains and legumes have emerged to very good stands in most fields.

Silage cutting operations are nearing completion, and about 70% of the fourth cutting of alfalfa has been harvested.

Pasture and range conditions improved additionally last week and about 80% of the pastures and range is now considered to be in average condition or better.

Producers are beginning to move cattle into feed lots and to pick up livestock for gleaning grain fields following harvest. Conditions continue to be good for most classes of livestock.

Rainfall throughout Nebraska during the week ending Monday included:

Choice Is The Familiar

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Millions of people, said Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman in Nebraska over the weekend, are being denied the right to live where they choose. He was speaking particularly of young people but not of any tyrannical force that holds the individual against his will. He was speaking of the economic facts of life that force young people to leave rural areas and seek their futures in the cities of the nation.

But what ever happened to that old idea to the effect that once a country boy or girl had seen the city, there was no returning to the country? It was a farce to begin with. The fact is that the vast majority of those who leave rural America for metropolitan areas do so against their true desires. They leave the areas of their birth only because that area lacks for them an opportunity to obtain a good job and live a rewarding life. Once they leave, there is a long period of adjustment and the longing for the space and informality of the country never disappears in total.

Strong Ties To Break

If you cannot understand this, perhaps you have led too sheltered a life. One needn't have been born on a farm or even in a small town to appreciate life in the more thinly populated regions of the nation. For such an appreciation you need only have been exposed to the open spaces at intervals in your life.

Take your son or daughter on a weekend excursion into the open country and you will see why the jump from farm or rural to city life is a hard one to make. Pull into the farmer's yard and you are greeted by a big dog, perhaps two or three of them. Chickens scamper about and maybe a few ducks are telling of your approach with their loud quacking.

You aren't very often greeted by a dog in the city because the animal must be penned up somewhere. If loose, he not only infringes upon the rights of others, but has his own life in jeopardy from a multitude of causes. There are people who will molest animals, others who will poison them and heavy traffic to threaten them. In the country, the dog is free to roam, to chase rabbits if he likes, to dig all the holes he wants, to lie under the porch or the big cottonwood, to run to the pond for a fresh drink and to be on hand when his master comes around. Since he can bark whenever he pleases, he seldom does so. Again, he is like people in this regard. Try to control or stop his barking and he goes at it with a vengeance.

The dog on the farm is free for something else, too. He is free to run at the side of the youngsters in the family. Out of the yard, across the feed lot, through the corn field and toward the creek scamper boys, girls and dog, or dogs. They have all the room in the world in which to run and play, in which to fill their lungs with clean country air and to stretch their muscles to the extent of their capacity. At the creek, they may catch frogs, fish for bullheads, gather rocks, construct a dam, wade in the cool water or pass the time in any other of a wide variety of ways — all of this within running distance of the house, not an hour's drive away.

Upon their return, they may saddle up an old mare and take turns riding into the hills and rolling land that outline the farmyard in another direction. Along the way, the rabbits scamper in fear, pheasants flush in a natural feeling of security and maybe a coyote stands and watches on a high point near the distant horizon.

Close To Nature

While not likely to pass through a stand of bluestem grass, part of the original "gold" of Nebraska, this group of happy children will see plenty of goldenrod, perhaps a wild rose or evening primrose. If at the right time of the year, the day may seem brilliant with the glow of sumac, and meadowlarks are sure to be flitting in all directions.

In the evening hours, their sight extends unbroken to the sunset and the mornings glow with the first beams of early light in the eastern sky. In the midst of such vastness and grandeur comes a healthy respect for the world and its marvels, a kinship with the natural state of our environment and an appreciation of the role of mankind in the cultivation of a way of life. The focal point is the home, as it stands as a mark of hope, a place of total refuge. The nearly constant threat and occasional reality of adversity breeds a spirit of cooperation and understanding between one homestead and another.

The individual coming from such surroundings is apt to have a peculiar mixture of forces at work within him. There is an urgency of conquest born of necessity, a serenity born of constant hope, an independence born of difficulty and a compatibility born of a nurtured spirit of survival. The rural exodus not only deprives the individual of living where he might choose, but it deprives the nation of individuals whose influence on the scene is greatly needed.

"Go Back! Go Back! This Pace Is Making Us Dizzy."

Coming Week In Congress

Much of the future course of the nation may be decided in Congress this week. Before either the House and Senate or both are measures in the field of secondary education, health and foreign aid. Debate, also, is pending on the $2.5 billion anti-poverty bill in the Senate.

As a part of the decision in these matters, we will have the usual debate over guns or butter. It will be argued that we cannot afford these domestic programs when we are engaged in a costly war in Asia. On foreign aid it will be argued that we should stop trying to take care of the rest of the world.

Just the opposite is true in both cases. The thing we cannot afford is to ignore the nation's shortcomings in the field of education. Nor would we be wise in turning our backs to pressing health needs and the plight of the underprivileged.

The battle on foreign aid is slowly being lost, with funds as requested constantly being cut by Congress. This comes at a time when statesmen around the world give constant warning of the economic and social disasters that are so close to engulfing many nations of the world.

We cannot consider solely our financial situation but must look, too, at the challenges we face. We are too inclined to talk off the top of our head about what we can afford without considering what is demanded of us. What we seek is peace and security and these will not be found in the midst of lost human potential.

It is a week of sober reflection and decision for Congress and thoughtful reaction on the part of the American people. If saved too much this week, we could incur a heavy and costly debt for the future.

It Is Our Fault

The weekend added fourteen fatalities to Nebraska's annual figure. It brought the total highway deaths to 326 for 1965 thus far. And we have three months yet to go.

In 1965 we killed 386 — just 60 more than we have disposed of during three-fourths of 1966. At the present rate we will exceed the total for 1965 and closely approach the total of 1964 when 450 were killed in a record breaking performance. We are paying at the rate of 1⅓ lives per day to drive cars on our highways. And we are injuring greatly more persons, to say nothing of adding up substantial property loss.

When these figures are spread across the totals of 50 states we are losing more people to highway carelessness than were we in a great war. Yet we do nothing about it of consequence.

Let us face a fact. Safety improvements in cars themselves can do little to stop car crashes. Perhaps they can reduce somewhat the number of deaths. But it is still the collisions that cause the trouble. We are driving deadly machines incompetently. Let us accept the major share of the blame, because that is where it belongs.

We can work around the edges of the problem by making demands on car manufacturers. We can do some good by building safer highways, by better intersection warnings and by the elimination of highway deathtraps. We can do all of that and we should. But still the great percent of damage rests with the drivers themselves.

Most impervious to pleas for safety are the drivers themselves. It is useless to fight this deplorable highway record until the people join in with meaningful purpose.

No Self Examination

The Republican party has gone on television with an appeal to the American people.

The appeal is in two parts. The first part is for money. The second part is a call to support the two party principal in the United States.

This move raises questions among the thoughtful citizens. The call for party funds is understandable. All political parties need money. It is better that it comes from the rank and file than from special interests.

But the call in support of a two party nation is questionable. One partyism is only possible in a totalitarian country, which outlaws and severely punishes any but official thinking.

A party as such in the United States, with its free elections and its dependence upon public opinion in its many varieties cannot expect to dominate in free elections if its positions are inimical to the great majority. It is not the duty of the losing party to call for support from people who do not agree with it. Rather it is the duty of the party to engage in self-examination and to adjust its philosophy to current needs.

The appeal says nothing about self examination. In that respect it is unilateral and cannot be expected to succeed.

The Democratic party at the present time is in the driver's seat nationally. But it is not a monolithic party and within itself it stands sharply divided, representing all shades of thinking. It has not killed the Republican party. The greatest damage to Republicanism has come by its position on issues the electorate believes of prime importance and by the type of leadership it has offered. It is a long way from dead. It just needs to acknowledge real public problems and to provide constructive answers for them.

Russians Trying For Viet Peace

WASHINGTON — For the first time in three years in which the State Department has chased down every peace feeler coming out of Hanoi, Moscow, Paris, Algiers or the United Nations, it looks as if something solid is in the works.

Reasons for this optimism are twofold:

1. The Russians are really putting the heat on North Viet Nam for peace. Since they supply MIG fighter planes, antiaircraft guns, and even train North Vietnamese pilots, their influence can be decisive.

2. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg went further than the United States has gone before in proposing peace terms. Buried in his speech where most newsmen missed it is the acceptance of the Viet Cong in a coalition government for South Viet Nam.

This is exactly what Sen. Bobby Kennedy suggested last Feb. 19, at which time Vice President Humphrey compared his proposal to putting "a fox in the chicken coop or an arsonist in a fire department." Premier Ky in Saigon, who doesn't even want to sit down with the Viet Cong for peace talks, also hit the ceiling.

However, Goldberg tucked into the body of his U.N. speech this significant statement: "We do not ask of North Viet Nam an unconditional surrender of anything that belongs to it. Nor do we seek to exclude any segment of the South Vietnamese people from peaceful participation in their country's future."

Since the Viet Cong is a segment of the South Vietnamese people, this means a coalition government, and this fact has been explained to the Russians, who in turn have transmitted the information to Hanoi.

It's significant that Foreign Minister Gromyko's first U.N. speech, blasting Goldberg's peace proposals, was written in Moscow before he departed and before Goldberg's speech was delivered. Since then, in private talks with Secretary Rusk and Goldberg, Gromyko has appeared highly interested and quite conciliatory. This is why the President took the unusual step of inviting the Soviet foreign minister to dinner.

Once before, in February, 1965, the Russians made a hard move for peace. This was when Premier Kosygin went to Peking on Feb. 4, then to Hanoi, suggesting peace moves in both capitals. But on Feb. 7, just after Kosygin arrived in Hanoi, President Johnson ordered the first bombing of North Viet Nam, thus cutting the ground out from under Kosygin's diplomacy.

The Russians have been irked at Johnson ever since, and Gromyko has flatly refused to get involved in new peace overtures—up until the past two weeks.

Experts Believe Romney Too Late

LANSING, Mich. — You can hear in this capital of the motor state the stirring of great events to come. Preparation for the presidential campaign of Gov. George Romney has no official sanction from the governor, himself, who is spending most of his time on the stump aiming to roll up a whopping majority in re-election to a third term.

But in the swelling files of the names of tried-and-true friends across the country and in the plans to be unveiled shortly after Nov. 8 the launching is being readied. Headquarters will be opened in Washington, New York and Detroit. Under the quiet guidance of Robert John (Jack) McIntosh, a former Michigan congressman, the nucleus of both a political and a non-political — the independent Romney-for-President clubs —attack is shaping up.

The professional politicians in the party around the country say it's too late. Romney has waited too long, and Richard M. Nixon is even now going from one congressional district to another nailing down the delegates who will pick him as Republican nominee in 1968. Only by a miracle, say the pros, could Romney capture his party's prize.

Romney is, however, a rugged believer in miracles. And in a sense his own political career, beginning with his first election as governor in 1962 and his re-election two years ago by a majority of 386,000 while voters rolled up a lead of 1,100,000 for Lyndon Johnson, is proof of the miraculous.

That an industrialist preaching a lofty idealism on the rights of the individual could win in a state with the most aggressive trade union in America the United Auto Workers, is the miracle. Romney's Democratic opponent this time, Zoltan A. Ferency, a comparative unknown who has never held elective office, has the all-out backing of the unions. But Romney made the claim before a jeering audience of the statewide AFL-CIO Political Action Committee (COPE) that his polls show 82 percent of unionists approve his handling of the governor's office.

For a proper launching Romney must win with a majority of 400,000 or more. Preferably he must pull in with him Robert P. Griffin, who is running for the seat to which he was appointed by Romney on the death of the Democrat, 72-year-old Pat McNamara. In almost every talk he makes the governor plugs Griffin, who is little known around the state.

How can Romney hope to get the Republican nomination when most of the state and county chairmen and the delegates to the convention are conservatives regarding Romney as a defector for withholding endorsement of Barry Goldwater two years ago?

LA VERNA HASSLER

Patchwork Prairie Country

I gathered a large bouquet of field flowers Saturday afternoon as I ambled across the farm and arranged them in a large container. I combined the loveliness of Queen Anne's lace with goldenrod and black-eyed Susan. It made a bountiful spot of beauty on the table . . . as lush and lovely as any bouquet picked from a summer garden.

Wild blossoms burgeon along every roadside so that anyone can afford to be lavishly extravagant with this seasonal beauty. The milkweed pods have burst open, too, and add a delicate lace filigree to the fences.

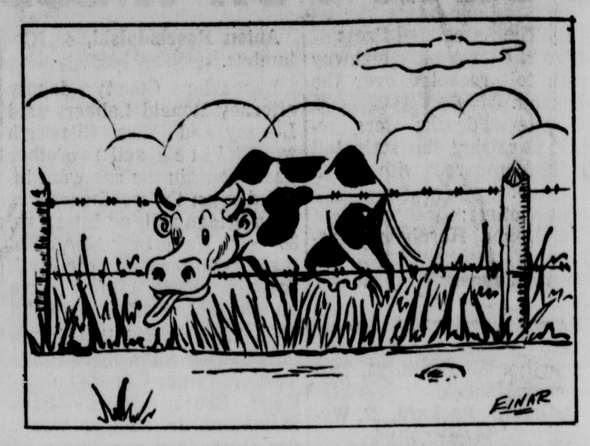

Nebraska has a quieter beauty now, a subtle beauty that must be sought out and looked for . . . one that may be hidden in the long late light of the setting sun. It may be the gray silhouette of an owl waiting for the night creatures to stir before silently slipping into the air. It may be the first crimson leaf on a maple tree spinning at the top of its spreading branches or the quick splash of a silver fish as it dives deeper into a stream. It may be the dragonfly darting with gosamer wings above a quiet pond or low-hung smoky haze fringing the horizon. It may also be a blue heron striding sedately at the edge of a marsh or bittersweet ripening in the thicket.

Cool, cloudy days put me in the mood for sewing or baking. There is something about a warm oven and the aroma of yeast rolls or bread baking in the oven that adds a note of warmth and satisfaction to a chill, gloomy looking day. A new moment of anticipation can be had likewise on a dull day when a gay piece of print is spread on the table ready for cutting. The delicate rustle of pattern pieces and needles clicking against a thimble are music to my ears . . . a soothing kind of melody that brings a quiet mood of joy and well being. When the day is dark, I gladly let the walls close in around me and devise my own methods of happiness. I have always found comfort in such days and welcome the respite from other daily chores.

How green the fields of wheat look now since the rains have nurtured their tiny rootlets. The cool days have helped the new plants to grow vigorously.

Such lush plants prove to be quite a temptation for one of our cows. Maybe she is one of those critters that just likes to poke her head through the fence to investigate the grass on the other side of the fence. She stands in a green pasture with grass everywhere about her, yet she wiggles her head between the wires and with her red tongue she licks out in a wide sweep as she samples the new wheat.

I know cows well enough to know that should she be in the wheat field, she would be stretching her neck through the fence to nibble the grass in the pasture.

The flutter of leaves across the lawn has begun . . . enough of a flutter to let me know raking them will soon become a semi-weekly chore. There are times when I feel very optimistic and do not rake them, at all. That is when I think the wind direction will shift from the south to the north and blow them all back out of the yard again. The odds are often against me but I do find it offers a new twist to an otherwise dull task.

Corrections

Lincoln, Neb.

In the Sept. 26 Star, an article appeared reporting the address by Dr. P. A. Zimmerman at the Fifth Anniversary Service of Lincoln Lutheran Junior High, held on September 25 at 3:00 p.m. The headline of the article was: "Educator Says Schools Teach Revolt, Excess." The article stated: ". . . revolt, excess and promiscuous living are subjects taught in our modern universities, according to Dr. Zimmerman."

For the record, the taped version of the address testifies that the phrases, "schools teach" and "are subjects taught," were never said. Instead, Dr. Zimmerman did say "college youth are showing symptoms of revolts, drug addiction, promiscuous living, of all kinds of excesses." He furthermore places the responsibility of this situation on society (not on schools per se) in the phrase, "they strike back at society in this way . . . saying their parents and the older generation have failed . . . they have given up Christian traditions."

The article also said there were 100 in attendance. There were over 300 persons in attendance.

Justice?

Lincoln, Neb.

Until September 29, I like most Americans felt that justice was always served in our courts. But while appearing in court on a traffic charge, I concluded that justice too often is only a word.

On my way home, I entered an intersection with the green light. A vehicle coming from my right ran the red light and would have collided with me if I had not stepped on the accelerator. Just then, the car in front of me decided to stop. I applied my brakes immediately, but skidded into the rear of the car. I was awarded a ticket for negligent driving.

I pleaded innocent to that charge and was directed to appear in court September 29 for trial. At the trial, after the city attorney and my attorney had questioned me, the judge questioned me to be sure he had all the facts straight. He stopped questioning me before he had most of the facts correct. Then he passed sentence, finding me guilty, and fining me $10 and costs.

The judge said that while a person has a right to try to avoid an accident, that right does not include the right to endanger others. I couldn't agree more. However, when the choice is between being hit broadside, for certain, by a speeding car and risking injury, or avoiding that car and risking having the car in front slam on his brakes, I'll risk the latter.

According to my attorney, if I had not glanced into the rear-view mirror before the collision, I would probably have been found innocent.

Isn't our system of justice great!

U.S. Day

Fremont, Neb.

Governor Morrison has appointed a state chairman to serve the United Nations Committee for 1966. This chairman has announced he has notified mayors and city managers in the state, requesting their selections for United Nations Day chairmen for their respective communities.

As October 23 is United States Day, it is my hope that Governor Morrison will appoint a chairman for this, and follow through with city officials. Many officials have responded to requests for proclamations for this special day, asking that the flag be shown especially that day and that all renew their pledge of allegiance to it.

Every citizen should share in this endeavor to preserve a nation of free men.

Wage Protest

Lincoln, Neb.

According to a news story last week, a $20 raise was to be given ALL State Hospital aides and nurses. Now another story says that aides and nurses who have worked five year or longer will not receive the raise. Why?

Who is more important to the hospital, an aide or nurse who has worked year after year at low Nebraska wages and who cares whether the patients receive decent care, or the college student who works just long enough to finance his education, then goes on to a better job?

Who cares more for and really has the patients' interest at heart than the old-time employes. The old-time employes are the backbone of this hospital or any other hospital. We have worked hard for the pay we get and are just as entitled, or more so, to this raise as the ones who have worked less than five years.

Whoever figured out who should get the raises should come to the hospital and work for three months at our wages. Maybe then we would get some action and decent wages. What would the hospital do if we did as the nurses in California did? It worked for them — why not for us?

Please do not print my name. Even though the pay is poor, I can't afford to be fired.

Here in Nebraska, taxes are at an all-time high, with every evidence they will go higher.

Although aware of this, big-hearted Phil Sorensen is promising senior citizens property tax relief if he is elected. And to whose shoulders will he shift those taxes? He doesn't say.

Let us never forget that the politician professing this type of concern and compassion for oldsters is the enemy of the tax-ridden wage earners who must take up the slack.

Russia Promises Support, Aid For North Viet Nam

Moscow (AP) — The Soviet Union signed new aid agreements with North Viet Nam Monday and pledged continued support for the communist cause in the Vietnamese war.

The announcement came a day after the Soviet press confirmed that Russian soldiers have trained troops in North Viet Nam to fire Soviet-made anti-aircraft rockets at American planes.

"The Soviet Union and other socialist (communist) countries will not leave the Vietnamese people in trouble," said Vladimir N. Novikov, the Soviet deputy premier who signed the new aid agreements. "The U.S.S.R. will continue to render necessary help and support to the Vietnamese people, taking into account the needs arising in connection with the new state of the war."

The announcement said a North Vietnamese economic delegation headed by Hanoi's Le Than Nghi had agreed after 10 days of talks on new free aid, additional credits, trade items for 1967 and unspecified "other documents."

The announcement did not refer directly to weapons. In the past such Soviet economic aid as road-building equipment has been described as contributing to North Viet Nam's defense potential.

Both weapons and other supplies have been given by Moscow to Hanoi, which has almost no ability to pay for the things it depends upon other Communist countries to supply. The announcement spoke of aid free of charge in addition to credits.

Informed sources here said Monday there have been continuing cases of Chinese delays of Soviet weapons passing through to Hanoi. The North Vietnamese government has had to intercede in Peking to keep supplies flowing, the sources said.

China has angrily denied such reports in the past.

Partly in answer to Chinese criticism of its help to Hanoi, the Soviet Communist Party was reported to have said it sent more than $555.5 million worth of aid to North Viet Nam last year.

Official figures have never been disclosed.

The Soviet Union and East European countries have offered volunteers to fight in Viet Nam if Hanoi asks for them, but there has been no indication that a request is expected.

Brogden Seeks Council Help On Low-Cost Units

City-county planning director Douglas Brogden told members of the group work section of the Lincoln Community Council Monday that he would have to go to their group for advice concerning placement of low-cost housing units.

Brogden said he did not know whether it would be best to concentrate low-cost housing units in one area or spread them individually throughout a city.

"I have heard of both kinds being successful," he told the Community Council organization as he outlined the work of the planning department and answered questions relating to city planning and social problems.

Islands of one level of person within a city, however, should not be developed, he added.

Brogden told the representatives of group-oriented community agencies that a well-balanced planning department needs more than just physical planners, indicating that ideas from social workers should be contributed and sought in city planning.

Brogden also pointed out that the planning department is of the opinion the city of Lincoln could expand to the estimated 250,000 persons by 1985 within the guidelines suggested: east to 84th St., south to 1 mile south of Old Cheney Rd., west to Burlington Ave. and north to the interstate highway.

The group work section also was informed that a planning department's detailed analysis of neighborhood units should be completed soon.

Lincoln Author To Keynote Concrete Masonry Meeting

H. B. Rames of Lincoln, manager of sales development for Dorsey Laboratories, will keynote the annual regional convention of the National Concrete Masonry Association here Tuesday.

Rames, author of the best selling book, "Guts of a Salesman," will address some 150 members of the association from a six-state area during a sales seminar on "Removing the Block in the Block Business."

Owners, officers and sales personnel of masonary companies from Nebraska, Iowa, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wyoming are attending the two-day meeting, according to Carl Engstrom of Lincoln.

Peter Muth of Stanton, Calif., opened the convention Monday with comments about the future of the masonry association and business.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Rising Property Taxes Upset Many Retirement Budgets

By ROBERT PETERSON

One of the problems facing older people who own homes is the curse of rising property taxes. When most people retire they embark on a budget built around an income which is largely fixed and inflexible. Every dollar is allocated, including a specific amount for taxes.

When property taxes rise, the retiree's financial plan is knocked out of balance and he must steal from his food or clothing budget to make ends meet.

Here's a letter from a man who writes, "I wonder if the retired middle class doesn't need help as much as some of those on welfare? I'm one who has worked all his life—paying into social security, never collecting unemployment, buying a home, paying taxes, contributing donations, raising and educating a family and saving as much as possible.

"But despite all this I'm not comfortably fixed in retirement — largely because property taxes keep going up and take such an increasingly big bite out of my fixed retirement income. So the pleasures of retirement are fading and it becomes a day-to-day existence of cutting corners.

"Why shouldn't there be a law putting a freeze on property taxes when a man retires with average assets—perhaps an income of under $4,000 a year and total holdings of less than $20,000? If such a man could be assured his taxes would remain fixed for the rest of his life he could face his remaining years with a much keener sense of security."

There may be real merit in this idea. Since most retired people are dependent on fixed incomes, there would seem to be justification for pegging their taxes permanently at the level they were paying at the time of retirement.

Of course there are some who say that if older people can't afford the tax tariff, they should sell and move elsewhere. But this is a cold and unsympathetic attitude which fails to consider that longtime taxpayers have a real claim to their properties.

Their tax payments over the years have contributed to the community's development and society should help them live out their years without imposing additional tax burdens.

It's true, of course, that a few states give tax concessions to older people. New Jersey, for instance, gives older property owners an $800 exemption, and two communities in Rhode Island give them $1,000 exemptions.

But as seen from these examples, the exemptions are not very generous and do not cut very many dollars off the tax tab.

A fact that rankles many elders is that fully half the tax tab in most communities is earmarked for public schools. Since elders haven't had children in school for decades it bothers them that such a sizable chunk of their tax bill must go to educate the children of younger people.

Many have suggested with some logic that taxes should be partially based on the number of children one has in public schools. This would emphasize to parents that children cost money and that the more children one chooses to bring into the world, the higher the property taxes one should be prepared to pay.

There are arguments pro and con. But someday society will likely agree that older property owners with average incomes should be exempt from the upward curve of taxation.

Court Hears School Contract Arguments

Opposing attorneys differed in oral argument Monday before the State Supreme Court on the contract of a former Ralston School District (54) superintendent.

Omaha attorney Clayton Shrout urged the high bench to reverse the decision of Douglas County District Judge Rudolph Tesar awarding $8,694 in back pay to Frank L. Lee.

The school district contends Lee, who was hired in 1961 as superintendent, did not fulfill contract obligations. Shrout said he served 390 days with the U.S. Naval Reserve, which took thim away from school duties.

Shrout told the seven-judge tribunal the naval duty was "incompatible" with the contract Lee signed.

Lee's attorney, Herbert Story of Omaha, maintained the district agreed to buy up the contract and make installment payments on the remaining sum due on the contract.

He said the lower court order should be sustained and the school district made to pay Lee the sum from the contract.

Funds' Payout Highest

New York — Some 3.5 million mutual-fund shareholders shared a 1965 dividend payout of $797,336,000, the highest ever in the 42-year history of mutual funds. In 1964 the figure was $694,601,000, the previous record.

4-Point Program Proposed To Cut Motorcycle Mishaps

By Associated Press

The chief of the State Accident Records Bureau, Tom Ryan, recommended Monday that the 1967 Legislature adopt a four-point program to reduce the rising number of motorcycle mishaps.

Ryan said the program should include licensure of motorcyclists and periodic safety inspections of motorcycles.

Cyclists now are only required to have a regular drivers license, and there are no state standards for motorcycles.

In addition, he said cyclists should be required to wear state-approved helmets and leg roll bars should be mandatory equipment on all motorcycles.

"It's time we recognize that the motorcycle is not a fad," said Ryan. "It has become an integral part of our transportation system and is obviously here to stay. Motorists and motorcyclists have to learn to live together on the road."

Ryan said the number of accidents involving motorcycles has more than quadrupled in Nebraska since 1963.

There were 96 motorcycle mishaps killing three cyclists during the first eight months of 1963, but the same period this year produced 389 motorcycle accidents which killed 13, he said.

The bureau study showed that 70% of the lacerations and fractures suffered by cyclists in the accidents were leg or head injuries.

The Legislative Council's Traffic Study Committee has authorized an examination of British motorcycle laws to determine if such legislation should be adopted in Nebraska.

Prayer For Peace Day Proclaimed

Tuesday was proclaimed "Prayer for an Honorable Peace Day" in Nebraska by Gov. Frank Morrison Monday.

The governor said this coincides with Pope Paul's special service of supplication in St. Peter's Basilica in Rome.

Gov. Morrison urged Nebraskans to set aside 30 minutes Tuesday for a prayer for peace.

Senate Unit OKs Power Tie Money

The Senate Appropriations Committee Monday approved a $500,000 allocation to begin planning and engineering work on a huge federal transmission line between Ft. Thompson, S.D., and Grand Island, Gov. Frank Morrison reported.

Nebraska power officials have looked to the 345-kilovolt, multi-million dollar line as a partial solution to the state's power blackout problems.

The governor said the measure will now go to the Senate-House conference committee for inclusion in the public works appropriations bill.

"I don't foresee any problems in getting the appropriation now," said Gov. Morrison.

The line, to be constructed by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, would bring power into Nebraska from the power-rich Dakotas.

HHH Will Fly To Lincoln On Way To Test

Vice President Hubert Humphrey will fly to Lincoln Tuesday morning en route to the state cornpicking contest east of Utica.

Humphrey is scheduled to land at Municipal Airport at 9:25 a.m., then travel to Utica by motorcade.

Gov. Frank Morrison, Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen, Rep. Clair Callan and Democratic National Committeeman Marvin Werve will accompany the vice president.

Humphrey's speech at the Bill Tomes farm east of Utica on Highway 34 is scheduled for about 10:30 a.m.

Immediately following his address, he will return to Lincoln by car and fly to Philadelphia for other appearances.

New Part Of 180 To Be Open For Picking Contest

The State Roads Department reported Monday the westbound lane of Interstate 80 from Milford to York will be opened to daylight traffic Tuesday for the Nebraska Cornpicking Contest at Utica.

The department said the contest will be held about 3½ miles east of Utica. It suggested traffic leave the Interstate at the Beaver Crossing interchange and travel six miles north on a county road.

The department also said there are exits at the Utica and Goehner interchanges.

The eastbound lane of the Interstate from York is open to traffic at all times, the department added.

Bar Panels Urge Program Insuring Legal Aid

By Associated Press

Two committees of the Nebraska State Bar Association proposed legislation and programs Monday to insure that all Nebraskans, regardless of the size of their pay checks, receive adequate legal aid.

The special committee on the availability of legal services said there is "a nagging realization" in Nebraska that many poor persons do not receive top-notch legal assistance.

The committee said there "remains a considerable segment of our indigent population who either is not aware of important rights and obligations of its members or receives less adequate, less inspired, or less persistent representation than the more affluent segment."

Corporation

It recommended that the state association form a nonprofit corporation to provide legal assistance to indigents in all areas of the stae except those covered by community programs, like that in Omaha.

The committee said such a statewide program, patterned after the North Dakota system, would require the hiring of attorneys on a fulltime basis to provide the needed services, with private practitioners helping on a voluntary basis.

The committee conceded that the extent of Nebraska's need for further legal assistance to the poor is not known but the most apparent need has been in the larger population centers.

Determine Status

The association's committee on crime and delinquency prevention recommended that a procedure be established to determine the financial status of defendant before preliminary hearings or filing of complaints.

The committee said such a determination should be made "at a preliminary stage of the proceedings, or at the time an accused asserts his indigency" to insure that all will receive legal aid at the earliest possible time.

The committe also recommended that county boards be authorized to appoint initial public defenders if they approve a public defender system.

Without such authority, public defender systems could not be established until elections were held, delaying operation of programs in some counties by as long as four years, the study group noted.

Recommendations

Those recommendations and reports from 22 other committees will be reviewed at the association's 67th annual meting in Omaha Oct. 13-14.

Other recommendations from committees include:

—Adoption of a state law requiring that all persons subject to possible commitment to a mental institution be represented by counsel.

—Higher salaries for justices and judges from the State Supreme Court to county court level.

—Establishment of a procedure under which Kearney Boys Training School inmates who commit crimes would be transferred to the penal complex only after normal court trials. Kearney inmates can now be transferred to the complex with court hearings.

—Adoption of a procedure permitting court appointment of commissions to determine whether defendants are mentally competent to stand trial.

Death Toll Rises In Indian Riots

Bombay, India, (AP) — The death toll in last Friday's Hindu-Moslem religious rioting in Washim, 400 miles north east of here, rose Monday to 14 as three persons injured in police firing died in hospitals.

Police reported 78 persons were arrested after the riots, in which 58 were injured.

ADA Gives Hruska, Curtis 'Liberal Quotient' Of Zero

Washington (AP)—Americans for Democratic Action says 24 Democratic congressmen have given 100% support to liberal measures so far this session.

Among those receiving the ADA's 100 per cent "liberal quotients" were Sens. Joseph S. Clark, Penn.; Edward M. Kennedy, Mass.; Robert F. Kennedy, N.Y., and Gaylord Nelson, Wis.

ADA defines liberal quotient as "a measure of the liberalism of a member of Congress determined by the percentage of his votes cast, paired or announced in support of liberal policy, measured against the number of votes counted".

Rep. Clair Callan, Nebraska's only Democratic congressman, had a rating of 58%. Rep. Glenn Cunningham was rated 17% by the ADA and Rep. Dave Martin zero.

ADA, which is not affiliated with either party, generally backs policies of recent Democratic administrations, beginning with the Roosevelt New Deal. It supported such measures this year as minimum wage improvements, an end to discrimination in housing, unemployment compensation reforms and rent supplement funding.

Resources Division To Ask Staff, Bigger Map Program

The Division of Nebraska Resources will ask the 1967 Legislature for funds to establish a permanent planning staff and an expanded state mapping program.

Division Chief David Osterhout said Monday the planning staff could gather data for use by state departments and agencies in developing long-range plans.

He said the Legislature will be asked to appropriate $100,000 to finance the mapping program during the 1967-69 biennium.

A coordinated mapping effort would in the long run reduce the need for individual agencies to produce their own maps, he said.

Offutt Disease Reports Boost State Statistics

In 1966 Offutt Air Force Base, near Omaha, began reporting to the Communicable Diseases Division of the State Health Department, a spokesman for the division said. Previously their only source of information had been the State Laboratory.

Because of this the August Morbidity Report showed a tremendous increase in the incidence of streptococcal infections over 1964 and 1965. Sixty cases of the infection were reported to August in 1964, 32 in 1965, and 1173 in 1966.

HEMORRHOIDS?

New formula works 5 ways for faster, longer-lasting relief!

In clinical tests of new M.P.O.—an advanced treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—doctors reported "results were good to excellent" for 5 out of every 6 patients! M.P.O. works five ways for faster, longer-lasting relief:

1. Helps ease pain faster. You get more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients, including Benzocaine, than in the preparation you may now be using.
2. Helps shrink swollen tissues. M.P.O. quickly releases the proven vaso-constrictor, Ephedrine Sulfate, to reduce swelling.
3. Relieves embarrassing itch. M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption, faster relief.
4. Gives longer relief. A more temperature-stable base holds medication in place, prolongs relief-bringing action.
5. Fights danger of infection. Proven germ-killer Hexachlorophene combats bacteria.

Student-Troop Clash Bloody

Jakarta (AP)—Combat troops, cracking down with full force for the first time on student demonstrators, bayoneted and clubbed scores of shouting, defiant indonesian youths who tried to storm President Sukarno's palace Monday.

The bloody clash between the troops and students appeared to represent a new and possibly dangerous shift in volatile Indonesian politics.

Until Monday, the students had carefully maintained close ties with the army even though some youths were shot and killed by troops in demonstrations some time ago outside Jakarta.

Many Segments

In the previous clashes, the students fought only certain segments of the army. Monday, however, they clashed with palace guards, mobile brigades, military police and regular troops.

The combat troops, in jungle camouflage, repeatedly repulsed the mob of 5,000 which shouted "dogs!" at the soldiers and hurled stones. The troops shoved ammunition clips in their rifles, but they did not fire.

At least eight students were bayoneted, and scores were hammered to the ground with clubs as they broke through a cordon of troops and raced toward the palace, shouting that Sukarno was a communist leader and should be brought to trial.

Sukarno was out of the city.

Run Through

Troops chased one youth back and forth until he was run through from behind with a bayonet. He collapsed with blood gushing from his mouth and back. "Help me! Help me!" he cried.

A girl, her blouse ripped, stumbled and fell as she fled from the bayonets. She was kicked in the back, jerked to her feet and tossed toward the screaming students.

The demonstrations coincided with the third day of the trial of former Foreign Minister Subandrio, who is accused of being involved in the communist coup attempt and of misuse of $1 million of public funds. Subandrio testified before a military tribunal that he had heard communist plans of the coup but did not tell Sukarno because he thought the president knew of it.

U.S.-Soviet Air Link Talks On Again

Washington (AP)—The United States and Russia have agreed to resume immediately talks on an air transport agreement with the prospect of opening air service late next spring between New York and Moscow.

The State Department announced the agreement to get the long-stalled negotiations moving again.

A department spokesman said the action gives "positive meaning to our frequent statements that we seek areas of agreement with the Soviet Union in spite of differences arising out of the Vietnamese conflict."

The air accord was substantially negotiated in the summer of 1961 but was suspended in late August of that year because of a crisis over Berlin.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer, said that next week Pan American Airways, the U.S. carrier on the New York-Moscow route, will send a small group of experts to the Soviet capital to discuss commercial questions with representatives of the Russian airline, Aeroflot.

Aircraft safety, navigation, and air traffic control procedures and communications, will be discussed by civil aviation authorities of the two governments.

Senate Votes Not To Move Job Corps

Washington (UPI) — The war on poverty won an initial legislative skirmish Monday when the Senate refused to transfer the Job Corps from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) to the Labor Department.

By a 38-to-27 vote the Senate rejected a transfer amendment sponsored by Republican Sens. George Murphy, Calif., and Paul J. Fannin, Ariz. It was the first test vote on the $2.5 billion anti-poverty bill.

The test vote suggested that critics of the poverty program will have tough sledding in attempts to remove programs from OEO, Sargent Shriver's anti-poverty agency.

Still to be tested however, was the $2.5 billion price tag on the Senate bill, which is $750 million above President Johnson's budget and above the House-approved version by the same sum.

'Sonny' Charged In Gangland Murder

Franzese, 46, surrendered to Dist. Atty. Nat Hentel's detectives in the 1964 slaying of Ernest (The Hawk) Rupolo, a hired killer for the mob. Rupolo was stabbed, shot, bound, weighted with cinder blocks and thrown into Jamaica Bay.

Franzese has been described as a Long Island lieutenant in the old Joe Profaci Cosa Nostra family. He is facing federal bank robbery charges, and during the day this case was postponed in Brooklyn federal court.

Franzese was held without bail on the homicide charge. Hentel declined to say whether the arrest was an outgrowth of the 11-day-old grand jury inquiry.

Meanwhile, five more underworld chieftains refused to testify before the Queens jury. They were among 13 seized Sept. 22 at a "Little Apalachain" luncheon at La Stella Restaurant on Queens Boulevard.

Also on hand by order of the grand jury were seven others who had similarly refused to answer questions last week. All 12 were subpoenaed anew for Oct. 10.

One who appeared last week and was summoned back Monday was Santo Trafficante, described in Senate testimony as Cosa Nostra boss for Florida. His lawyer, Frank Rangano, complained that Trafficante had returned from Florida, and added:

"This is utterly ridiculous and is adding insult to injury and is evidence of the fact that these hearings are politically motivated and inspired."

HUAC Initiates Riot Inquiry

Washington (UPI) — The House Un-American Activities Committee announced Monday a preliminary investigation to determine whether subversives were responsible for recent rioting in U.S. cities.

The staff was directed "to undertake a preliminary inquiry into organized rioting, burning, looting and other tragic acts of violence." Willis said it would be "several months" before the study would be completed and a report made to the full committee.

Willis insisted that the inquiry would be confined strictly to rioting and would not turn out to be an investigation of the civil rights movement itself.

GOP Urged To Seek Halt To Violence

Washington (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Monday the Republican Party should take "the strongest possible position" to deal with crime and rioting in American cities.

"I think the public is rightfully very angry," Eisenhower said.

And Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss said GOP pollsters report 58% of the voters now rank civil rights and associated problems as a major concern in campaign. Four months ago, he said, the figure was 44%.

After a summer of sporadic violence in American cities, Eisenhower spoke of rioting he said was "engendered for no purpose but to hurt the rest of us."

He said Republicans should advocate steps to prevent crime and violence "and repress it sternly" when it occurs.

Senate Republican leader Everett M.Dirksen of Illinois said racial violence is creating emotions which threaten to set back civil rights advances gained under Republican leadership.

Dirksen, key man in blocking Senate action on President Johnson's open-housing civil rights bill, accused Democrats of failure to provide leadership needed to preserve past advances in civil rights.

"Is there going to be some real honest-to-goodness leadership?" Dirksen demanded.

Goldwater serves on the Republican Coordinating Committee, but he was not at Monday's session.

The committee issued a statement declaring Republicans would take action to deal with "mounting outbreaks of crime, violence and mob madness."

"In this moral crisis, Americans are looking for leadership, inspiration and example," the committee said. It said Johnson's administration has "accomplished nothing of substance to date to promote public safety."

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said many Democratic congressional candidates do not want the President to come to their districts. He did not name candidates.

Centers To Evaluate 'Head Start'

Washington (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity has signed a $1,479,796 contract with the Institute for Educational Development to establish 10 Head Start regional evaluation and research centers, it was announced Monday.

Sargent Shriver, OEO director, said the centers will be based in 10 universities operating under sub-contracts with the institute. A center at Lawrence, Kan., will serve the Kansas-Nebraska area, along with other Midwestern states.

Staffs of qualified research scientists in these universities will evaluate operating Head Start programs and conduct research into early childhood development.

Supreme Court Begins Session

Washington (AP) — The Supreme Court began its new year Monday with a 17-minute ceremonious session. The nine justices then adjourned for a week-long series of secret conferences.

The 176th year of the court began with the black-robed justices entering through parted, long maroon drapes.

No decisions were announced but 53 lawyers were admitted to practice before the high court.

FORMER
coed is autumn bride

The chancel of Christ Methodist Church was decorated by lighted yellow candles and an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums for the wedding of Miss Lynne Anne Morian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rustermier, and Melvin G. Grasz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Grasz, on Saturday evening, Oct. 1.

Long-skirted Empire frocks of avocado green satin were chosen for Mrs. Ron Hermone of Tecumseh, the matron of honor; Mrs. James Walker, the bridesmatron; and Miss Constance Hubert, the bridesmaid.

Wendell Grasz of Minneapolis served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Michael Morian of Waterton, Colo., brother of the bride; Robert Weber and Tom Elder.

The bride's gown of white silk organza over taffeta was trimmed with appliques of re-embroidered lace. The applique motif framed the portrait neckline of the long-sleeved bodice, and the front of the bouffant skirt, which continued into an aisle-wide train, was patterned with the lace and organza-petaled roses. Her illusion veil was held to the head by two fabric roses, and she carried a modern arrangement of white Fuji chrysanthemums and yellow sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Grasz, both graduates of the University of Nebraska, will live at 2437 A. The bride is past president of Tau Rho, national broadcasting honorary. Mr. Grasz is assistant buyer at the University of Nebraska.

THERE'S
talk of guests--and this and that around town

A few days ago we mentioned that there were to be guests arriving from California — Judge and Mrs. Lloyd Nix — who will be here for the Oct. 14 game weekend. But this morning we have news of other guests whose arrival is a little more on the immediate side — And of another guest who be making her entrance in Lincoln early in November —

* * *

In town for a brief stay are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinsey and their children, Newman, David and Jean, who have arrived from Colorado Springs. The Kinsey fivesome will linger just about long enough to say 'hello' and 'goodbye' to Mr. Kinsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey, and also to some of their old friends before taking off for Baltimore, Md.

We are sure you will be interested in knowing that Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey and their children will be making their home in Baltimore where Mr. Kinsey has been made zone manager for Sperry-Hutchinson.

Our November guest will be Mrs. William McKendree Craig of Rochester, Minn. widow of the late Dr. Craig who served as chief of the neuro-surgery staff at the Mayo Clinic.

Mrs. Craig will spend two or three weeks as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Russell.

* * *

On Saturday evening, for instance, the members of the Holiday Club will be out and about. We hear that the dinner dance will have an autumn motif, and that the dining and dancing will take place at the Lincoln Country Club.

The committee in charge of the party details includes Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henrion, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Waldon Howey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Lau, Judge and Mrs. Hale McCown and Dr. and Mrs. N. Richard Miller.

Then comes Sunday — more guests, and a brunch.

The guests include a group of art devotees and gallery patrons from St. Joseph, Mo., who are doing a weekend tour — Saturday they will be in Omaha and the Joslyn Museum.

But on Sunday their tour objective is the Sheldon Gallery in Lincoln. On hand to greet the visitors and to serve as hosts and hostesses at brunch at the Sheldon Gallery will be the members of the board of the Nebraska Art Association.

Honored at a series of farewell courtesies during the past few weeks have been Dr. and Mrs. Duane E. Loewenstein who will leave Lincoln Saturday for Erzurum, Turkey, where Dr. Loewenstein will join the agriculture extension faculty at Ataturk University.

Dr. and Mrs. Loewenstein who will be in Turkey for two years, will be accompanied by their daughter, Delaine, and son, Dennis.

In courtesy to Mrs. Loewenstein, a neighborhood coffee will be held Tuesday morning, when Mrs. Julius Astor will be hostess at her home.

Included among recent courtesies was a family dinner at East Hills Club for which Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Loewenstein of Bruning, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Loewenstein of Walnut, Iowa, were hosts and hostesses.

Miss Delaine Loewenstein was the honoree last Saturday evening at a surprise party given by a group of her Southeast High classmates. Host and hostess for the party were Bruce Wilson and Miss Sally Christensen.

* * *

The Backstage Club of the Community Playhouse has plans for Saturday evening, Oct. 8. The affair, a combination business meeting and informal party, will be held at the Saddle Club headquarters. If you don't know your way around we'll tell you that the Saddle Club is located one-half block south of Lee's restaurant on Van Dorn.

The short business meeting will involve the election of officers.

NEWS
of suburban areas

While the deer-hunting season hasn't opened yet, "stag migrations" have been noted in suburbia the past weekend. These stags, however, were of the two-legged variety, traveled by car instead of "hoofing it," and engaged in a "friendly poker game" rather than the traditional horn-to-horn combat of the usual species of deer.

FIENE HEIGHTS

"Just like the Nebraska team Saturday, we couldn't back up!" said Bob Colburn of an all male Fiene Heights expedition to the Nebraska-Iowa State game.

The reasons for the "no retreat" policy, however was quite different, as he explained that on the drive to Iowa, the reverse gear of the car in which they were riding went out and forced the men to push the car whenever it was necessary to go backward.

In addition to Mr. Colburn, Harry Von Dane, Roland Seaberg and Herb Salzman, all of the Fiene Heights neighborhood, made the two-day trip. After a stay in Des Moines Friday night, the foursome arrived in Ames on Saturday, returning home after the Nebraska victory on Saturday.

Guests from Palmer are currently visiting with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Pokorny. The weekend visit began with the arrival Friday of Mrs. Pokorny's parents the Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Utterback of Palmer.

Yesterday, Mrs. Pokorny's sister, Mrs. Zoe Sanders, also of Palmer, arrived to visit the Pokornys, and to accompany the Utterbacks home on Wednesday.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Hardly able to call Prairie Valley home yet, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Macaulay have been on the move since their arrival in Lincoln in June.

Sept. 27, they left on a combined business-pleasure trip which took them to western Nebraska, and later to a visit with friends in Colorado Springs.

Returning to Lincoln last Thursday, they began plans for a trip to Charlotte, N.C., to visit their two daughters in their former hometown.

Grandson Brett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gilleland, will be the favorite topic of conversation for mother and daughter when the Macaulays arrive in Charlotte, Oct. 10.

But talk of college and the University of South Carolina will fill the next weekend, when their other daughter, Susan, also returns to Charlotte to see her sister and parents. Susan is a senior at the University of South Carolina at Chappel Hill.

Business and pleasure again will be mixed as Mr. Macaulay attends the Southern Furniture Market in Lemore, N.C. while Mrs. Macaulay visits in Charlotte. They plan to return around the first of November.

Shopping and visiting are two good reasons for Mrs. Esther Peterson's visit in Lincoln this week. Staying with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Beckman, Mrs. Peterson plans to continue her visit until Wednesday when she will return to her home in Holdrege.

Attendants Named

The bride-to-be has announced that the ceremony will be solemnized Saturday evening, Nov. 19, at St. Andrew's Lutheran Church.

Her matron of honor will be Mrs. John Slice, and Miss Arlene Ropers will be the bridesmaid. Miss Julie Riege and Miss Janet Riege of Nebraska City, twin nieces of the bridegroom-elect, will be the flower girls, and Mr. Riege's nephew, Mark Riege, will be ringhearer.

Miss Joan Riege of Nebraska City, also a niece of the prospective bridegroom, and Miss Sharon Feelhoff, Palmyra, will light the chancel candles.

Don Dickman will serve Mr. Riege as best man, and the groomsman will be Bill Morlok, brother of the bride-to-be.

Miss Morlok is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Morlok. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Riege of Nebraska City.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 and am married to a pretty little 22-year-old girl from West Virginia. A few weeks after our marriage I got transferred up to Buffalo, N.Y. My wife lived with me for 29 days, and then she packed up and went to West Virginia because she was lonesome for her mother.

She has been down there since May 5th, and I have been sending her support money. I love her a lot and want her with me but she doesn't say when she's coming home. I don't want to give up this job and go to West Virginia after her. What should I do?

LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: Your bride is behaving like a spoiled child, and your spinelessness is netting you nothing but solitude. Be a man. This woman is your wife, so quit sending her money and tell her to shuffle off to Buffalo where she belongs. (And be sure she doesn't bring her mother with her.)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have been divorced and have no desire to marry again. I have been keeping company with a fine gentleman for two years. He is also divorced. We have marvelous times together, taking in shows, going boating, fishing, swimming, motoring. (All very discreetly.) He would marry me if I wanted it that way, but I believe that when two people live together they grow tired of each other. We love and respect each other, but there are times when we like to go our separate ways.

I don't recommend this way of life for the young, or for those with children, but ours are grown and we are in our fifties, and are quite set in our ways.

Now the problem: Many of our friends, and especially our children, believe we ought to get married. Why should we marry just to please people? I like my freedom and so does he, and there are times when you don't want anyone around. Not even the one you love. I would appreciate your opinion on this. Also anyone else's.

SATISFIED

DEAR SATISFIED: If you are satisfied, and he is satisfied, then so am I. Of all the reasons to marry, because people think you ought to is the poorest.

How You May

Never Take a Laxative Again!

New Miracle Regulator Keeps Waste Soft—So Bowels Move Naturally

New York, N.Y. (Special)—After 12 years' research, scientists have discovered a wonder-working substance that corrects constipation entirely without laxatives!

Doctors say most constipation occurs when waste loses moisture in the colon—becomes dry, hard, difficult to move. To give relief, laxatives have to force action by flushing, irritating or distending the intestine.

The new miracle substance — known medically as dioctyl sodium sulfosuccinate—works in a completely different way. It is not a laxative! It simply makes natural moisture in the colon moisten and soften dry, hard waste more effectively. Then normal elimination follows naturally. Thus by working only on waste, not on you, the substance corrects constipation and restores regularity as no laxative can.

This new discovery has now been made available at drugstores under the name REGUTOL. It is safe — not habit-forming. No warning on the label—no prescription needed. Try REGUTOL—discover for yourself that you may never need to take a laxative again!

BRIDE

At a candlelight wedding, which took place late Saturday afternoon, Oct. 1, Miss Sharon Ann Halada of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Halada of Crete, became the bride of Ronald G. Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin W. Beck of Wilber. White gladioli formed the altar decor in Sacred Heart Church at Crete, for the service, which was solemnized by Msgr. Max G. DeWitt.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Halada wore an Empire frock in romance blue fashioned with a lace basque and slim crepe skirt. Costumed identically were the bridesmaids, Miss Carol Halada, also a sister of the bride, and Miss Marlene Beck, the bridegroom's sister, and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Marlen Hayek of Wilber.

Serving his brother as best man was Dennis E. Beck, and seating the guests were Joseph Mares, Elmer Joe Branzovsky and John Beck, Wilber; Shelley Bruha, Dorchester; Gary Hupka, Lincoln; and Lumir Joe Kotas, Western.

The bride selected white Chantilly lace for her wedding gown. The long-sleeved bodice, designed with a sabrina neckline, was embroidered with pearls and iridescent sequins, and the wide skirt of lace tiers was complemented by an overskirt of the lace which continued into a cotillion train. Her silk illusion veil was held by a crown of jeweled lace.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	3 ♣	Pass	5 ♣

Opening lead — seven of hearts.

If you steal in everyday life, there is a good chance you will get caught and wind up in jail, but if the attempted larceny occurs at the bridge table, you occasionally get rewarded instead of being punished.

Here is a case in point. South got to five clubs, though three notrump would have been a much better contract.

West led the seven of hearts and East cashed his A-K. Declarer very cleverly dropped the 10-Q on the A-K because he knew that otherwise East would continue with the third heart for West to ruff.

It is hard to blame East for failing to see through the maneuver. He naturally assumed that West had the missing deuce and he therefore shifted to a spade which South won with the ace.

Given a life, South now took full advantage of the opportunity. After cashing the Q-J of clubs, he played the K-Q of spades and discarded a diamond. Then he drew three more rounds of trumps to produce this position:

North
♥ 9
♦ A Q

West — Immaterial
East
♥ J
♦ K 10

South
♥ 2
♦ J
♣ 9

South now led the nine of clubs and discarded the nine of hearts from dummy.

East could find no convenient discard. He could not spare the jack of hearts, which would make the deuce a trick, so he discarded a diamond in the hope that declarer would not realize that the king had been left unguarded.

But South, remembering that East had opened the bidding and had to have the king for his bid, led a diamond, went up with the ace, caught the king, and thus made five clubs.

Betrothal Revealed

Of interest to campus circles is the announcement being made by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert LeZotte of Ogallala, of the betrothal of their daughter, Sandra, to James Amos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Amos of Beaver Crossing.

The bride-elect is a sophomore at the University of Nebraska, and her fiance is a pre-medical student at the university.

REAL ESTATE TIPS

A. MANZITTO "YOUR REALTOR"

Q. We have a large home that live on a busy street should appeal to a large family but we and I'm afraid this will eliminate prospects with children. Will it help if we fence the yard?

A. Save your money. The fact is that more children are injured on quiet streets than on busy streets. Even children know better than to play on a busy street. List your home with a Real Estate Company and let your agent point this out to interested parties.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, substract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Rechecking The Score

After hearing Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney at the Monday Extra Point Club luncheon discuss Saturday's 12-6 win over Iowa State, one fan leaned over to his neighbor and asked if there hadn't been a mistake in reporting the score of the game.

"It sounds like we should have won 50-6 instead of just 12-6," the fan observed. Actually the score could have been nearly the former had it not been for Husker errors at key points.

For instance, the Huskers Saturday in gaining 432 yards were only 65 shy of what the 1965 NU squad gained against the Cyclones. The 1966 edition gained only 61 less on the ground than in the 1965 game and four less through the air.

But the score in the 1965 game was 44-0 in favor of the Huskers while Saturday's game scared the breath out of several Husker fans before Harry Wilson wrapped up the 12-6 victory.

Devaney, in a post-game session with his players Saturday, had told them he was proud of their effort and that they should leave Ames, Iowa, with their heads held high. And well they should have.

Showing Devaney Class

Nebraska still is not a great team and it may not turn out to be a great team this season, but already they have shown some of the same class that has marked Devaney-coached teams every year at Nebraska.

They say it about the Green Bay Packers in pro football and this is no effort to put the Huskers in the same league with the Packers. But the Packers always seem to come up with just what it takes to win.

Thus far, the 1966 Huskers have been able to do that. They haven't run any of the first three foes out of the stadium and they may not do that all year, but if they continue to win, how can anyone complain?

One trademark of Devaney teams at Nebraska has been the ability to keep their poise. Husker gridders since the second year Devaney has been here have kept their poise even when trailing North Carolina State and Minnesota in the waning minutes.

And they kept their poise at Iowa State Saturday when troubles kept popping up to stop drives. Wouldn't it have been easy for this young team to figure they were destined to lose or draw after seeing three fumbles, two pass interceptions and three penalties stop marches?

How About Your Office

How many salesmen do you have in your office, who could set out in the morning with the important job of selling one of your best clients your product and have the following things happen to him, but still keep his poise?

Suppose when he leaves the house, he steps on his child's skateboard and suffers a bruised arm. Then when he gets to the office, he finds the elevator doesn't work and he has to walk 10 flights of stairs to get to the office.

Next, he gets a call from his wife telling him son Jimmy has just been expelled from school for cutting off Sally's pigtails. Now, already late for his appointment with the client, he gets picked up for speeding and, finally, upon arriving at the client's office, he finds he has left one important paper back in his office.

Do you think your young salesman could keep his poise through all this and still make the sale? Nebraska's young 18, 19, 20 and 21-year-old football players kept their poise Saturday and made the sale against Iowa State.

For the third straight week, the Huskers failed to beat the bookie points, but this is no time to jump off the Husker bandwagon. Just keep your money in your pocket though. Isn't winning enough?

Devaney Links Fumbles To Explosion

By HAL BORWN
Star Sports Editor

The land mine that exploded on the Iowa State football field prior to Saturday's game with Nebraska at Ames was jokingly blamed for the Huskers' fumble problems by NU coach Bob Devaney Monday.

"Those mines will make anyone nervous," Devaney told the weekly noon luncheon audience of the Extra Point Club. "It's much like the look out story in golf where the duffer is waiting at the first tee and the golf pro comes up swinging a club.

"The duffer says I'll play you for $10 if you give me two look outs. The pro figures, 'I can give this guy two of anything and beat him.'

"So just as the pro starts his downswing on the first tee, the duffer yells, 'Look Out!'" and the pro dribbles his drive off a few yards. Then the duffer wins the next 17 holes while the pro is waiting for that second look out."

After master of ceremonies Lou Roper had explained that seats still remained on the Extra Point Club's bus to the Wisconsin game this week at Madison, Wis., Devaney quipped:

"If Harry Wilson hadn't showed up for that game Saturday, there would have been a lot more vacant seats on that bus to Wisconsin."

And while the Huskers are giving their fans a scare each Saturday, Devaney also explained his team is making experts out of the NU assistants who scout future foes.

"When our scouts say a team is going to be tough, we make them right on Saturday," Devaney joked.

Tom Osborne, who scouted Wisconsin in its 7-0 win over Iowa Saturday at Iowa City, came up with the usual scouting terms about how good the coming opponent will be, but offered a bit of clarification this time.

"Wisconsin is a much better team than the one we faced last year," Osborne explained. "I know we tell you that every week, but in this case, it happens to be the truth.

"Their offensive backfield is entirely different than the one that started against us last year and they still have three of last year's starters on the squad.

"This means that the sophomores they have this year haven't inherited jobs because of graduation, but because they are better than those who played those positions last season.

"For instance, quarterback Chuck Burt, who started against us last year, didn't even make the traveling squad to Iowa."

The Husker assistant also pointed out that the Badgers had completely revamped their offense.

"Last year, they ran from a pro set and threw passes on three of every five plays," he noted. "This year, they have gone to an unbalanced line and are running an offense very similar to what we use at Nebraska.

"They are trying to be a ball control team and we can expect them to try to control the ball against us."

While noting that he still was not completely satisfied, Devaney indicated pleasure with the Husker offense Saturday with the exception of the fumbles, interceptions and penalties that halted drives.

"There was a definite improvement in our offense," he pointed out. "We threw the ball more Saturday (27 times) than we did last year and our offense still gained 229 yards on the ground, so they had a pretty good average.

"And our 432 total yards was far above our average of a year ago.

"Our line was opening some fine holes and our backs were running well. We were better offensively, but we still lack consistency."

Devaney blamed penalthis for a major share of the Huskers' troubles in scoring Saturday.

"We were penalized in four situations that were critical," he recalled. "We had a back in motion on Wilson's first touchdown and we had an end line up offsides once and a tackle offsides twice."

Devaney answered those who thought he should have gone to Wayne Weber as a quarterback during the game by lauding Bob Churchich.

"We feel we can use Wayne at any time, but actually Churchich was having a good day," he said. "Bob threw the ball well and he ran well. Sure he threw a couple of interceptions, but even Johnny Unitas and Bart Starr have passes intercepted."

Turning to other individuals, Devaney pointed to these:

—"Paul Critchlow, a reserve who saw considerable action because Pete Tatman was ill, did a good job."

—"Kelly Petersen threw some good blocks and all of our linemen are improving."

—"Dennis Richnafsky, who tied Freeman White's record for pass receptions with eight, made some tremendous catches and Dennis Morrison and Tom Penney also made some good catches."

"Carel Stith and Wayne Meylan were our outstanding defensive linemen and I think Langston Coleman had his best day."

—"The other defenders all did a good job. When you hold a team to 77 yards rushing, you've done a good job."

"We got some big plays out of our pass defenders and they dropped some passes that could have been interceptions. The secondary coverage was good."

ROBERTS DAIRY COACHES

Tigers, Indians Pick Managers

. . . LINE-UP COMPLETE

By Associated Press

The line-up of major league baseball managers for 1967 was set one day after the close of the 1966 campaign Monday when Mayo Smith was named to lead the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland filled its managerial vacancy with the appointment of Joe Adcock.

The development climaxed a hectic few weeks during which the situation was brought into sharper focus with the hiring of three other managers, plus the retention of seven more.

Dick Williams was hired by Boston, Dave Bristol by Cincinnati and Billy Hitchcock by Atlanta. Williams replaced Billy Herman, while Bristol and Hitchcock served as interim managers following the dismissal of Don Heffner by the Reds and Bobby Bragan by the Braves.

Retained were Herman Franks of San Francisco, Harry Walker of Pittsburgh, Wes Westrum of the New York Mets, Grady Hatton of Houston, Red Schoendienst of St. Louis, Hank Bauer of Baltimore and Bill Rigney of California.

Both Smith and Adcock were given two - year contracts.

Detroit's announcement ended weeks of speculation over a successor to the late Charlie Dressen, who died of a heart attack in August.

Bob Swift, a coach, had been acting manager until he was forced to quit because of illness, later diagnosed as lung cancer. The team wound up in third place with Frank Skaff, another coach, as interim manager.

Smith, a scout for the Yankees and former manager of the Phils and Reds, named Tony Cuccinello, recently a Chicago White Sox' coach, as the first member of his coaching staff. Skaff will remain with the team on special assignments as a scout in the major leagues and the Class AAA minors.

Adcock, 38-year-old first baseman of the California Angels, was given his release to take the position with the Indians.

OU Boss Says Texas Same Without Bradley

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma coach Jim Mackenzie says Texas may be without star sophomore Bill Bradley when the Longhorns meet the Sooners Saturday, but he doesn't feel that's going to help Oklahoma a great deal.

"I don't think Bradley will play," Mackenzie said Monday, "but Andy White is a good quarterback. When White came in Saturday night in the Texas game with Indiana, Texas led, 14-0. When it was over, Texas led, 35-0."

Bosox Complete Staff By Adding Lakeman

—WAYNE AT KEARNEY—

Lead At Stake In NCC Clash

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

The early leaders in the Nebraska College Conference football race clash head on this weekend when Kearney entertains Wayne at Foster Field in Kearney.

The two teams, along with Peru, 54-0 loser to the Antelopes last week, tied for the conference title last season, and both have 1-0 marks in the league so far this year.

Kearney, however, has the better season record with a 3-1 mark to a 2-2 showing for the Bulldogs to date.

Kearney's only loss was a 20-0 beating at the hands of Fort Hays (Kan.) State two weeks ago, while Wayne has lost to Midland, 17-9, and South Dakota State, 40-6.

The Antelopes swamped Peru without the services of two starters, injured quarterback Carl Satterfield and end John Creamer.

The Kearney scoring was well balanced with only Lee Jacobsen picking up more than one touchdown. He had two, both from outside the five yard line.

Wayne had to hold off a late Hastings drive to preserve its 12-7 victory last week.

The Broncos marched 73 yards in the final minutes but could not score.

Fullback Blake Oleson capped a 73-yard drive for Wayne in the second quarter with a four yard scoring run. The key play in the drive was a 24-yard pass from Steve Gunther to Gene Hunting.

Gunther scored on a quarterback Sneak in the third period with Bob McAuliff passing 22 yards to Denny Jones for the only Hastings score.

In other NCC games this week, Chadron meets Peru in Peru and Hastings goes outside the conference to face unbeaten Doane.

Concordia stopped Midland, 21-14, in Tri-State Conference action, while Dana fell victim to a 16-point fourth quarter explosion by Nebraska Wesleyan in a 16-6 loss to the Plainsmen.

The Vikings now stand 2-1 for the season and 1-0 in the conference.

In junior college action powerful McCook, victor by large margins in its first two games this year, took its first tumble since the National Junior College Bowl in Savannah, Ga. last season when the University of Colorado Freshman club clipped the Indians, 30-18.

It was the first regular season loss for McCook since the 1964 campaign.

Twenty points in the third period were enough for Ellsworth JC of Iowa in a 39-14 decision over Norfolk JC.

Bill Craig accounted for Norfolk's scoring, picking up one touchdown on a one yard run and passing 27 years to Bob Lake for the other.

Mets Retain Entire Coaching Staff

New York (AP) — Coaches Yogi Berra, Sheriff Robinson, Harvey Haddix and Whitey Herzog have been rehired for the 1967 season, the New York Mets said Monday.

Manager Wes Westrum was given a new one-year contract on Sept. 6.

The changes followed a Stanky shakeup last week that brought the release of three veteran coaches, Tony Cuccinello, Don Gutteridge and Ray Berres.

Another coach is to be named soon. He is rumored to be Solly Hemus, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Roberts Second In State Shoot

Class B, C Top Tens Remain About Same

. . . AURORA, WEST POINT LEAD

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Contrasting to the volatile Class A division, stability marked the performances of the Class B and C football leaders last week.

Aurora and West Point continue to set the pace in the B and C races with only one newcomer cracking the top ten list in each division this week.

The new entry in Class B is Fairbury, which enters at the No. 9 spot. The Jeffs, winners of their first two starts, dropped a 6-0 decision to eighth-ranked York two weeks ago, then almost upset unbeaten Beatrice last week.

High flying Humphrey St. Francis, which gets its first serious test as it meets Newman Grove this week, is the newcomer in Class C.

Bill Backes' outfit thumped Dodge, 46-0, last week for its fourth straight decision and moves into the No. 9 position.

There is some minor shuffling behind Aurora in the Class B race this week.

Moving into the runnerup spot is Papillion, ranked No. 4 a week ago. The Monarchs routed Syracuse, 40-7, to move past conference mate Blair, now No. 3 after a 20-19 win over Missouri Valley, Iowa.

Lexington, third a week ago, was handed its first loss by Class A McCook and tumbles to the No. 7 spot.

York continued its comeback with a 12-7 win over previously unbeaten Seward and advanced to No. 8 while Seward retains the No. 10 spot.

North Platte St. Patrick advances to No. 7 after a 34-0 rout of Lexington St. Ann. The western club gets a good test this week as it meets Class B Valentine.

Oxford, No. 7 last week, falls to No. 8 and Falls City Sacred Heart drops from No. 8 to No. 10 this week.

Nebraska Prep Ratings

By Don Forsythe

Class B

1—Aurora (4-0)	6—David City (4-0)
2—Papillion (4-0)	7—Lexington (3-1)
3—Blair (4-0)	8—York (2-1)
4—D.C. Aquinas (4-0)	9—Fairbury (2-2)
5—Cozad (3-1)	10—Seward (3-1)

Class C

1—West Point (4-0)	6—Newman Grove (4-0)
2—Rushville (4-0)	7—North Platte S.P. (4-0)
3—Grant (4-0)	8—Oxford (4-0)
4—Wisner (4-0)	9—Humphrey St Francis (4-0)
5—Hooper (4-0)	10—Falls City S.H. (4-0)

Comment—Only changes this week are in bottom four positions. Top six clubs all had handy victories last week. Major clash this week sends Newman Grove against Humphrey St. Francis.

Rich Lilga Wins Kearney Drags Jr. Eliminator

Managers Pick Series Starters

. . . McNALLY, BIG D. OPEN

Los Angeles (AP)—The strong arms of Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Claude Osteen make the Los Angeles Dodgers the 8-5 favorites over the hard-hitting Baltimore Orioles in the World Series, opening Wednesday at Dodger Stadium.

Orioles manager Hank Bauer named Dave McNally, a 23-year-old left-hander with a 13-6 record, to open for the American League champions who have had almost two weeks to prepare for the big test after clinching the AL pennant Sept. 22.

"Davey has the soundest arm on the club right now," said Bauer in Baltimore before leaving for the West Coast." If it goes seven games, we can give him three starts."

Given a similar choice of the pick of his staff, manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers would have named Koufax, his 27-game winning ace. But he was forced to pitch Sandy against the Phillies Sunday when the Dodgers clinched the National League Pennant in the last game of the season and barely escaped a playoff.

Koufax will be held for the second game of the best - of - seven series. If it goes seven, Koufax would have to come back for the finale with two days rest, just as he did last year in Minnesota after missing the opener due to the Jewish holy days.

Drysdale, 13-16, wasknocked out of the box by the Phillies in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader, but he undoubtedly will get the call for the first Series game from Alston. Big D. had won four in a row and was working on a string of 25 scoreless innings in a fine comeback until the Phils lowered the boom.

The other possibilty for the Dodgers is Claude Osteen, 17-14, a southpaw who was beaten by the Phils Friday night. He probably will work the third game.

Pitching is expected to be the hole card for the Dodger, whose staff has a 2.63 earned run average and 52 complete games compared to the Orioles' 3.35 ERA and only 23 complete games for the entire season.

The top winner for Baltimore was Jim Palmer, 15-10. He is due to face Koufax in the second game on Thursday afternoon.

The clubs will play the first two games in Los Angeles, starting at 4 p.m. EDT.

Friday will be an open date for travel and they will resume play in Baltimore Saturday, where the fourth game will be played Sunday and the fifth, if necessary, Monday.

If the issue isn't decided then, they will take another day off for travel and return to Los Angeles for a sixth, and possibly seventh game.

Nebraska Wildlife Chapter Formed

A Nebraska chapter of the Wildlife Society, designed to function as a coordinating body for all natural resource groups in the state, has been formed, it was announced Monday.

University of Nebraska professor Howard L. Weigers was elected president of the state chapter, and state Game Commission employes Ken W. Johnson and Bill Bailey were elected vice president and secretary - treasurer, respectively.

O-State Holds Light Workout

The game will be OSU's home opener and first conference game of the season.

The Cowboys came out of last week's 35-9 defeat by Houston with no serious injuries.

Snyder Will Delay Hunting For Series

. . . NELSON NATIVE DOESN'T MIND

Baltimore (AP) — Russ Snyder, a Nebraska sharpshooter, will have to delay the start of his hunting season this year.

"That's all right with me," Snyder said. "I wouldn't mind having the same problem every year."

Snyder will be busy at least for the next week, preparing for and playing in the World Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Baltimore Orioles' outfielder had one of his finest seasons in 1966, finishing with a .306 batting average and 41 runs batted in. He was his usual hustling self in the field, and got on base enough while being platooned to score 66 runs.

Snyder, a 32-year-old veteran of eight major league seasons, led the American League in batting for many weeks although he obviously would not have enough plate appearances to qualify for the title.

"I'm satisfied that I did a good job this year," Snyder said. "It was a good feeling just being part of a club winning the championship."

Snyder, a fast runner, didn't bunt for base hits as much this season-and for good reason.

"I was in a good groove and hitting the ball," Snyder said, "and the other teams still kept their infields in looking for the bunt. That made it easier to hit the ball through, and I saw no reason to bunt."

"Every player looks forward to getting to the majors," he said. "And once he's there, he sets a goal of playing in the World Series-reaching a peak so to speak.

"A lot of guys who played longer than I have, never played in the Series. Its's frustrating when you keep trying and never make it."

After the Series, where he is expected to be platooned in center field with Paul Blair, Snyder will head for Nelson, Neb., where he hunts game and referees high school basketball games to stay in shape.

"I do a lot of hunting," deer, coyotes — you name it. I hunt it.

"Being outdoors a lot keeps me in shape," Snyder said. "When you get older, the main thing is to take care of your legs.

"I can get ready in the spring in less than a month. Some guys don't keep active, and they get hurt more in spring training."

Cyclones Drill On Running

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Iowa State's football team, still replaying Saturday's narrow 12-6 loss to Nebraska, went through a light one-hour drill Monday as preparations began for a Big Eight meeting with Kansas here this weekend.

Fast Worker

Ernest Poland Catches 17-Pound Cat In Loup

Ernest Poland of Sargent was late in getting his report in, but the State Game Commission has awarded him a Master Angler prize this week for a 17-pound catfish caught June 27 in a gravel pit along the Loup River north of Taylor.

Other Master Angler applications included:

Huskers' Ground Attack Overwhelms Opponents

. . . NU SUPERIOR IN AIR, TOO

Nebraska, while narrowly winning two of its first three games, has nevertheless piled up a huge statistical edge over its opponents.

The Huskers own a 54-34 bulge in first downs, a 503-87 edge in rushing yardage and a 473-468 margin in passing yardage.

Chicago Cubs Give Vet Roberts Release

Chicago (AP) — Pitcher Robin Roberts, who turned 40 last week, was given his outright release by the Chicago Cubs Monday.

The veteran right-hander, who was picked up by the Cubs in July after Houston made him a free agent, had a 5-8 record for Chicago.

Skahan Returns As No. 1 Kansas QBack

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas Jayhawks came out of their 16-14 upset of Minnesota in good shape physically.

Bob Skahan, who injured his foot in the Texas Tech game, was running as No. 1 quarterback in Monday night's practice for the first time in two weeks.

Iowa State Chem Pupil Fires Bomb

Municipal Judge John McKinney sentenced John Gale Stotz, 20, of Davenport to three months in the Story County jail and fined him $500.

The jail term was suspended pending good behavior for one year, but the fine must be paid or the tall, dark-haired junior must serve time in jail at the rate of $5 per day, or 100 days.

He said he just wanted to build up interest in the Cyclones' home football games, adding:

"I thought there wasn't enough excitement or interest in the games.'

Judge McKinney said the bomb, or land mine, which gouged out a hole about two feet long and six inches deep on the 46-yard line when a sod-rolling machine detonated it, could have seriously injured a player or spectator who stepped on it.

The judge said he took into account the fact that Stotz had never been in trouble before. The charge—the illegal manufacture of a bomb—carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $2,000 fine.

Steve Brown, driver of the sod-rolling machine, was not injured. The device, triggered by a cherry bomb, blew up a few moments after the machine had passed over it.

K-State Linebacker Top Big 8 Choice

By Associated Press

Kansas State linebacker Danny Lankas, who made three touchdown-saving plays against Colorado and had a hand in 27 stops out of 58 Colorado plays, is the Big Eight Lineman of the Week.

He was a close choice over Kansas linebacker Mike Sweatman, who was in on 20 tackles including some key stops in a 16-14 victory over Minnesota.

Lankas made 8 unassisted tackles and assisted on 17 more, intercepted a pass at the K-State 5-yard line and returned it 15 yards, and batted down another pass at the K-State 30. Twice he saved a touchdown by stopping Wilmer Cooks, big Colorado fullback, for no gain a yard from the goal. His interception also saved a TD.

Lankas is a 6-foot, 211-pound junior from Atwood, Kan., and a heavyweight wrestler. He played five different positions as a sophomore at K-State, winding up as No. 1 fullback the last two games.

A broken ankle, two broken fingers and a variety of allergies haven't stopped him. A number of schools including both service academies were interested in Lankas in his junior year, but most of them backed off after the ankle injury, which included a torn ligament. He played only one game as a senior.

"One doctor predicted I'd never play football again," Lankas said.

Lankas had to move out of a player dormitory at K-State because he is allergic to the dust from blower-type heaters. He's also allergic to various foods including wheat, although he was raised on a farm.

Sweatman forced an unsuccessful field goal attempt by Minnesota with a hard tackle, then a pass rush ending with his tackle on the quarterback for a loss of 9. He had 12 unassisted, 8 assisted tackles.

Other line nominees were defensive tackle Carel Stith of Nebraska, who was in on 10 tackles and recovered a fumble to set up the winning TD; defensive tackle Dennis Esselmann of Iowa State, 9 tackles and a fumble recovery; and defensive tackle Frank Bosch of Colorado, 12 tackles forcing K-State to run to the opposite side most of the time.

Also cited was K-State defensive tackle Rich Wilkinson.

Missouri and Oklahoma State had no line nominees and Oklahoma was idle. Players are nominated by the coaches and voting is by a panel of newsmen.

Mueller Tops NU Defenders

Back Marv Mueller, linebacker Lynn Senkbeil and lineman Wayne Meylan lead Nebraska's undefeated football team in tackles through three games.

Anderson, Parker Join Missouri's First Line

Columbia, Mo., (AP) — Coach Dan Devine, dissatisfied with the play of Missouri's offensive line in last week's loss to UCLA, made some changes Monday which he hopes will perk up the Tigers' attack against Kansas State at Manhattan Saturday.

Join the parade to:
THE SMOOTHEST WHISKY EVER TO COME OUT OF CANADA!

Now step up to Windsor Canadian: the remarkable, sippin'-smooth Canadian that's already changing thousands of Americans' ideas on the whisky to serve.

Tonight compare Windsor! Pour two drinks—highballs or over ice—one with your usual, one with Windsor Canadian. Notice the superior smoothness and the flavor of Windsor.

1. Only Windsor Canadian is made from choicest northern prairie grains, bursting with fresh flavor.
2. Only Windsor Canadian is born of icy mountain glacial water drawn clear from underground streams.
3. Only Windsor Canadian is aged in the incredibly dry air of Canada's Rockies. Where, nearly a mile high, it gentles to sippin'-smooth perfection.

Yet it costs no more than leading domestic whiskies, because we import Windsor Canadian, then bottle it here. Thus saving on duties and other charges. Compare the price and the smoothness of Windsor. Once you do, you'll never settle for less or pay more. Join the parade... tonight!

POSTCARD by Stan

English children are wheeled about in prams. And English mamas could hardly shop without the vehicle. A luxury pram costs around $200. It gives mama plenty status at the market.

There are advantages. The child and pram are parked outside. Rows of tykes sitting in their prams, cutting up baby touches. If you've wheeled an infant in a supermarket cart and had them reach out and topple the display of canned salmon, you get the idea.

The pram is ideal for wheeling home the groceries. Make the child sit up. Tuck the groceries in at the foot.

Show windows for prams are as elegant as the Rolls Royce agency. The salesmen wear morning tail coats.

The pram is functional. It is waist-high. The back wheels are two feet in diameter with 18-inch wheels in front. The body is slung on crescent-shaped springs.

"A well-built pram can also serve as the child's bed in a small apartment," says the pram manufacturer. "The two-wheel handbrake makes it entirely safe to leave the infant outside while shopping.

"Models are available in a variety of colors such as mushroom, mistletoe and blue mist. There is a double storm flap. The hood may be replaced in summer with one of tropical shantung. An extremely good value."

There's a fine pram shop up the road from my hotel in Knightsbridge. (Alongside a very good pub.)

"The children's nanny in uniform with a stylish pram was once a part of the London scene, much like the rented park chair," said the pram salesman. "Now fewer people can afford a nanny — where they've gone, don't ask me. Perhaps into the factories.

"Still the pram has social value, you might say.

"The Rolls Royce models are the Hamilton or the Sandringham or the Gazelle," he said adjusting his cravat delicately.

"Then we have many people who prefer the smaller, sporty models. This York—14-inch chrome wheels with folding handles — is in the Jaguar class.

"The equivalent of the Mini Minor is this Fayette. The body can be detached from the wheels and put in the rear seat of your car."

For about $15, you can get a Somerset-style tropical canopy for summer.

There are pram bags for $6 — zippered carrying bags that hang on the handles.

A plastic dust cover goes for another $6. You can have a seat belt for the infant for $5. And for $2 more, you get attaching reins in case the little blighter wants to get out and walk awhile.

☆ ☆ ☆

"There are various protection nets to be had," said the pram salesman smoothing his smooth lapels.

"For country use we have a fine mesh anti-insect net. Same price."

Prams and accessories are built for twins. But if you have triplets, the pram must be custom-made.

"Anything for the little one's comfort is our motto," he said.

Small Paper Explained By Pen Editors

The latest issue of The Forum, inmate newspaper at the Nebraska Penal Complex, was smaller than usual—and for a reason.

As co-editors Jim La Rosee and Kenny Wells explained, the copy for the edition was prepared, then placed atop a locker in a trusty dormitory with a view to taking it to the warden's office for approval the next day.

Meantime, the dormitory lieutenant ordered a cleanup of the top of the lockers, and a porter removed the accumulation of papers, magazines and other paraphernalia, including the still-unpublished prison newspaper copy, and took the material to the dump for burning.

Discovering what had happened, the editors arranged for a quick trip to the dump, only to learn that the material had gone up in smoke.

Editors spent the next day and a half, re-creating enough copy to fill four pages.

Some inmate colleagues of the editors termed it "one of the most brilliant ideas we've heard to get out of picking beans." The editors denied any such plan.

Honeybee Sting Fatal To Giver

New York (UPI) — The honeybee can sting only once, and usually dies within a few minutes after stinging.

The bumblebee, however, says World Book Encyclopedia, can sting repeatedly, and so can its relatives — the wasp, the hornet and the yellow jacket.

Equity Union Eyes Future Service To Farmer

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Aggressive merchandising programs in the export field and better coordination of efforts toward serving the farmer were the goals outlined here Monday at the 50th anniversary of Equity Union Grain Co.

The company serves more than 200 country elevators in Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado.

Willard Cantin of Lincoln, Equity Union general manager, noted that efforts toward serving the farmer better in the future could include possible mergers or consolidation with other regionals to serve larger region whose functions are similar.

One of the speakers on the 50th anniversary Equity Union program was Fred Heinkel of Columbia, Mo., long time president of the Missouri Farmers Association. The farm organization changed its name last year to the Midcontinent Farmers Association.

Joint Formation

Midcontinent Farmers and Equity Union Grain Co. have been active in the joint formation of Kansas City Terminal Co. Elevator, expected to be a part of an export elevator operation to be developed at New Orleans by the two groups to assist in export operations in both European and Asian markets.

Edward Trautman of Yuma, Colo., Equity Union president, said, "Our responsibility is to continue that service to farmers which was created in 1916, regardless of the changes we need to make to accomplish the purpose for which the Equity Union Grain Co. was founded."

Cantin noted that company savings during the last few years have declined due to a reduction in storage revenue but that the organization with near $11 million assets is "in good financial condition to face the uncertainties of the future."

Net savings for Equity Union Grain Co. for the past fiscal year were $214,650, according to the annual report.

Kansas and Colorado country elevators continued to be the leaders in bushel volume with the St. Francis, Kan. Equity Union elevator leading with a 12,801,526 bushel volume.

While wheat volume has declined, the handling of feed grains has continued to increase with an all time high of near 11 million bushels being handled by Equity Union Grain Co. during the past year.

Roy Hendrickson, executive secretary of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives, Washington, D. C., told Equity members there will be expanding needs for soybeans, corn and grain sorghums.

Hendrickson estimated that 50 to 100 million more acres could be devoted to soybean production and that the United States is headed toward consuming an estimated five billion bushel corn crop annually.

Among the many Equity Grain Co. officials honored for years of service was Frank Hoyt of McCook, the only living past president of the organization.

State Commission Wouldn't Favor Bottle Clubs If Liquor Change OKd

By WILLIAM B. KETTER
United Press International

The chairman of the State Liquor Control Commission said Monday bottle clubs will not receive special consideration for class C liquor licenses if Lincoln votes in over-the-bar-sales in November's election.

"The fact that an applicant operated a bottle club will not mean a thing. Each case will be decided on its own merits," said Francis V. Robinson.

He said the commission will rely for the most part on recommendations of the City Council.

"If the council recommends issuance of a liquor license, and the person is eligible and no one files a protest, the license will be automatically issued," Robinson said.

"If the council recommends the application be denied, then the commission will schedule a hearing and both sides will be heard."

Robinson said he expects most bottle club owners to apply for class C permits if Lincolnites approve liquor-by-the-drink next month.

Up To City

"The fact that an applicant holds a bottle club license may mean something to the city but no special consideration will be given by the commission on that point," he said.

"The commission will apply the same criteria used in other class C cases."

There are presently more than 15 bottle clubs in Lincoln. Several new establishments have opened in the past six months, after the Chamber of Commerce announced it would launch a petition drive to put a liquor-by-the-drink proposition before voters.

Almost 2 To 1

Lincolnites last voted on the question in 1946, when the proposal fell 18,574 to 9,469.

Police Chief Joseph Carroll has said there might be some merit to allowing over-the-bar liquor sales in the Capital City.

He noted that without it, bottle clubs have flourished.

975 Licenses

Prohibition ended in Nebraska and the nation in 1934. Since that time the number of communities allowing over-the-bar drinks has steadily climbed, the commission said.

In the last two years 27 towns have voted in liquor-by-the-drink despite stiff opposition from church groups.

The Lincoln Council of Churches has announced it will fight the recent effort to approve the issue in the Capital City.

The council said a recent study revealed that per person consumption of alcohol averages nearly a gallon more in cities with liquor-by-the-drink compared to so-called "dry" communities.

Tabitha Requests For Health Care Service Up 400%

Requests for nursing care and physical therapy have increased 400% since Tabitha's Home Health Care Service began six months ago, according to Mrs. Martha Maseman, R.N., who directs the federally assisted program.

"We are gratified by the community response to our program and want to point out that we are equipped to handle more requests," Mrs. Maseman said.

According to Rev. Lorin J. Wolff, Pastor-Director of Tabitha, the only home of its type in Lincoln, a fee-scale is used to figure the cost of service, but individuals who cannot pay will not be denied the service.

Credit Control 'Possible'

Present Use Unlikely

Washington (UPI) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said Monday the administration would accept standby powers to control credit, although they would not be used now.

Fowler discussed the issue as he urged Senate approval of the House-passed version of President Johnson's plan to slow inflationary plant investment.

In testimony before the Senate Finance Committee, Fowler asked for quick passage of the bill to suspend for 16 months the 7% tax credit on expansions of industrial plants and equipment and the accelerated depreciation allowance on commercial buildings.

Fowler, who testified at the Federal Reserve Board, reported that consumers increased their installment credit by $602 million, seasonally adjusted, in August — the largest expansion since March, but below the monthly average of 1965 and the first quarter of 1966.

New automobile credit, stimulated by selling at the end of the model year, rose $208 million in August, the board said. Credit for other consumer goods inncreased $203 million, while personal loans advanced $176 million.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee said consumer demand was playing its part in keeping inflationary pressures strong.

He noted that during World War II and the Korean War the Federal Reserve Board could regulate credit flows to insure that wartime business was given priority in borrowing what money was available.

Long asked if the administration — not the reserve board — would want Congress to approve standby authority to control consumer credit.

"The availability of such standby controls would be useful and acceptable," Fowler said. "But I don't think we need them now. I would not advocate their use if they were available today.

Sen. J William Fulbright, D-Ark., said more revenue would be needed to cover Viet Nam war cost. "I don't see why you won't ask for a tax increase now," Fulbright said. "You'll need the money for Viet Nam and Thailand and it will be a more effective anti - inflationary tool."

Fowler said estimates of cost increases in Viet Nam and the final size of appropriations bills now in Congress would determine if a tax increase would be needed.

Sen. John J. Williams, D-Del., implied that the decision to increase corporate and personal income taxes has already been made. "We'll learn about the details after the November election," Williams said.

FOWLER . . . gets set to testify.

Agate Fossil Bed Monument Ground Breaking Plans Made

Agate (AP) — Preliminary plans have been made for ground breaking ceremonies next summer when work actually starts on the $2 million Agate Fossil Bed National Monument.

President Earl Cherry of the Agate Fossil Bed National Monument Association said the ground breaking will be contingent upon the efforts of the Park Service to acquire the necessary land for the project. The Park Service plans to move five trailer units to the site where permanent buildings will be erected during the five-year construction period.

The announcement was made by Cherry, a ranger, at the annual meeting of the association held at the ranch home of Mrs. Harold Cook, a board member. All officers and directors were re-elected.

The ceremony will be held the day a large trailer is moved to the site for a temporary visitor center.

Richard Holder, superintendent of the Scotts Bluff National Monument, will be superintendent of the Agate project. He told the association funds of the Park Service for fiscal 1967, will include the $230,000 needed to purchase 3,150 acres of land plus funds for permanent utilities.

First year construction also will include a road to the trailer complex, but not a bridge over the Niobrara River, which flows between the visitor center and the fossil deposits in University and Carnegie Hills.

Holder's assistant, Al Werking, will move to the site early in the spring.

Garden Club President Urges Responsibility For Beauty

Mrs. Fred Mauntel, president of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, challenged an audience of 225 Nebraska Garden Club members to "be personally responsible for beauty and progress in your community and state."

Speaking to the 32nd annual convention of the Federated Garden Clubs of Nebraska meeting in Lincoln Monday and Tuesday, Mrs. Mauntel urged the women present to carry out the theme of the convention—"Nature's bounty; Ours to Use and Conserve."

"You have great natural beauty here in Nebraska," Mrs. Mauntel said, "and extremely fertile soil. These are your very special heritage."

"In our national program we are stressing conservation with the theme 'keep faith with tomorrow' " the Washington, Mo., native said. She said that in Nebraska a great deal has been accomplished through "trail blazing conservation."

Mrs. Mauntel urged Garden Club members to greater goals of "becoming involved with the forces around you. Be aware of beauty and make others aware of it," she urged.

In line with the conservation efforts of the National Federation of Garden Clubs, the Nebraska clubs were presented an award certificate from the U.S. Forest Service by Rocky Mountain Regional director Mary Louise Riede.

The award was presented to Mrs. Michael Edwards of Lincoln, outgoing president of the Nebraska federation," in recognition of the outstanding conservation work of the Nebraska Garden Clubs" in the area of water pollution control.

Also receiving a Forest Service award was Mrs. Lyle Johnsrud of Ft. Benton, Mont., director of the conservation program of the Rocky Mountain Region of Garden Clubs. She is leading the eight state region in its unified conservation effort of water pollution control, in hopes of obtaining the national award of conservation for her region.

William O. Dobler, editor of The Lincoln Star, was presented an award for his editorials which urge the same goals as the Garden Clubs—" conservation, civic development, and family life."

1,000 Die In Nigeria Bloodshed

Lagos, Nigeria (AP)—Clashes between proud militant Northern Nigerians and the ambitious Ibo tribesmen of the east have left about 1,000 dead — many butchered with swords—since last Wednesday, various reports from the north indicated Monday. From all accounts, most of the dead appeared to be Ibos.

Lt. Col. Yakubu Gowon, head of the military government, told the closing session of the constitutional conference in Lagos that the situation was under control after five days of bloodshed.

The conference, attended by delegations from the nation's four main regions who hope to hammer out a constitution to bring peace to Nigeria, was adjourned until Oct. 24.

Gowon expressed grief over events at Kano, the ancient walled city that was once a depot for caravans on the Sahara, 520 miles north of Lagos, where perhaps 300 Ibos were slain by mobs wielding swords. The massacre occurred Sunday at Kano International Airport and in the Sagon Gari, the foreign quarter outside the city.

Reports from the north said Lt. Col. Hassan Usman Katsina, the military governor, had ordered his troops to shoot anyone caught molesting others or looting.

Work was resumed at the $100 million Kainji Dam under the watchful eyes of 200 troops and police after clashes between northern and eastern workers left 32 persons dead last Wednesday and Thursday. The dam is 300 miles north of Lagos.

The fighting was provoked by the Hausa tribe, northern Moslems who suspect the Ibos of trying to dominate Nigeria politically and militarily.

'Mickey Moose' Is Hauled Away From Herefords

Boston (AP)—"Mickey Moose" is on his way to Franklin Park Zoo after several weeks of courtship with cows in central Massachusetts. This is rutting season for moose.

The 900-pound bull moose has been rubbing shoulders with a dozen Hereford cows at the Amherst farm of Dr. Frederick Ruder, a veterinarian, since Sept. 27.

Monday, zoo director Walter Stone and a party of state fish and game personnel shot tranquilizers into the moose and hauled him to Boston by truck.

This is the second time officials had captured the moose. The animal is rarely seen in Massachusetts. This one displayed it liking for cows when it joined the dairy herd of a Northfield farmer Sept. 19.

The moose wouldn't let the farmer get near his cows so the moose was shot with tranquilizers and taken to the Quabbin Reservoir area Sept. 22.

Then it turned up about 20 miles away at the Ruder farm.

Fill in the dotted areas

—to see how much "college money" $750 will buy if you start soon enough

In 17 years, the money you invest in United States Savings Bonds more than doubles.

This means that if you could invest $750 in Series E Bonds between the day your child is born and his first birthday—less than $15 a week—you'd have $1,508 toward his first year of college when he's 18. Do it for four years, and you'd have a substantial start on financing his whole college career.

With the new 4.15% interest rate, E Bonds mature in only 7 years, paying back $4 for every $3 you've invested. Then they go on growing for another 10 years under the automatic extension privilege.

So if you start early—and save regularly—Bonds can be the answer to the high cost of college. And while your Bond dollars are working for your child's future, they're helping Uncle Sam, too. Right now, for instance, they'll be backing our men in Vietnam.

Stock Mart Dives To New '66 Low

Multi-point losses were taken by many of the high-flying stocks which were most glamorous early this year when the Dow industrials were climbing toward their record close of 995.15, with the legendary "Dow 1,000" a virtual certainty.

Monday the Dow industrials fell 16.26 to 757.96, their lowest close since Dec. 24, 1963, when they read 756.87. The drop was the greatest since July 25 when the average fell 16.32.

The decline revised a lot of thinking in Wall Street because the Dow industrials broke through the previous low of 767.03 made for 1966 might serve as a strong support level from which a rally could be mounted.

The market began Monday with a rise as it followed through on Friday's rally. The rally fizzled, however. Some of the glamor stocks began to take sharp losses. This prompted uneasiness about many other stocks.

Of 1,405 issues traded, 1,003 declined and 198 advanced. Lows for the year totaled 245. The two highs were Columbia Pictures and Sterling Drug preferred.

Volume was 6.5 million shares compared with 6.19 million Friday.

All of the 15 most-active stocks declined. Fairchild Camera was the most-active stock, falling 16⅞ to 15¾ on 144,900 shares. Last week the stock fell 15⅛.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 4.9 to 274.7 with industrials off 8.0, rails off 2.5 and utilities off 1.5

The loss in the AP averege was the largest since Aug. 29 when it fell 5.5.

Actively traded, Texas Instruments fell 11⅛ to 91⅞ and KLM Airlines dropped 11⅞ to 123.

Among other volume leaders Polaroid lost 9, Itek 8⅛, General Instrument 6, Pan American World Airways 5¼, Motorola 7¼ and Eastern Air Lines 5½.

Butcher Hog Prices Decline At Chicago

Chicago (AP) — The largest butcher hog supply in about four months weakened the market Monday and it sold 50 cents a hundredweight lower although trade was fairly active.

The supply of 7,000 head was the largest since June 6. Mixed No. 1 and 2 grades went mostly at $23-23.25 for 200-225 lb. weights. A very few sold at $23.50 while mixed 1-3 grades moved at $22.50-23 and mixed 2-3 at $22.25-75.

Slaughter steers sold as much as 50 cents a hundredweight lower in slow trading. A few prime grade topped at $27 for 1,250-1,350 lb. weights. Mixed high choice and prime were $26.25-75 and average choice in the 900-1,400 lb range $25.25-26.25.

Wooled slaughter lambs at $2.50-24 for mixed good and choice to mixed choice and prime were 50 cents to $1 lower.

Specter Says Oswald Indisputably Assassin

Washington (UPI)—A Warren Commission lawyer said Monday there was no doubt that Lee Harvey Oswald killed President John F. Kennedy and that another investigation could not turn up any new evidence to alter the commission's verdict.

Arlen Specter now district attorney of Philadelphia, defended the commission's report against recent books and articles criticizing the investigation of the late president's murder.

In a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report, Specter said:

"There can be no real doubt on the subject, based on the factors of ownership of the weapon . . . the handwriting links to Oswald's having ordered that weapon, the fact that it is scientifically ballistically proved beyond question that the whole bullet . . . came from that weapon, that the two major fragments found in the front seat of the presidential limousine came from that weapon."

"Further indications of Oswald's guilt are his rapid exit, fleeing from the site of the Texas School Book Depository Building and the later killing of Officer Tippit, which was witnessed by several people, plus photographs showing Oswald holding a rifle identified as being the Mannlicher-Carcano which was used."

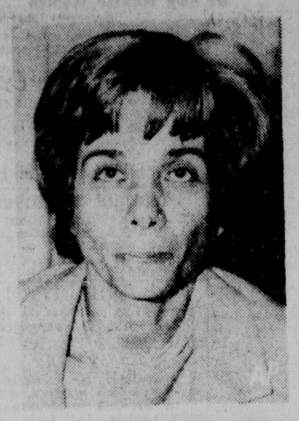

Specter said there was overwhelming evidence that the same bullet wounded Texas Gov. John B. Connally and there was nothing to indicate Oswald acted as part of a conspiracy.

"The commission left no stone unturned to track down Oswald's background to the maximum extent possible," Specter said, "to see if he had dealings with anyone else who might have been a co-conspirator."

He said the commission did not start the investigation with "the preconceived notion that Oswald was the assassin. The commission . . . did maintain an open mind on that subject and surveyed the evidence before coming to its conclusion."

Vehicle Growth Rapid

Lansing, Mich. — Car and truck owners throughout the world have about 170 million units in use, 34 per cent more than in 1961. In 1970, one auto manufacturer estimates, the total will be more than 200 million.

DR. NURAN TURKSOY

SANDRA CWIKIELNIK

Mother Of Septuplets Took Fertility Hormone

Boston (AP) — A 24-year-old Boston woman who gave birth to seven babies that died was reported comfortable at a hospital Monday and planning to try to have another child.

Mrs. Sandra Cwikielnik, who had been treated with a fertility hormone, gave birth to the septuplets Saturday. The four girls and three boys were born four months prematurely. One was dead at birth and the other died shortly after delivery.

Dr. Nuran Turksoy of New England Medical Center Hospital, who administered the hormone drug to Mrs. Cwikielnik, said her patient is "looking forward to the future" and is "anxious to try to have another child."

Mrs. Cwikielnik and her husband, William, 30, have one child, a 3-year-old boy. Cwikielnik is a shipping clerk for a clothing firm.

Mrs. Cwikielnik is the first American known to have given birth to septuplets.

The hormone preparation she received is the same as that linked with the birth of stillborn sextuplets and septuplets in Sweden last year and with quintuplets born in 1965 in New Zealand and Sweden.

Lesotho Wins Its Freedom

Maseru, Lesotho (AP) — The British protectorate of Basutoland became an independent nation named Lesotho Tuesday. It was the second black African country bordering white-ruled South Africa to win independence within four days.

Representing Queen Elizabeth II as the British Union Jack was hauled down at midnight Monday was Princess Marina, duchess of Kent, the queen's aunt. She flew here from Botswana, which was the protectorate of Bechuanaland before it became independent last Thursday.

The princess was met by Paramount Chief Moshoeshoe II, who becomes the constitutional monarch within the British Commonwealth.

Lesotho, a Maryland-sized land, entered independence with problems of poverty and primitive industry.

It has only about 2,000 whites in a population of about 1 million.

Moshoeshoe is dissatisfied with the new constitution. He wants control over defense, internal security, and foreign affairs and has the support of the powerful opposition Congress and Freedom Parties.

Jonathan has only a majority of two in parliament.

Eagle Killer Is Acquitted

San Francisco (UPI) — A federal judge ruled Monday that Marin County rancher Leroy Martinelli was justified in killing two government-protected eagles that attacked his lambs last year.

U.S. Dist. Judge William T. Sweigert acquitted Martinelli, 36, of charges he killed a bald eagle Jan. 25, 1965, and a golden eagle the following day without obtaining a permit from the secretary of the interior.

The judge said he could not find that Martinelli was engaged in wanton slaughter, but warned his decision did not mean courts would allow killing of protected birds.

Boeing Openings for Production Workers

Lincoln Interviews
October 3 through 8

The new Boeing 747 jet transport program is opening the way for many interesting, good-paying aerospace production jobs in the Seattle area. The 747, largest airplane ever designed for commercial service, will carry 490 passengers or 100 tons of cargo at speeds over 600 mph. To build this modern jetliner, Boeing is erecting the world's largest-volume building — a manufacturing plant with 158,000,000 cubic feet of space.

Other career advantages at Boeing include unprecedented jetliner sales, and major contracts in the nation's most important military and space programs. The total result is the most accelerated expansion program in the company's history — and excellent job opportunity for qualified personnel.

You'll be working in the Seattle area, which is well known for year-round mild climate and top-ranked schools. In addition, fresh-and salt-water fishing and boating, hunting, camping, mountain climbing and skiing are all within an hour's drive of Seattle.

Current openings include:

TRAINING OPENINGS (WITH PAY)
Beginner openings with Boeing's Manufacturing Department, in the Seattle-Renton area, start at $2.445 per hour. Applicants must be U.S. citizens, at least 18 years of age, and should have mechanical aptitude and working knowledge of mathematics.

SKILLED
Jig & Fixture Builders — Template Makers
Machinists — Tool & Die Makers

Apply in person or call the Boeing representative.

WE'RE STUCK
With a 1964 Chevrolet Impala Sport hardtop. We have had this car since July 28 and can't seem to get it sold. It has the right engine, 327, V-8, it's a 3 speed, it is beautiful inside and out and runs real good. It was traded in by a married man who liked sharp cars. We have priced it at $1795 but it must be too high. So—take it away at only $1695. Guaranteed too. 6c

IKE FAVORS N-THREAT

WHEN YOU DIE . . .

Will State Decide Estate Division?

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Do you want the State of Nebraska to decide for you how your estate shall be divided after your death?

If you don't have a will or if all property isn't in joint tenancy, then Nebraska laws of descent will determine what portion of the estate shall go to the various heirs.

Under these laws, when there is no will, the estate must be filed for administration, providing the deceased owned property at the time of his death; and the court then determines and enters a decree of distribution of the property which was individually held by the deceased.

Distributed To Family

In the case of a married couple, when there are no children and the property is not jointly held, half of the estate goes to the surviving spouse and the other half descends to the family of the deceased such as father and mother, brothers and sisters, etc.

If the surviving spouse is not the parent of all the children, and if there is one or more, the surviving spouse shall receive one-fourth with the remainder to go to the surviving children of the deceased.

If there is only one child of both the surviving spouse and the deceased, the surviving spouse will receive one-half and the child one-half.

Spouse Receives One-Third

If the survivor is the parent of all the children of the deceased and there are two or more children, the surviving spouse receives one-third and the children the other two-thirds to be divided equally.

Regardless of the number of survivors, the surviving spouse also receives, in addition to his or her proportionate share of the estate, all wearing apparel and household furniture, all exempt items such as tools and wages, $200 in cash or other personal property selected, a widow's allowance for one year and the homestead right (use for life) of up to two lots in town or up to 160 acres on a farm.

If all the property is jointly held, with rights of survivorship, there is no property to be probated and the surviving spouse or other survivor with whom the property was held by the deceased automatically becomes the sole owner of the property, and the court determines the inheritance tax, if any.

Blocked In Some States

In some states, until there is tax clearance, joint checking and savings accounts are blocked by banks upon the receipt of notification of the death of one of the joint owners.

According to Lancaster County Judge Ralph Slocum, this problem does not exist in Nebraska. Upon the death of one of the joint owners of an account, the surviving joint owner merely has the funds transferred to a new account in his name.

As a general rule, no provision in a will will affect the property held in joint tenancy or ownership. However, all property being held in joint tenancy does not eliminate the necessity for court proceedings when one owner dies, because the court must determine inheritance tax liability, if any.

Guardian Appointed

If there is no will, and the deceased leaves minor children, then a guardian must be appointed to handle the minor child's portion of the estate until the child is of legal age.

Lawyers note that it is wise for persons having minor children to make some provisions in case of the death of one parent so a portion of the estate is not tied up until the child is 21 years old.

If there is no will and the deceased leaves no children nor spouse nor father nor mother, the estate is divided in equal shares between the brothers and sisters of the deceased or the children of any deceased brother or sister.

To Next Of Kin

If there are no surviving brothers and sisters, then the estate descends to next of kin, and if no kindred nor spouse, the estate goes to the State of Nebraska.

A surviving spouse may choose between the provisions of the will and the share to which he may be entitled under the law of descent, but he may not take property under both unless the will clearly shows that such was the deceased's intention.

For example, regardless of a will, one may not prevent his wife or husband from receiving the share to which she or he is entitled under the law of descent had there been no will.

However, if the surviving spouse chooses to take his her share under the provisions of the will, he or she can't also take his or her share under the law of descent.

REDS STILL ON RUN . . .

Cavalry, ROKs Riddle Enemy

Saigon (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen and South Korean infantry riddled a communist battalion in the central coast highlands in two days of heavy fighting, and reported Tuesday the toll of enemy dead had mounted to 323. Another 131 were captured.

The mixed force of North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong was in retreat, with the helicopter-borne U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division and the Korean Tiger Division in pursuit. Moderate contact with the enemy was reported.

The air cavalrymen reported killing 43 more enemy soldiers Monday night, running their total to 271 since the jumpoff Sunday. The Republic of Korea (ROK) troops reported killing 52.

Viets Too

Units of South Vietnamese troops were in the chase but apparently had little contact. They reported capturing five suspects.

The air cavalrymen in what is known as Operation Irving pounced on the fleeing enemy from helicopters repeatedly Monday and the casualties mounted until the fighting ebbed at nightfall. U.S. Casualties were described as light.

The fighting raged over brush and jungle covered heights about 290 miles northeast of Saigon and 30 miles north of the coastal city of Qui Nhon.

Plastered Again

Two hunt-and-kill operations of the U.S. Marines along the southern edge of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) slackened off Monday but B52 bombers from Guam plastered North Vietnamese positions for the fourth straight day of raids in or near the zone. This time enemy concentrations and infiltration routes just below the zone took hammerings from the eight-engine saturation bombers.

The DMZ operations are designed to cut off infiltration of North Vietnamese army regulars into South Viet Nam's uppermost province.

U.S. Navy and Air Force bombers kept up attacks in North Viet Nam. Flying 113 missions Sunday, American pilots reported destroying or damaging 46 buildings, 13 trucks, and 10 bridges. Numerous hits were scored on oil depots and for the second day in a row, U.S. planes hit the important Phu Ly railroad yard and transshipment point 35 miles south of Hanoi.

No U.S. planes were reported lost.

McNamara Going

In Washington, the Pentagon announced Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will spend next week in South Viet Nam. It will be his eighth trip here. He will be back in Washington before President Johnson flies to Manila for a conference of leaders of the seven nations fighting the communists in Viet Nam.

In Manila, the Philippine government announced that the conference, originally set for Oct. 18, was being postponed and that the new tentative date is Oct. 28-29.

BEES FOR A NECKLACE

Eleven-year-old Lora Ellard of Dallas, Tex., was shown a picture of a beekeeper with a swarm of bees on his neck. She wanted to try it and did. Said Lora: "First they tickled and then they started itching. Bee owner C. J. Howard said, "I've been stung thousands of times. But the more the better. The poison is good for arthritis." Lora was neither stung, nor does she have arthritis.

Mansfield Asks What He Meant

. . . IN EARLIER STATEMENT

Washington (AP)—The political uproar over Viet Nam welled up Monday in a fresh-win-the-war-now demand by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and a stout defense of President Johnson's peace efforts by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield.

At almost the moment Mansfield was telling his Senate colleagues the voters have a right to know whether Eisenhower is advocating nuclear attacks, the Republican former president was saying he would not automatically preclude the use of such weapons in Viet Nam.

"I would do anything that would bring the war to an honorable solution as rapidly as I could," Eisenhower told newsmen after attending a meeting of the Republican Coordinating Committee, of which he is a member.

Nothing Automatically

In response to questions whether he included the use of nuclear weapons, he replied:

"I would not automatically preclude anything."

Although Eisenhower indicated he was speaking in terms of holding the threat of nuclear weapons over the North Vietnamese and not advocating their actual use at this point, his views here likely to be given a wide variety of interpretations around the world.

Mansfield, a sometime critic of administration policies, attacked those at home and aboard who question the "honesty of President Johnson's flexible proposals" for peace in Viet Nam.

"I do not doubt his honesty and sincerity," the Montanan said.

Mansfield Wonders

Did Eisenhower's earlier statement mean he would employ up to two million men, invade North Viet Nam and use nuclear weapons?

Mansfield declared: "The Congress is entitled to know and if the matter is to be considered during an election campaign, the voters of the nation are entitled to know."

Eisenhower brushed aside questions about the Mansfield speech and headed home to Gettysburg, Pa. "I've had two news conferences today," he said. "I'm all done. I've got to go home."

Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said the question of nuclear weapons was one topic discussed as Republican leaders worked out a statement demanding "every practicable step" to win the war.

Dewey's Version

Dewey said none of the GOP leaders on hand, including Eisenhower, advocated the use of nuclear weapons. "He simply meant that we shouldn't advise the enemy in advance as to what we're going to do," Dewey said.

The Republican Coordinating Committee issued a statement endorsing the coming Manila conference on Viet Nam.

The arms-length exchange of Democratic and Republican viewpoints came after retired Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, former Air Force chief or staff, had called present strategy in Viet Nam "the ultimate in military blindness." LeMay recorded his views in an interview with U.S. News and World Report.

'Only Way To Win'

"The popular philosophy that we can, by cautious and timid military tactics, keep the war from escalating into a larger conflict is the ultimate in military blindness," LeMay said. "The only way to win a war is to escalate it one way or another above what the enemy can take."

Eisenhower recalled that the United States had been comitted to bringing freedom to South Viet Nam.

"All right," he said, "as long as we have to do that, let's do it in whatever way it is necessary."

Eisenhower said that during the Korean War he never openly threatened to use nuclear weapons nor did he openly rule them out.

"Do you think the Johnson administration has precluded the use of nuclear weapons?" he was asked.

"I don't know," he replied.

City Backs Alcoholism Project

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Council Monday gave its general endorsement to a city-county level alcoholism rehabilitation project.

The council directed the city administration to contact other agencies, both public and private, to "investigate how the proposal can best be implemented."

A $30,000 federal sum is available to the community to help staff and equip a rehabilitation center for alcoholics, but the application for the government grant needs to be sponsored by local governmental subdivisions.

Need Exists

Verne Pangborn, State Hospital Division director, told the council that "there is a need in this city for this type of facility, and it is only possible through city and county sponsorship."

He suggested that the medically-oriented center might be set up in the old Lincoln General Hospital building, "which is already a governmental facility."

David Hancock, director of the Lincoln Council on Alcoholism, said the rehabilitation center should offer testing, therapy, and counseling, as well as restoring the alcoholic to physical health.

Few Indigents

"We need this to do the job that is not now being done, Hancock said, adding "we would not be dealing with the skid row alcoholic . . . there would be a few indigents, but most people would pay their own way."

He said that in two years of service the alcoholism council has seen between two and three hundred alcoholics and interviewed several hundred more family members.

In other action, the council repealed provisions which make it unlawful to leave the ignition key in the ignition of a parked passenger car. The key-in-car ordinances had bounced around the council agenda in various forms for several weeks.

Comstock Opposed

Voting for repeal were council members Mrs. Helen Boosalis, Lloyd Hinkley, Ervin Peterson and Carroll Thompson. Against was John Comstock, who sponsored the legislation.

The first ordinance introduced and passed was declared unenforceable by the municipal court. The second, after being amended and passed by the council, was returned unsigned by Mayor Dean Petersen. He asked that all ignition key provisions be repealed.

Council Creates Rights Unit

The City Council Monday passed an ordinance creating a Commission on Human Rights which will investigate instances of discrimination in employment and housing.

The nine-member commission will be appointed by Mayor Dean Petersen, subject to approval by the council. It will not have a full-time, paid director, at least for the first year, and will not have the power of subpoena.

Under the ordinance, the purpose of the commission is defined as: "to foster, encourage and promote mutual respect and understanding among all individuals in the city . . . and to discourage unlawful conduct and violence in the attainment of the goals of equality in civil rights, equal employment, and housing opportunities in the city".

The human rights commission will also:

—Investigate complaints of discrimination because of race, color, religion, sex or national origin and initiate its own investigation of such discrimination.

—Develop and recommend to the city and public and private organizations programs and techniques designed to eliminate discrimination.

—Recommend that the City Council hold hearings, administer oaths and take the testimony of persons relating to matters before the commission whenever the commission determines it is necessary to obtain information which cannot be secured by voluntary procedures.

Although the ordinance provides authority for the mayor to appoint employes in the city classified service in the executive branch to work for the commission, that section is regarded as permissive by the council.

No funds have been budgeted for a paid staff this fiscal year, but the authorization was written into the ordinance so a full-time director can be hired in the future if needed, said Councilman Carroll Thompson.

THREAT TO FLORIDA GROWING

Miami, Fla (AP)—Hurricane Inez started a slow drift Monday night on a south-southwest path that increased her danger to Florida's heavily-populated southeast coast.

As she drifted four miles an hour, Inez already had in her grasp a disabled Liberian tanker with 38 persons on board.

"This south-southwest drift represents more of a threat to the U.S. mainland than before," forecaster Paul Moore of the National Hurricane Center said.

The compact storm was expected to continue her drift early Tuesday, shifting to a more southwesterly course. That would bring Inez and her 85 mile-an-hour winds even closer to south Florida.

The Coast Guard sent its 311-foot cutter Mackinac into the screaming winds and heavy seas that engulfed the tanker 50 miles from the center of the storm.

It had been bound for Baton Rouge, La.

Pounding waves roared into the streets of sleepy coastal towns in the northern Bahamas, in some cases less than an hour after residents had fled their flimsy homes for the safety of higher ground.

Gale warnings were raised for the southeast Florida coast once again, for weary forecasters at the National Hurricane Center were uncertain which way the storm would turn.

The tanker was 60 miles north of Nassau, the Bahamian capital that has been taking a beating from Inez.

At Williamstown, Grand Bahama Island, seawater surged into the streets. Fifty-seven of the quaint, seafront town's 100 residents were evacuated to nearby Freeport. The others prepared to leave.

At Freeport, gambling tourists listened to 60-mile-an-hour winds howling through the town as they played the gaming tables at the Lucayan Beach Hotel Casino.

Most stores and offices had closed by lunchtime, but an English-type pub went on serving pints of beer far into the night as its customers casually played darts.

State Grange Holding 56th Annual Meet

The Nebraska State Grange began its 56th Annual Session Monday with committee meetings in the areas of agriculture, education, taxation and legislation.

The four day meeting continues Tuesday with election of officers and an address by the National Grange Master Herschel Newsome, of Washington, D.C. He will also speak at the Wednesday evening banquet.

Wednesday morning's session will feature an address by Clayton Yeutter, University of Nebraska agricultural economist and tax specialist, concerning Nebraska's most desirable state tax. State Sen. Stanley Matzke will also speak in place of Congressman Clair Callan who is unable to attend.

Don Shriner, director of the Nebraska Centennial Commission will speak Wednesday morning and Joseph Soshnik a Vice Chancellor at the University of Nebraska will address the afternoon session.

Industrials Fall To Lowest Point In Nearly 3 Years

New York (AP)—The stock market was battered Monday in a trading session which sent the closing Dow Jones industrial average to its lowest point since late 1963.

The average fell 16.26 points to 757.96, the lowest closing since Dec. 24, 1963, when it read 756.86.

The 16.26 drop was the largest decline in the average since July 25 when it dropped 16.32.

Volume was 6.5 million shares compared with 6.19 million Friday.

Osceola Girl Dies; Hit By Dad's Tractor

The girl's father, Rex Grossnicklaus, said his daughter had been playing in the front yard while he was repairing a tractor. Grossnicklaus backed the tractor up, and not seeing the infant, accidently ran over her.

The child was rushed to a Lincoln hospital, but died shortly after arrival with head injuries.

. . . CAN'T BACK MADDOX

Atlanta, Ga. (AP) — Rep. Charles L. Weltner, in a startling move, withdrew Monday as the Democratic nominee for a third congressional term rather than vote for Lester G. Maddox, arch-segregationist who won the party nomination for governor.

"I will give up my office before I give up my principles," said Weltner. He said he could not keep a pledge required of Democratic candidates to vote for party nominees in the general election.

"I cannot compromise with hate," he said. "I cannot vote for Lester Maddox."

Negro Interested

A Negro senator, Leroy R. Johnson, said immediately he would like to get the nomination. Johnson, who four years ago became the first Negro legislator in Georgia in half a century, said he was a loyal Democrat but would not vote for Maddox.

Weltner, reading from a brief prepared statement, noted that he had said last Friday he could not violate the party loyalty oath.

"Today, the one man in our state who exists as the very symbol of violence and oppression is the Democratic nominee for the highest office in Georgia," Weltner said. "His entire public career is directly contrary to my deepest convictions and beliefs.

"And while I cannot violate my oath, neither can I violate my principles . . . Therefore, I am withdrawing as the Democratic nominee for the House of Representatives."

No Write-In

Weltner, 38-year-old attorney, ruled out a write-in candidacy for himself and said he would sit out this election. But he added, "I hope I can sometime have the chance to serve again."

Maddox, the 51-year-old furniture merchant who quit the cafeteria business rather than serve Negroes, said he wanted to know if Weltner now would resign from the party.

"The Democratic Party is becoming more conservative by the hour," Maddox said at Savannah.

Rep. Howard H. Callaway, Republican nominee for governor, said he was "shocked and surprised." He said Weltner's act "points out the fallacy of the Democratic loyalty oath."

Callaway said the GOP requires its candidates to pledge support of state and federal Constitutions only

Mayor Surprised

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. of Atlanta, an ally of Weltner, said he was surprised but declined comment. He denounced Maddox last week after Maddox defeated moderate Ellis G. Arnall to win the nomination in a runoff.

Most other Democratic leaders, including Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, have said they would support the nominee.

Talmadge and Reps. Maston O'Neal, John J. Flynt Jr. and G. Elliott Hagan declined comment on Weltner's action.

Rep. James A. Mackay said he was astounded. But he said he would vote the Democratic ticket, while not having time to "affirmatively campaign for Mr. Maddox."

'One of Bravest'

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said: "Charlie Weltner is one of the finest and bravest men I have ever met."

Weltner was elected over veteran James C. Davis in 1962 and voted for the final version of the 1964 civil rights act. Last year he was a leader n the congressional investigation of the Ku Klux Klan.

His district, including most of Atlanta and surrounding Fulton County, is about 33% Negro.

Harlan, Iowa (UPI)—Strikers angered by the arrival of transient Mexican-American workers Monday went on a rampage of violence and vandalism at the Western Iowa Pork Co. plant.

The strikers, members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (UPWA), shattered plant windows, smashed automobile windshields, overturned mobile homes and chased non-striking workers from the plant.

Damage was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Shelby County Sheriff Orrel Gearhart said he feared renewed violence when other non-union workers try to cross picket lines. But tension eased after the 17 Mexican-Americans agreed to return to California.

Guard Call Nixed

Gearhart asked Gov. Harold E. Hughes to call out units of the Iowa National Guard. Hughes, in Des Moines, said the situation did not justify a Guard call-up.

Union and company officials said the pullout of the transient workers should ease the situation and make further violence unlikely.

Between 70 and 90 union members — a third of them women—assaulted the cars of workers trying to enter the plant late Sunday night and early Monday.

They damaged five trailer homes housing the transients. Some of the Mexican-Americans fled into nearby cornfields.

Disperse

The strikers dispersed about 10:30 a.m. shortly after District Judge Bennett Cullison arrived at the plant. Cullison six weeks ago issued a permanent injunction limiting the number of UPWA pickets to four at each of the plant's two entrances.

Production resumed on a limited basis last week when non-strikers were allowed to work and additional employes were hired from the area.

Elvin Troll, president of UPWA Local 1225, said he had been able to control the union members in the 50-day strike until Sunday night when the out-of-state workers arrived.

"I lost control of them then," Troll said.

Four Injured

Three of the Mexican-Americans were slightly injured when the house trailers, moved onto the plant grounds last week, were damaged.

Another man suffered a cut head and was treated by a doctor and released.

Defanged Packaging Bill Passed By House

Washington (AP)—The House passed a "truth-in-packaging" bill Monday stripped of Senate provisions for mandatory federal packing standards.

Only eight votes were cast against the measure which supporters said is too weak; critics contended it adds little to existing law. The roll call vote was 300 to 8.

The bill passed authorizes the government to bring manufacturers together in an effort to work out voluntary packaging standards. If after a year they fail to agree or do not obey their voluntary standards the government would have to ask Congress for additional legislation.

She's Disappointed

"There's little in this bill that does anything of importance," said Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., a leading congressional champion of legislation to aid American consumers. She said the bill "should have gone a great deal further."

And Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said the legislation "should have had mandatory standards of weights and measures."

From the GOP side of the aisle, Rep. Samuel L. Devine of Ohio said the bill was "gutted" by the Commerce Committee of which he is a member. The Senate version, Devine said, "would have created "a monstrous bureaucracy to regulate" the free enterprise system

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, chairman of the Commerce Committee, defended the bill which he piloted through his group after an initial vote last month to table it.

He said it is "a good bill" but added that if the housewives of America had written it "it would be about 10 times as strong as it is."

The bill sets mandatory federal labeling standards and also gives the federal government authority to regulate such things as "cents off" campaigns, use of such descriptive terms as "giant economy size," partially filled packages and use of "servings" to indicate quantities without specifying what a serving consists of.

Authority is divided between the Food and Drug Administration and the Federal Trade Commission.

Mortgage Interest Jacked Up Again

Washington (AP) —For the third time this year, the government Monday increased the interest rate on home mortgages it guarantees or insures—this time from 5¾% to a record 6%, the legal limit.

Officials said the action stems from high interest rates which have reached record and near record levels and have drained money from the mortgage market.

The new rate won't apply to the roughly six million outstanding mortgages now guaranteed by the Veterans Administration or insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

These will continue to bear interest at the rates agreed upon when they were approved.

6½% Total

Monday's action, effective immediately, will mean a total charge of 6½% on FHA mortgages since the government collects an additional 0.5% as an insurance premium.

The VA has no such continuing premium but charges a flat fee of 0.5% at the time a person obtains a mortgage. This non-recurring expense averages about $72 per mortgage, VA said.

In announcing the increase, Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development, said "abnormally high" interest rates have drained funds away from the mortgage market and made it difficult for home buyers to obtain money.

The VA said the increase would make GI loans more competitive and attract additional money into this market.

Interest rates on conventional home mortages have been rising for the last eight months and now average more than 6%.

Hope On Premium

Weaver expressed hope that the higher rates will reduce the premium sellers of homes must now pay to obtain mortgage financing. This rate—called point's — runs about 7 to 8% of the total value of a mortgage in some areas.

FHA and VA interest rates went from 5½ to 5¾% last April.

In a related action, the Federal National Mortgage Association raised the ceilings on mortgages it purchases under its secondary market operations but decreased the price it will pay for them.

This was the sixth time since last December that the agency had reduced the price it will pay lenders for FHA and VA mortgages.

The FNMA fixed $25,000 as its limit for a proposed new home and fixed $17,500 as its ceiling on existing home mortgages.

Tunisia Cuts Ties To Egypt

Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser have been at odds for years over the Israeli issue and other problems.

Relations between Cairo and Tunis were strained in April 1965 when Tunisia withdrew her ambassador from Cairo and Egypt followed suit.

The moves followed statements made by Bourguiba during a Near East tour that the Arab nations should open talks with Israel on the implementation of United Nations resolutions on Palestine favorable to the Arabs.

Bourguiba's statement drew heavy fire from the other members of the Arab League who accused him of being a traitor to the Arab cause. The attacks continued even though Bourguiba repeatedly stated he merely sought implementation of resolutions backing the Arab cause.

Teacher Allowed To Deduct Costs Of More Training

Washington (UPI) — The Treasury Department said Monday it has decided that teachers who take additional courses to improve their professional standing normally could deduct all the cost from their income tax.

Assistant Treasury Secretary Stanley S. Surrey wrote Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr., D-Ind., who has led the fight for such a ruling, of the decision.

Under the proposed new ruling, the treasury said deductions would be allowed if the additional education is needed to maintain or improve skills required in the teacher's present position or to fulfill new requirements imposed by his employer.

Lancaster County deputy attorney Ronald Lahners said Leesley and Miss Ellsworth were killed and two other passengers in the car were injured when the westbound car hit a bridge rail, on Interstate 80 near Waverly, veered and then went through the rail, dropping 12 to 15 feet down an embankment.

Packard was killed in an intersection collision one mile west of Wymore Sunday night. Gage County Sheriff Fred Steinkamp Jr. said he was a passenger in a car driven by Margaret L. Mick, 17, of Wymore, who suffered minor injuries along with two other passengers.

The sheriff said witnesses told him the brakes on the Mick car failed and it passed a stop sign. The Mick car was hit broadside by a car driven by Ervin Rickers, 40, of Wymore, going east on a blacktop road. Rickers, his wife and two children were injured, but apparently not seriously.

The Mick car remained upright but the Rickers car rolled over on its side, pinning Rickers' arm between the car and the ground.

Terry Johnson was killed and six other persons injured, one critically, in the near head-on collision of a pickup truck and an empty stock truck about one-tenth mile east of Waterbury Sunday night.

Young Johnson and his two brothers—Randall, 11, and Allen 8—were riding in the rear of the pickup truck, driven by their father, Eugene Johnson, 38. The three youths were thrown from the pickup which overturned.

Johnson was reported in critical condition Monday and Lieber and Randall Johnson in fair condition. The others escaped serious injury.

The Harpham women died in a Hastings hospital shortly after a two-car crash at the top of a hill a mile north and four miles west of Harvard Sunday night.

Her husband, Charles, was reported in fair condition at a hospital Monday. Florence Owens of Hastings, driver of the other car involved, was reported in good condition.

The sheriff's office said the Owens' car was traveling north and the Harpham car south when the crash occurred.

Lincolnite One Of Victims In IS 80 Crash

Two persons were killed and two were injured early Monday morning when their car swerved out of control on Interstate 80 near Waverly.

The victims were Robert E. Leesley, 21, of Rt. 1, Greenwood, and Mrs. Sharilyn Ellsworth, 24, of 7301 Kearney. In fair condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital were Beverly Wilson, 28, of 7301 Kearney and Harley Coy, 31, of 4125 E.

Mrs. Ellsworth is survived by her husband, William K.; sons, Ricky and Troy, both at home; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schaaf of Lincoln; brothers, Roger and Richard Schaaf, both of Lincoln, Robert of California, Donald of the U.S. Navy, and Ronald; sisters, Mrs. Shirley Relfstake of Dubuque, Iowa, and Mrs. Diane Hanna of Lincoln.

Senate Unit OKs Funds For State

Washington (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Monday a $1,139,244,000 public money bill carrying funds for hundreds of irrigation, flood control, navigation and power projects.

The Senate Committee increased the bill by $28,312,000 over the amount approved by the House. It was still $27,829,000 under President Johnson's budget and $186,348,000 under the appropriations for similar purposes last year.

Here are the changes affecting Nebraska:

Construction: Missouri River, Sioux City to mouth, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska, $8,300,000. The House allowance was $7,100,000.

Planning: Little Nemaha River, $25,000. The House made no allowance.

Reclamation Bureau Project:

Planning: Missouri Basin Project, Mid-State division, $175,000. No House provision.

Man's Body Is Found In Canal

Officers said Baker's son reported his father missing Sunday and a search was begun. The man's car was found near the lake Monday and further search yielded the body.

Funeral services are set for Thursday.

Tessmer Chosen

Wilber — Gary Tessner, Friend High School principal, has been named president-elect of the Saline County Education Association. Other officers elected at the association's first meeting of the year are: Donald D. Clark, Wilber, president; Mrs. Irene Drevo, Crete, secretary; Mrs. Lesbeth Gilbert, Wilber, treasurer; Mrs. Shirley Olsen, Crete, legislative chairman; Robert C. Cork, Dorchester, legislative chairman-elect; Mrs. Bernice Jeffries, Wilber, nominating chairman; Lynda Umberger, Western, program chairman.

Hurley Pleads Guilty To 2nd Degree Count

Ponca (AP) — An 18 - year - old Ponca youth, James Hurley, pleaded guilty Monday to a reduced charge of second degree murder filed in District Court by special prosecuting attorney Rodney Smith of South Sioux City.

Hurley earlier had been charged with first degree murder in the April 22 death of his former girlfriend, Julee Armstrong, 17, of Ponca.

Defense Attorney Mark Ryan also introduced written psychiatric reports from Dr. F. M. Stark of Sioux City, Iowa, regarding Hurley.

The youth was hospitalized in the psychiatric ward of a Sioux City hospital and later taken to the State Hospital in Lincoln for further tests. Details of the reports were not made public.

North Platte Girl Given Scholarship

Omaha (AP)—Ak-Sar-Ben has granted three $200 scholarships to the University of Nebraska School of nursing this fall, including one to a North Platte girl, Roberta Kanive.

The other recipients were Omahans.

Oregon Man Killed, Wife Said Critical

Lincoln Star Special

His wife, Anna, 69, was listed in critical condition in an Aurora hospital.

A Safety Patrol report said the westbound Oregon car collided almost headon with an eastbound semi-truck loaded with hogs while attempting to pass a car.

A car following Hart and driven by LaRhue G. Friesen of Henderson also collided with the truck after it landed crossways in the highway, the patrol said. Both cars wound up in the north ditch.

Charges Filed In Fatal Car Crash

Fremont (AP)—Dodge County Attorney Richard Kuhlman has filed a motor vehicle homicide charge against David Hovendick of Herman, operator of a road scraper which was involved in a fatal accident.

Hovendick's vehicle was in collision with an auto driven by Donald Fergus of Omaha near Hooper Sept. 24. Mrs. Iris Fergus, 50, was killed.

Season's First Snow At Harrison

By the Associated Press

About an inch of snow fell at Harrison and the temperature dipped to the 30-degree range. Observers reported winds gusting from 27 to 34 miles an hour.

Snow showers also were reported at Gering, Chadron and Scottsbluff.

Mitchell Critical Of Curtis For Senate Absence

Kearney (AP) — State Democratic Chairman John Mitchell Monday criticized Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., for his absence from the Senate last week, and said that as a result, Curtis, "the great economizer, missed eight chances to build his record of opposition to progress."

"Last week the Senate took action on what the news media described as eight major record votes," said Mitchell. "Carl Curtis was reported as not voting on each question. The reason, of course, is that he is busy politicing in Nebraska. He does it every six years — when election time comes around."

"What must be particularly disturbing to Curtis' fans is that six of the eight votes dealt with the money needs of government agencies for health, education, welfare and labor. If he had been there he could have voted against every one of them — as he has done so often in the past — and could have reinforced his claim he holds down the cost of government."

85% Corn Crop Mature; Little Damage By Frost

By The Associated Press

Last week's freezing weather ended the growing season for many garden plants but appears to have caused little or no damage to field crops in Nebraska, government crop observers reported Monday.

Slightly more than 85% of the corn crop was mature by last weekend, according to the weekly crop report of the State - Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Although killing frost occurred over most of Nebraska during the weekend, crops were generally mature or nearly mature and crop damage resulting from the frost will probably be limited to a few late fields, the observers said.

Fall harvesting operations are picking up in most areas of Nebraska, and combining of soybeans and grain sorghum has begun in several sections.

Moisture content varies but most grain is requiring artificial drying before storage. The corn harvest, however, has barely started and most operators will wait for further drying before picking.

Other crop report observations:

The dry bean harvest has passed the halfway mark in the Panhandle, and yield and quality continue good.

Millet and potato harvest continues in the Panhandle, while the sugar beet harvest is expected to begin soon.

Nearly 95% of the winter wheat crop has been seeded. Fall sown grains and legumes have emerged to very good stands in most fields.

Silage cutting operations are nearing completion, and about 70% of the fourth cutting of alfalfa has been harvested.

Pasture and range conditions improved additionally last week and about 80% of the pastures and range is now considered to be in average condition or better.

Producers are beginning to move cattle into feed lots and to pick up livestock for gleaning grain fields following harvest. Conditions continue to be good for most classes of livestock.

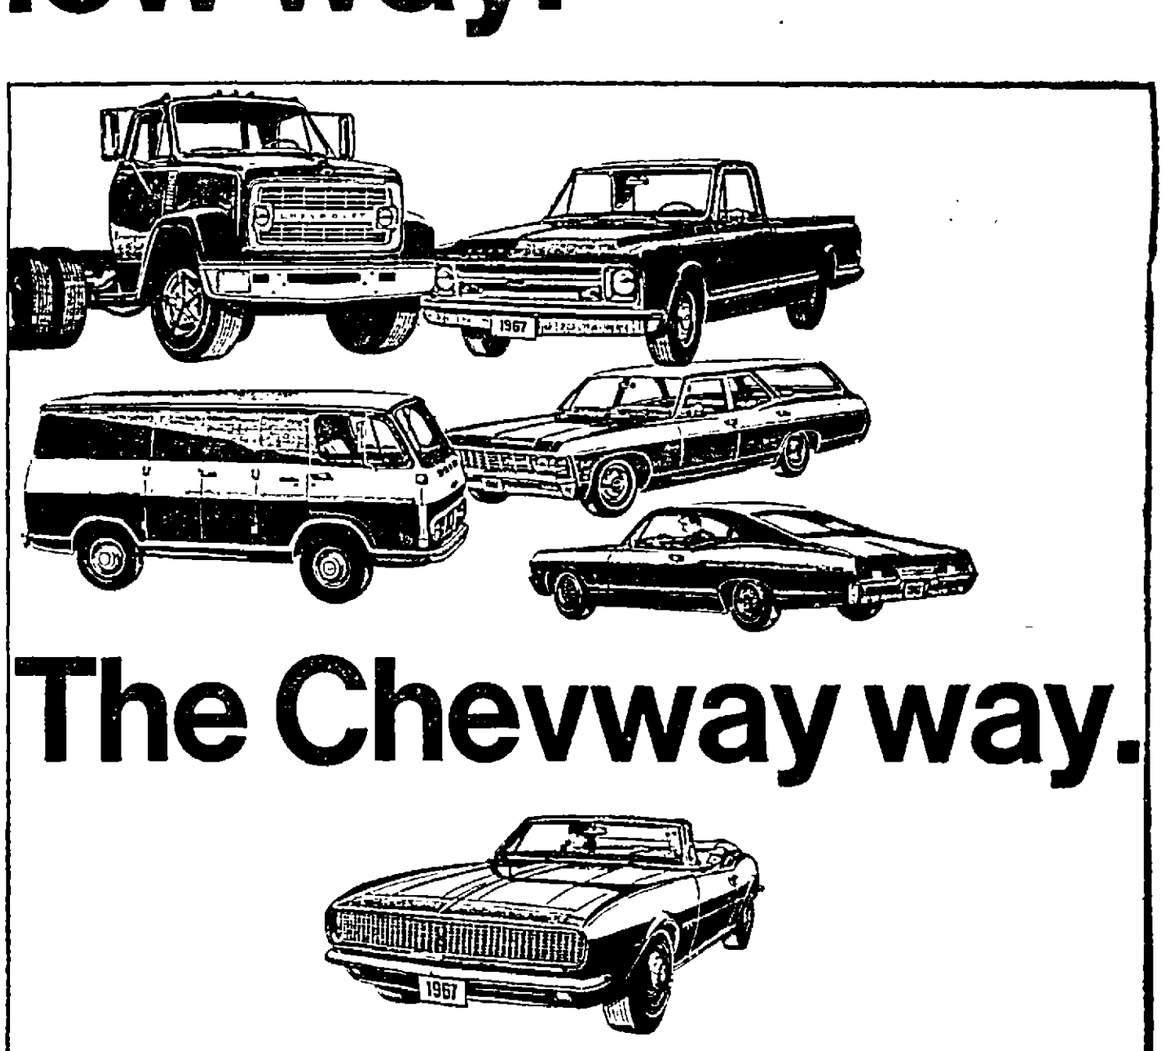

Rainfall throughout Nebraska during the week ending Monday included:

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Millions of people, said Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman in Nebraska over the weekend, are being denied the right to live where they choose. He was speaking particularly of young people but not of any tyrannical force that holds the individual against his will. He was speaking of the economic facts of life that force young people to leave rural areas and seek their futures in the cities of the nation.

But what ever happened to that old idea to the effect that once a country boy or girl had seen the city, there was no returning to the country? It was a farce to begin with. The fact is that the vast majority of those who leave rural America for metropolitan areas do so against their true desires. They leave the areas of their birth only because that area lacks for them an opportunity to obtain a good job and live a rewarding life. Once they leave, there is a long period of adjustment and the longing for the space and informality of the country never disappears in total.

Strong Ties To Break

If you cannot understand this, perhaps you have led too sheltered a life. One needn't have been born on a farm or even in a small town to appreciate life in the more thinly populated regions of the nation. For such an appreciation you need only have been exposed to the open spaces at intervals in your life.

Take your son or daughter on a weekend excursion into the open country and you will see why the jump from farm or rural to city life is a hard one to make. Pull into the farmer's yard and you are greeted by a big dog, perhaps two or three of them. Chickens scamper about and maybe a few ducks are telling of your approach with their loud quacking.

You aren't very often greeted by a dog in the city because the animal must be penned up somewhere. If loose, he not only infringes upon the rights of others, but has his own life in jeopardy from a multitude of causes. There are people who will molest animals, others who will poison them and heavy traffic to threaten them. In the country, the dog is free to roam, to chase rabbits if he likes, to dig all the holes he wants, to lie under the porch or the big cottonwood, to run to the pond for a fresh drink and to be on hand when his master comes around. Since he can bark whenever he pleases, he seldom does so. Again, he is like people in this regard. Try to control or stop his barking and he goes at it with a vengeance.

The dog on the farm is free for something else, too. He is free to run at the side of the youngsters in the family. Out of the yard, across the feed lot, through the corn field and toward the creek scamper boys, girls and dog, or dogs. They have all the room in the world in which to run and play, in which to fill their lungs with clean country air and to stretch their muscles to the extent of their capacity. At the creek, they may catch frogs, fish for bullheads, gather rocks, construct a dam, wade in the cool water or pass the time in any other of a wide variety of ways — all of this within running distance of the house, not an hour's drive away.

Upon their return, they may saddle up an old mare and take turns riding into the hills and rolling land that outline the farmyard in another direction. Along the way, the rabbits scamper in fear, pheasants flush in a natural feeling of security and maybe a coyote stands and watches on a high point near the distant horizon.

While not likely to pass through a stand of bluestem grass, part of the original "gold" of Nebraska, this group of happy children will see plenty of goldenrod, perhaps a wild rose or evening primrose. If at the right time of the year, the day may seem brilliant with the glow of sumac, and meadowlarks are sure to be flitting in all directions.

In the evening hours, their sight extends unbroken to the sunset and the mornings glow with the first beams of early light in the eastern sky. In the midst of such vastness and grandeur comes a healthy respect for the world and its marvels, a kinship with the natural state of our environment and an appreciation of the role of mankind in the cultivation of a way of life. The focal point is the home, as it stands as a mark of hope, a place of total refuge. The nearly constant threat and occasional reality of adversity breeds a spirit of cooperation and understanding between one homestead and another.

Close To Nature

The individual coming from such surroundings is apt to have a peculiar mixture of forces at work within him. There is an urgency of conquest born of necessity, a serenity born of constant hope, an independence born of difficulty and a compatibility born of a nurtured spirit of survival. The rural exodus not only deprives the individual of living where he might choose, but it deprives the nation of individuals whose influence on the scene is greatly needed.

"Go Back! Go Back! This Pace Is Making Us Dizzy."

Coming Week In Congress

Much of the future course of the nation may be decided in Congress this week. Before either the House and Senate or both are measures in the field of secondary education, health and foreign aid. Debate, also, is pending on the $2.5 billion anti-poverty bill in the Senate.

As a part of the decision in these matters, we will have the usual debate over guns or butter. It will be argued that we cannot afford these domestic programs when we are engaged in a costly war in Asia. On foreign aid it will be argued that we should stop trying to take care of the rest of the world.

Just the opposite is true in both cases. The thing we cannot afford is to ignore the nation's shortcomings in the field of education. Nor would we be wise in turning our backs to pressing health needs and the plight of the underprivileged.

The battle on foreign aid is slowly being lost, with funds as requested constantly being cut by Congress. This comes at a time when statesmen around the world give constant warning of the economic and social disasters that are so close to engulfing many nations of the world.

We cannot consider solely our financial situation but must look, too, at the challenges we face. We are too inclined to talk off the top of our head about what we can afford without considering what is demanded of us. What we seek is peace and security and these will not be found in the midst of lost human potential.

It is a week of sober reflection and decision for Congress and thoughtful reaction on the part of the American people. If saved too much this week, we could incur a heavy and costly debt for the future.

It Is Our Fault

The weekend added fourteen fatalities to Nebraska's annual figure. It brought the total highway deaths to 326 for 1965 thus far. And we have three months yet to go.

In 1965 we killed 386 — just 60 more than we have disposed of during three-fourths of 1966. At the present rate we will exceed the total for 1965 and closely approach the total of 1964 when 450 were killed in a record breaking performance. We are paying at the rate of 1⅓ lives per day to drive cars on our highways. And we are injuring greatly more persons, to say nothing of adding up substantial property loss.

When these figures are spread across the totals of 50 states we are losing more people to highway carelessness than were we in a great war. Yet we do nothing about it of consequence.

Let us face a fact. Safety improvements in cars themselves can do little to stop car crashes. Perhaps they can reduce somewhat the number of deaths. But it is still the collisions that cause the trouble. We are driving deadly machines incompetently. Let us accept the major share of the blame, because that is where it belongs.

We can work around the edges of the problem by making demands on car manufacturers. We can do some good by building safer highways, by better intersection warnings and by the elimination of highway deathtraps. We can do all of that and we should. But still the great percent of damage rests with the drivers themselves.

Most impervious to pleas for safety are the drivers themselves. It is useless to fight this deplorable highway record until the people join in with meaningful purpose.

No Self Examination

The Republican party has gone on television with an appeal to the American people.

The appeal is in two parts. The first part is for money. The second part is a call to support the two party principal in the United States.

This move raises questions among the thoughtful citizens. The call for party funds is understandable. All political parties need money. It is better that it comes from the rank and file than from special interests.

But the call in support of a two party nation is questionable. One partyism is only possible in a totalitarian country, which outlaws and severely punishes any but official thinking.

A party as such in the United States, with its free elections and its dependence upon public opinion in its many varieties cannot expect to dominate in free elections if its positions are inimical to the great majority. It is not the duty of the losing party to call for support from people who do not agree with it. Rather it is the duty of the party to engage in self-examination and to adjust its philosophy to current needs.

The appeal says nothing about self examination. In that respect it is unilateral and cannot be expected to succeed.

The Democratic party at the present time is in the driver's seat nationally. But it is not a monolithic party and within itself it stands sharply divided, representing all shades of thinking. It has not killed the Republican party. The greatest damage to Republicanism has come by its position on issues the electorate believes of prime importance and by the type of leadership it has offered. It is a long way from dead. It just needs to acknowledge real public problems and to provide constructive answers for them.

Russians Trying For Viet Peace

WASHINGTON — For the first time in three years in which the State Department has chased down every peace feeler coming out of Hanoi, Moscow, Paris, Algiers or the United Nations, it looks as if something solid is in the works.

Reasons for this optimism are twofold:

1. The Russians are really putting the heat on North Viet Nam for peace. Since they supply MIG fighter planes, antiaircraft guns, and even train North Vietnamese pilots, their influence can be decisive.

2. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg went further than the United States has gone before in proposing peace terms. Buried in his speech where most newsmen missed it is the acceptance of the Viet Cong in a coalition government for South Viet Nam.

This is exactly what Sen. Bobby Kennedy suggested last Feb. 19, at which time Vice President Humphrey compared his proposal to putting "a fox in the chicken coop or an arsonist in a fire department." Premier Ky in Saigon, who doesn't even want to sit down with the Viet Cong for peace talks, also hit the ceiling.

However, Goldberg tucked into the body of his U.N. speech this significant statement: "We do not ask of North Viet Nam an unconditional surrender of anything that belongs to it. Nor do we seek to exclude any segment of the South Vietnamese people from peaceful participation in their country's future."

Since the Viet Cong is a segment of the South Vietnamese people, this means a coalition government, and this fact has been explained to the Russians, who in turn have transmitted the information to Hanoi.

It's significant that Foreign Minister Gromyko's first U.N. speech, blasting Goldberg's peace proposals, was written in Moscow before he departed and before Goldberg's speech was delivered. Since then, in private talks with Secretary Rusk and Goldberg, Gromyko has appeared highly interested and quite conciliatory. This is why the President took the unusual step of inviting the Soviet foreign minister to dinner.

Once before, in February, 1965, the Russians made a hard move for peace. This was when Premier Kosygin went to Peking on Feb. 4, then to Hanoi, suggesting peace moves in both capitals. But on Feb. 7, just after Kosygin arrived in Hanoi, President Johnson ordered the first bombing of North Viet Nam, thus cutting the ground out from under Kosygin's diplomacy.

The Russians have been irked at Johnson ever since, and Gromyko has flatly refused to get involved in new peace overtures—up until the past two weeks.

Experts Believe Romney Too Late

LANSING, Mich. — You can hear in this capital of the motor state the stirring of great events to come. Preparation for the presidential campaign of Gov. George Romney has no official sanction from the governor, himself, who is spending most of his time on the stump aiming to roll up a whopping majority in re-election to a third term.

But in the swelling files of the names of tried-and-true friends across the country and in the plans to be unveiled shortly after Nov. 8 the launching is being readied. Headquarters will be opened in Washington, New York and Detroit. Under the quiet guidance of Robert John (Jack) McIntosh, a former Michigan congressman, the nucleus of both a political and a non-political — the independent Romney-for-President clubs —attack is shaping up.

The professional politicians in the party around the country say it's too late. Romney has waited too long, and Richard M. Nixon is even now going from one congressional district to another nailing down the delegates who will pick him as Republican nominee in 1968. Only by a miracle, say the pros, could Romney capture his party's prize.

Romney is, however, a rugged believer in miracles. And in a sense his own political career, beginning with his first election as governor in 1962 and his re-election two years ago by a majority of 386,000 while voters rolled up a lead of 1,100,000 for Lyndon Johnson, is proof of the miraculous.

That an industrialist preaching a lofty idealism on the rights of the individual could win in a state with the most aggressive trade union in America the United Auto Workers, is the miracle. Romney's Democratic opponent this time, Zoltan A. Ferency, a comparative unknown who has never held elective office, has the all-out backing of the unions. But Romney made the claim before a jeering audience of the statewide AFL-CIO Political Action Committee (COPE) that his polls show 82 percent of unionists approve his handling of the governor's office.

For a proper launching Romney must win with a majority of 400,000 or more. Preferably he must pull in with him Robert P. Griffin, who is running for the seat to which he was appointed by Romney on the death of the Democrat, 72-year-old Pat McNamara. In almost every talk he makes the governor plugs Griffin, who is little known around the state.

How can Romney hope to get the Republican nomination when most of the state and county chairmen and the delegates to the convention are conservatives regarding Romney as a defector for withholding endorsement of Barry Goldwater two years ago?

LA VERNA HASSLER

Patchwork Prairie Country

I gathered a large bouquet of field flowers Saturday afternoon as I ambled across the farm and arranged them in a large container. I combined the loveliness of Queen Anne's lace with goldenrod and black-eyed Susan. It made a bountiful spot of beauty on the table . . . as lush and lovely as any bouquet picked from a summer garden.

Wild blossoms burgeon along every roadside so that anyone can afford to be lavishly extravagant with this seasonal beauty. The milkweed pods have burst open, too, and add a delicate lace filigree to the fences.

Nebraska has a quieter beauty now, a subtle beauty that must be sought out and looked for . . . one that may be hidden in the long late light of the setting sun. It may be the gray silhouette of an owl waiting for the night creatures to stir before silently slipping into the air. It may be the first crimson leaf on a maple tree spinning at the top of its spreading branches or the quick splash of a silver fish as it dives deeper into a stream. It may be the dragonfly darting with gosamer wings above a quiet pond or low-hung smoky haze fringing the horizon. It may also be a blue heron striding sedately at the edge of a marsh or bittersweet ripening in the thicket.

Cool, cloudy days put me in the mood for sewing or baking. There is something about a warm oven and the aroma of yeast rolls or bread baking in the oven that adds a note of warmth and satisfaction to a chill, gloomy looking day. A new moment of anticipation can be had likewise on a dull day when a gay piece of print is spread on the table ready for cutting. The delicate rustle of pattern pieces and needles clicking against a thimble are music to my ears . . . a soothing kind of melody that brings a quiet mood of joy and well being. When the day is dark, I gladly let the walls close in around me and devise my own methods of happiness. I have always found comfort in such days and welcome the respite from other daily chores.

How green the fields of wheat look now since the rains have nurtured their tiny rootlets. The cool days have helped the new plants to grow vigorously.

Such lush plants prove to be quite a temptation for one of our cows. Maybe she is one of those critters that just likes to poke her head through the fence to investigate the grass on the other side of the fence. She stands in a green pasture with grass everywhere about her, yet she wiggles her head between the wires and with her red tongue she licks out in a wide sweep as she samples the new wheat.

I know cows well enough to know that should she be in the wheat field, she would be stretching her neck through the fence to nibble the grass in the pasture.

The flutter of leaves across the lawn has begun . . . enough of a flutter to let me know raking them will soon become a semi-weekly chore. There are times when I feel very optimistic and do not rake them, at all. That is when I think the wind direction will shift from the south to the north and blow them all back out of the yard again. The odds are often against me but I do find it offers a new twist to an otherwise dull task.

Lincoln, Neb.

In the Sept. 26 Star, an article appeared reporting the address by Dr. P. A. Zimmerman at the Fifth Anniversary Service of Lincoln Lutheran Junior High, held on September 25 at 3:00 p.m. The headline of the article was: "Educator Says Schools Teach Revolt, Excess." The article stated: ". . . revolt, excess and promiscuous living are subjects taught in our modern universities, according to Dr. Zimmerman."

For the record, the taped version of the address testifies that the phrases, "schools teach" and "are subjects taught," were never said. Instead, Dr. Zimmerman did say "college youth are showing symptoms of revolts, drug addiction, promiscuous living, of all kinds of excesses." He furthermore places the responsibility of this situation on society (not on schools per se) in the phrase, "they strike back at society in this way . . . saying their parents and the older generation have failed . . . they have given up Christian traditions."

The article also said there were 100 in attendance. There were over 300 persons in attendance.

Justice?

Lincoln, Neb.

Until September 29, I like most Americans felt that justice was always served in our courts. But while appearing in court on a traffic charge, I concluded that justice too often is only a word.

On my way home, I entered an intersection with the green light. A vehicle coming from my right ran the red light and would have collided with me if I had not stepped on the accelerator. Just then, the car in front of me decided to stop. I applied my brakes immediately, but skidded into the rear of the car. I was awarded a ticket for negligent driving.

I pleaded innocent to that charge and was directed to appear in court September 29 for trial. At the trial, after the city attorney and my attorney had questioned me, the judge questioned me to be sure he had all the facts straight. He stopped questioning me before he had most of the facts correct. Then he passed sentence, finding me guilty, and fining me $10 and costs.

The judge said that while a person has a right to try to avoid an accident, that right does not include the right to endanger others. I couldn't agree more. However, when the choice is between being hit broadside, for certain, by a speeding car and risking injury, or avoiding that car and risking having the car in front slam on his brakes, I'll risk the latter.

According to my attorney, if I had not glanced into the rear-view mirror before the collision, I would probably have been found innocent.

Isn't our system of justice great!

U.S. Day

Fremont, Neb.

Governor Morrison has appointed a state chairman to serve the United Nations Committee for 1966. This chairman has announced he has notified mayors and city managers in the state, requesting their selections for United Nations Day chairmen for their respective communities.

As October 23 is United States Day, it is my hope that Governor Morrison will appoint a chairman for this, and follow through with city officials. Many officials have responded to requests for proclamations for this special day, asking that the flag be shown especially that day and that all renew their pledge of allegiance to it.

Every citizen should share in this endeavor to preserve a nation of free men.

Wage Protest

Lincoln, Neb.

According to a news story last week, a $20 raise was to be given ALL State Hospital aides and nurses. Now another story says that aides and nurses who have worked five year or longer will not receive the raise. Why?

Who is more important to the hospital, an aide or nurse who has worked year after year at low Nebraska wages and who cares whether the patients receive decent care, or the college student who works just long enough to finance his education, then goes on to a better job?

Who cares more for and really has the patients' interest at heart than the old-time employes. The old-time employes are the backbone of this hospital or any other hospital. We have worked hard for the pay we get and are just as entitled, or more so, to this raise as the ones who have worked less than five years.

Whoever figured out who should get the raises should come to the hospital and work for three months at our wages. Maybe then we would get some action and decent wages. What would the hospital do if we did as the nurses in California did? It worked for them — why not for us?

Please do not print my name. Even though the pay is poor, I can't afford to be fired.

Here in Nebraska, taxes are at an all-time high, with every evidence they will go higher.

Although aware of this, big-hearted Phil Sorensen is promising senior citizens property tax relief if he is elected. And to whose shoulders will he shift those taxes? He doesn't say.

Let us never forget that the politician professing this type of concern and compassion for oldsters is the enemy of the tax-ridden wage earners who must take up the slack.

Russia Promises Support, Aid For North Viet Nam

Moscow (AP) — The Soviet Union signed new aid agreements with North Viet Nam Monday and pledged continued support for the communist cause in the Vietnamese war.

The announcement came a day after the Soviet press confirmed that Russian soldiers have trained troops in North Viet Nam to fire Soviet-made anti-aircraft rockets at American planes.

"The Soviet Union and other socialist (communist) countries will not leave the Vietnamese people in trouble," said Vladimir N. Novikov, the Soviet deputy premier who signed the new aid agreements. "The U.S.S.R. will continue to render necessary help and support to the Vietnamese people, taking into account the needs arising in connection with the new state of the war."

The announcement said a North Vietnamese economic delegation headed by Hanoi's Le Thanh Nghi had agreed after 10 days of talks on new free aid, additional credits, trade items for 1967 and unspecified "other documents."

The announcement did not refer directly to weapons. In the past such Soviet economic aid as road-building equipment has been described as contributing to North Viet Nam's defense potential.

Both weapons and other supplies have been given by Moscow to Hanoi, which has almost no ability to pay for the things it depends upon other Communist countries to supply. The announcement spoke of aid free of charge in addition to credits.

Informed sources here said Monday there have been continuing cases of Chinese delays of Soviet weapons passing through to Hanoi. The North Vietnamese government has had to intercede in Peking to keep supplies flowing, the sources said.

China has angrily denied such reports in the past.

Partly in answer to Chinese criticism of its help to Hanoi, the Soviet Communist Party was reported to have said it sent more than $555.5 million worth of aid to North Viet Nam last year.

Official figures have never been disclosed.

The Soviet Union and East European countries have offered volunteers to fight in Viet Nam if Hanoi asks for them, but there has been no indication that a request is expected.

Brogden Seeks Council Help On Low-Cost Units

City-county planning director Douglas Brogden told members of the group work section of the Lincoln Community Council Monday that he would have to go to their group for advice concerning placement of low-cost housing units.

Brogden said he did not know whether it would be best to concentrate low-cost housing units in one area or spread them individually throughout a city.

"I have heard of both kinds being successful," he told the Community Council organization as he outlined the work of the planning department and answered questions relating to city planning and social problems.

Islands of one level of person within a city, however, should not be developed, he added.

Brogden told the representatives of group-oriented community agencies that a well-balanced planning department needs more than just physical planners, indicating that ideas from social workers should be contributed and sought in city planning.

Brogden also pointed out that the planning department is of the opinion the city of Lincoln could expand to the estimated 250,000 persons by 1985 within the guidelines suggested: east to 84th St., south to 1 mile south of Old Cheney Rd., west to Burlington Ave. and north to the interstate highway.

The group work section also was informed that a planning department's detailed analysis of neighborhood units should be completed soon.

Lincoln Author To Keynote Concrete Masonry Meeting

H. B. Rames of Lincoln, manager of sales development for Dorsey Laboratories, will keynote the annual regional convention of the National Concrete Masonry Association here Tuesday.

Owners, officers and sales personnel of masonary companies from Nebraska, Iowa, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wyoming are attending the two-day meeting, according to Carl Engstrom of Lincoln.

Peter Muth of Stanton, Calif., opened the convention Monday with comments about the future of the masonry association and business.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Rising Property Taxes Upset Many Retirement Budgets

By ROBERT PETERSON

One of the problems facing older people who own homes is the curse of rising property taxes. When most people retire they embark on a budget built around an income which is largely fixed and inflexible. Every dollar is allocated, including a specific amount for taxes.

When property taxes rise, the retiree's financial plan is knocked out of balance and he must steal from his food or clothing budget to make ends meet.

Here's a letter from a man who writes, "I wonder if the retired middle class doesn't need help as much as some of those on welfare? I'm one who has worked all his life—paying into social security, never collecting unemployment, buying a home, paying taxes, contributing donations, raising and educating a family and saving as much as possible.

"But despite all this I'm not comfortably fixed in retirement — largely because property taxes keep going up and take such an increasingly big bite out of my fixed retirement income. So the pleasures of retirement are fading and it becomes a day-to-day existence of cutting corners.

"Why shouldn't there be a law putting a freeze on property taxes when a man retires with average assets—perhaps an income of under $4,000 a year and total holdings of less than $20,000? If such a man could be assured his taxes would remain fixed for the rest of his life he could face his remaining years with a much keener sense of security."

There may be real merit in this idea. Since most retired people are dependent on fixed incomes, there would seem to be justification for pegging their taxes permanently at the level they were paying at the time of retirement.

Of course there are some who say that if older people can't afford the tax tariff, they should sell and move elsewhere. But this is a cold and unsympathetic attitude which fails to consider that longtime taxpayers have a real claim to their properties.

Their tax payments over the years have contributed to the community's development and society should help them live out their years without imposing additional tax burdens.

It's true, of course, that a few states give tax concessions to older people. New Jersey, for instance, gives older property owners an $800 exemption, and two communities in Rhode Island give them $1,000 exemptions.

But as seen from these examples, the exemptions are not very generous and do not cut very many dollars off the tax tab.

A fact that rankles many elders is that fully half the tax tab in most communities is earmarked for public schools. Since elders haven't had children in school for decades it bothers them that such a sizable chunk of their tax bill must go to educate the children of younger people.

Many have suggested with some logic that taxes should be partially based on the number of children one has in public schools. This would emphasize to parents that children cost money and that the more children one chooses to bring into the world, the higher the property taxes one should be prepared to pay.

There are arguments pro and con. But someday society will likely agree that older property owners with average incomes should be exempt from the upward curve of taxation.

If you would like a booklet "Tips on Stretching Retirement Income" write to Robert Peterson, "Life Begins at Forty," c/o The Lincoln Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10c to cover handling costs.

Court Hears School Contract Arguments

Opposing attorneys differed in oral argument Monday before the State Supreme Court on the contract of a former Ralston School District (54) superintendent.

Omaha attorney Clayton Shrout urged the high bench to reverse the decision of Douglas County District Judge Rudolph Tesar awarding $8,694 in back pay to Frank L. Lee.

The school district contends Lee, who was hired in 1961 as superintendent, did not fulfill contract obligations. Shrout said he served 300 days with the U.S. Naval Reserve, which took thim away from school duties.

Shrout told the seven-judge tribunal the naval duty was "incompatible" with the contract Lee signed.

Lee's attorney, Herbert Story of Omaha, maintained the district agreed to buy up the contract and make installment payments on the remaining sum due on the contract.

He said the lower court order should be sustained and the school district made to pay Lee the sum from the contract.

Funds' Payout Highest

New York — Some 3.5 million mutual-fund shareholders shared a 1965 dividend payout of $797,336,000, the highest ever in the 42-year history of mutual funds. In 1964 the figure was $694,601,000, the previous record.

4-Point Program Proposed To Cut Motorcycle Mishaps

By Associated Press

The chief of the State Accident Records Bureau, Tom Ryan, recommended Monday that the 1967 Legislature adopt a four-point program to reduce the rising number of motorcycle mishaps.

Ryan said the program should include licensure of motorcyclists and periodic safety inspections of motorcycles.

Cyclists now are only required to have a regular drivers license, and there are no state standards for motorcycles.

In addition, he said cyclists should be required to wear state-approved helmets and leg roll bars should be mandatory equipment on all motorcycles.

"It's time we recognize that the motorcycle is not a fad," said Ryan. "It has become an integral part of our transportation system and is obviously here to stay. Motorists and motorcyclists have to learn to live together on the road."

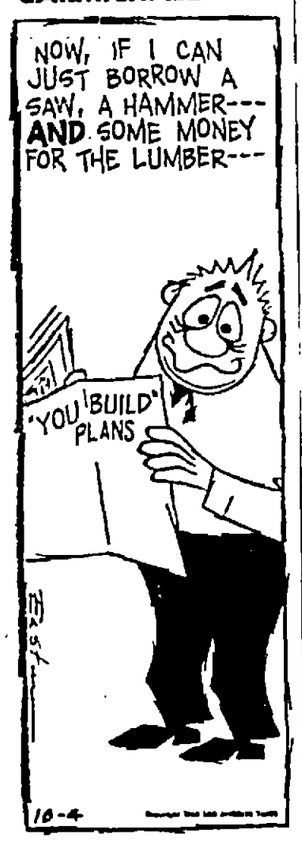

Ryan said the number of accidents involving motorcycles has more than quadrupled in Nebraska since 1963.

There were 96 motorcycle mishaps killing three cyclists during the first eight months of 1963, but the same period this year produced 389 motorcycle accidents which killed 13, he said.

The bureau study showed that 70% of the lacerations and fractures suffered by cyclists in the accidents were leg or head injuries.

The Legislative Council's Traffic Study Committee has authorized an examination of British motorcycle laws to determine if such legislation should be adopted in Nebraska.

Prayer For Peace Day Proclaimed

Tuesday was proclaimed "Prayer for an Honorable Peace Day" in Nebraska by Gov. Frank Morrison Monday.

The governer said this coincides with Pope Paul's special service of supplication in St. Peter's Basilica in Rome.

Gov. Morrison urged Nebraskans to set aside 30 minutes Tuesday for a prayer for peace.

Senate Unit OKs Power Tie Money

The Senate Appropriations Committee Monday approved a $500,000 allocation to begin planning and engineering work on a huge federal transmission line between Ft. Thompson, S.D., and Grand Island, Gov. Frank Morrison reported.

Nebraska power officials have looked to the 345-kilovolt, multi-million dollar line as a partial solution to the state's power blackout problems.

The governor said the measure will now go to the Senate-House conference committee for inclusion in the public works appropriations bill.

"I don't foresee any problems in getting the appropriation now," said Gov. Morrison.

HHH Will Fly To Lincoln On Way To Test

Vice President Hubert Humphrey will fly to Lincoln Tuesday morning en route to the state cornpicking contest east of Utica.

Humphrey is scheduled to land at Municipal Airport at 9:25 a.m., then travel to Utica by motorcade.

Gov. Frank Morrison, Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen, Rep. Clair Callan and Democratic National Committeeman Marvin Werve will accompany the vice president.

Humphrey's speech at the Bill Tomes farm east of Utica on Highway 34 is scheduled for about 10:30 a.m.

Immediately following his address, he will return to Lincoln by car and fly to Philadelphia for other appearances.

New Part Of I80 To Be Open For Picking Contest

The State Roads Department reported Monday the westbound lane of Interstate 80 from Milford to York will be opened to daylight traffic Tuesday for the Nebraska Cornpicking Contest at Utica.

The department said the contest will be held about 3½ miles east of Utica. It suggested traffic leave the Interstate at the Beaver Crossing interchange and travel six miles north on a county road.

The department also said there are exits at the Utica and Goehner interchanges.

The eastbound lane of the Interstate from York is open to traffic at all times, the department added.

Bar Panels Urge Program Insuring Legal Aid

By Associated Press

Two committees of the Nebraska State Bar Association proposed legislation and programs Monday to insure that all Nebraskans, regardless of the size of their pay checks, receive adequate legal aid.

The special committee on the availability of legal services said there is "a nagging realization" in Nebraska that many poor persons do not receive top-notch legal assistance.

The committee said there "remains a considerable segment of our indigent population who either is not aware of important rights and obligations of its members or receives less adequate, less inspired, or less persistent representation than the more affluent segment."

Corporation

It recommended that the state association form a nonprofit corporation to provide legal assistance to indigents in all areas of the stae except those covered by community programs, like that in Omaha.

The committee said such a statewide program, patterned after the North Dakota system, would require the hiring of attorneys on a fulltime basis to provide the needed services, with private practitioners helping on a voluntary basis.

The committee conceded that the extent of Nebraska's need for further legal assistance to the poor is not known but the most apparent need has been in the larger population centers.

Determine Status

The association's committee on crime and delinquency prevention recommended that a procedure be established to determine the financial status of defendant before preliminary hearings or filing of complaints.

The committee said such a determination should be made "at a preliminary stage of the proceedings, or at the time an accused asserts his indigency" to insure that all will receive legal aid at the earliest possible time.

The committe also recommended that county boards be authorized to appoint initial public defenders if they approve a public defender system.

Without such authority, public defender systems could not be established until elections were held, delaying operation of programs in some counties by as long as four years, the study group noted.

Recommendations

Those recommendations and reports from 22 other committees will be reviewed at the association's 67th annual meting in Omaha Oct. 13-14.

Other recommendations from committees include:

—Adoption of a state law requiring that all persons subject to possible commitment to a mental institution be represented by counsel.

—Higher salaries for justices and judges from the State Supreme Court to county court level.

—Establishment of a procedure under which Kearney Boys Training School inmates who commit crimes would be transferred to the penal complex only after normal court trials. Kearney inmates can now be transferred to the complex with court hearings.

—Adoption of a procedure permitting court appointment of commissions to determine whether defendants are mentally competent to stand trial.

Death Toll Rises In Indian Riots

Bombay, India, (AP) — The death toll in last Friday's Hindu-Moslem religious rioting in Washim, 400 miles north east of here, rose Monday to 14 as three persons injured in police firing died in hospitals.

Police reported 78 persons were arrested after the riots, in which 58 were injured.

ADA Gives Hruska, Curtis 'Liberal Quotient' Of Zero

Washington (AP)—Americans for Democratic Action says 24 Democratic congressmen have given 100% support to liberal measures so far this session.

Among those receiving the ADA's 100 per cent "liberal quotients" were Sens. Joseph S. Clark, Penn.; Edward M. Kennedy, Mass.; Robert F. Kennedy, N.Y., and Gaylord Nelson, Wis.

ADA defines liberal quotient as "a measure of the liberalism of a member of Congress determined by the percentage of his votes cast, paired or announced in support of liberal policy, measured against the number of votes counted".

Rep. Clair Callan, Nebraska's only Democratic congressman, had a rating of 58%. Rep. Glenn Cunningham was rated 17% by the ADA and Rep. Dave Martin zero.

ADA, which is not affiliated with either party, generally backs policies of recent Democratic administrations, beginning with the Roosevelt New Deal. It supported such measures this year as minimum wage improvements, an end to discrimination in housing, unemployment compensation reforms and rent supplement funding.

Resources Division To Ask Staff, Bigger Map Program

The Division of Nebraska Resources will ask the 1967 Legislature for funds to establish a permanent planning staff and an expanded state mapping program.

Division Chief David Osterhout said Monday the planning staff could gather data for use by state departments and agencies in developing long-range plans.

He said the Legislature will be asked to appropriate $100,000 to finance the mapping program during the 1967-69 biennium.

A coordinated mapping effort would in the long run reduce the need for individual agencies to produce their own maps, he said.

Offutt Disease Reports Boost State Statistics

In 1966 Offutt Air Force Base, near Omaha, began reporting to the Communicable Diseases Division of the State Health Department, a spokesman for the division said. Previously their only source of information had been the State Laboratory.

Because of this the August Morbidity Report showed a tremendous increase in the incidence of streptococcal infections over 1964 and 1965. Sixty cases of the infection were reported to August in 1964, 32 in 1965, and 1173 in 1966.

HEMORRHOIDS?

New formula works 5 ways for faster, longer-lasting relief!

In clinical tests of new M.P.O.—an advanced treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—doctors reported "results were good to excellent" for 5 out of every 6 patients! M.P.O. works five ways for faster, longer-lasting relief:

1. Helps ease pain faster. You get more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients, including Benzocaine, than in the preparation you may now be using.
2. Helps shrink swollen tissues. M.P.O. quickly releases the proven vaso-constrictor, Ephedrine Sulfate, to reduce swelling.
3. Relieves embarrassing itch. M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption, faster relief.
4. Gives longer relief. A more temperature-stable base holds medication in place, prolongs relief-bringing action.
5. Fights danger of infection. Proven germ-killer Hexachlorophene combats bacteria.

'Sonny' Charged In Gangland Murder

Franzese, 46, surrendered to Dist. Atty. Nat Hentel's detectives in the 1964 slaying of Ernest (The Hawk) Rupolo, a hired killer for the mob. Rupolo was stabbed, shot, bound, weighted with cinder blocks and thrown into Jamaica Bay.

Franzese has been described as a Long Island lieutenant in the old Joe Profaci Cosa Nostra family. He is facing federal bank robbery charges, and during the day this case was postponed in Brooklyn federal court.

Franzese was held without bail on the homicide charge. Hentel declined to say whether the arrest was an outgrowth of the 11-day-old grand jury inquiry.

Meanwhile, five more underworld chieftains refused to testify before the Queens jury. They were among 13 seized Sept. 22 at a "Little Apalachain" luncheon at La Stella Restaurant on Queens Boulevard.

Also on hand by order of the grand jury were seven others who had similarly refused to answer questions last week. All 12 were subpoenaed anew for Oct. 10.

One who appeared last week and was summoned back Monday was Santo Trafficante, described in Senate testimony as Cosa Nostra boss for Florida. His lawyer, Frank Rangano, complained that Trafficante had returned from Florida, and added:

"This is utterly ridiculous and is adding insult to injury and is evidence of the fact that these hearings are politically motivated and inspired."

HUAC Initiates Riot Inquiry

Washington (UPI) — The House Un-American Activities Committee announced Monday a preliminary investigation to determine whether subversives were responsible for recent rioting in U.S. cities.

The staff was directed "to undertake a preliminary inquiry into organized rioting, burning, looting and other tragic acts of violence." Willis said it would be "several months" before the study would be completed and a report made to the full committee.

Willis insisted that the inquiry would be confined strictly to rioting and would not turn out to be an investigation of the civil rights movement itself.

GOP Urged To Seek Halt To Violence

Washington (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Monday the Republican Party should take "the strongest possible position" to deal with crime and rioting in American cities.

"I think the public is rightfully very angry," Eisenhower said.

And Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss said GOP pollsters report 58% of the voters now rank civil rights and associated problems as a major concern in campaign. Four months ago, he said, the figure was 44%.

After a summer of sporadic violence in American cities, Eisenhower spoke of rioting he said was "engendered for no purpose but to hurt the rest of us."

He said Republicans should advocate steps to prevent crime and violence "and repress it sternly" when it occurs.

Senate Republican leader Everett M.Dirksen of Illinois said racial violence is creating emotions which threaten to set back civil rights advances gained under Republican leadership.

Dirksen, key man in blocking Senate action on President Johnson's open-housing civil rights bill, accused Democrats of failure to provide leadership needed to preserve past advances in civil rights.

"Is there going to be some real honest-to-goodness leadership?" Dirksen demanded.

Goldwater serves on the Republican Coordinating Committee, but he was not at Monday's session.

The committee issued a statement declaring Republicans would take action to deal with "mounting outbreaks of crime, violence and mob madness."

"In this moral crisis, Americans are looking for leadership, inspiration and example," the committee said. It said Johnson's administration has "accomplished nothing of substance to date to promote public safety."

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said many Democratic congressional candidates do not want the President to come to their districts. He did not name candidates.

Centers To Evaluate 'Head Start'

Washington (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity has signed a $1,479,796 contract with the Institute for Educational Development to establish 10 Head Start regional evaluation and research centers, it was announced Monday.

Sargent Shriver, OEO director, said the centers will be based in 10 universities operating under sub-contracts with the institute. A center at Lawrence, Kan., will serve the Kansas-Nebraska area, along with other Midwestern states.

Staffs of qualified research scientists in these universities will evaluate operating Head Start programs and conduct research into early childhood development.

Supreme Court Begins Session

Washington (AP) — The Supreme Court began its new year Monday with a 17-minute ceremonious session. The nine justices then adjourned for a week-long series of secret conferences.

The 176th year of the court began with the black-robed justices entering through parted, long maroon drapes.

No decisions were announced but 53 lawyers were admitted to practice before the high court.

Student-Troop Clash Bloody

Jakarta (AP)—Combat troops, cracking down with full force for the first time on student demonstrators, bayoneted and clubbed scores of shouting, defiant Indonesian youths who tried to storm President Sukarno's palace Monday.

The bloody clash between the troops and students appeared to represent a new and possibly dangerous shift in volatile Indonesian politics.

Until Monday, the students had carefully maintained close ties with the army even though some youths were shot and killed by troops in demonstrations some time ago outside Jakarta.

Many Segments

In the previous clashes, the students fought only certain segments of the army. Monday, however, they clashed with palace guards, mobile brigades, military police and regular troops.

The combat troops, in jungle camouflage, repeatedly repulsed the mob of 5,000 which shouted "dogs!" at the soldiers and hurled stones. The troops shoved ammunition clips in their rifles, but they did not fire.

At least eight students were bayoneted, and scores were hammered to the ground with clubs as they broke through a cordon of troops and raced toward the palace, shouting that Sukarno was a communist leader and should be brought to trial.

Sukarno was out of the city.

Run Through

Troops chased one youth back and forth until he was run through from behind with a bayonet. He collapsed with blood gushing from his mouth and back. "Help me! Help me!" he cried.

A girl, her blouse ripped, stumbled and fell as she fled from the bayonets. She was kicked in the back, jerked to her feet and tossed toward the screaming students.

The demonstrations coincided with the third day of the trial of former Foreign Minister Subandrio, who is accused of being involved in the communist coup attempt and of misuse of $1 million of public funds. Subandrio testified before a military tribunal that he had heard communist plans of the coup but did not tell Sukarno because he thought the president knew of it.

U.S.-Soviet Air Link Talks On Again

Washington (AP)—The United States and Russia have agreed to resume immediately talks on an air transport agreement with the prospect of opening air service late next spring between New York and Moscow.

The State Department announced the agreement to get the long-stalled negotiations moving again.

A department spokesman said the action gives "positive meaning to our frequent statements that we seek areas of agreement with the Soviet Union in spite of differences arising out of the Vietnamese conflict."

The air accord was substantially negotiated in the summer of 1961 but was suspended in late August of that year because of a crisis over Berlin.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer, said that next week Pan American Airways, the U.S. carrier on the New York-Moscow route, will send a small group of experts to the Soviet capital to discuss commercial questions with representatives of the Russian airline, Aeroflot.

Aircraft safety, navigation, and air traffic control procedures and communications, will be discussed by civil aviation authorities of the two governments.

Senate Votes Not To Move Job Corps

Washington (UPI) — The war on poverty won an initial legislative skirmish Monday when the Senate refused to transfer the Job Corps from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) to the Labor Department.

By a 38-to-27 vote the Senate rejected a transfer amendment sponsored by Republican Sens. George Murphy, Calif., and Paul J. Fannin, Ariz. It was the first test vote on the $2.5 billion anti-poverty bill.

The test vote suggested that critics of the poverty program will have tough sledding in attempts to remove programs from OEO, Sargent Shriver's anti-poverty agency.

Still to be tested however, was the $2.5 billion price tag on the Senate bill, which is $750 million above President Johnson's budget and above the House-approved version by the same sum.

FORMER

The chancel of Christ Methodist Church was decorated by lighted yellow candles and an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums for the wedding of Miss Lynne Anne Morian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rustermier, and Melvin G. Grasz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Grasz, on Saturday evening, Oct. 1.

Long-skirted Empire frocks of avocado green satin were chosen for Mrs. Ron Hermone of Tecumseh, the matron of honor; Mrs. James Walker, the bridesmatron; and Miss Constance Hubert, the bridesmaid.

Wendell Grasz of Minneapolis served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Michael Morian of Waterton, Colo., brother of the bride; Robert Weber and Tom Elder.

The bride's gown of white silk organza over taffeta was trimmed with appliques of re-embroidered lace. The applique motif framed the portrait neckline of the long-sleeved bodice, and the front of the bouffant skirt, which continued into an aisle-wide train, was patterned with the lace and organza-petaled roses. Her illusion veil was held to the head by two fabric roses, and she carried a modern arrangement of white Fuji chrysanthemums and yellow sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Grasz, both graduates of the University of Nebraska, will live at 2437 A. The bride is past president of Tau Rho, national broadcasting honorary. Mr. Grasz is assistant buyer at the University of Nebraska.

THERE'S
talk of guests--and this and that around town

A few days ago we mentioned that there were to be guests arriving from California — Judge and Mrs. Lloyd Nix — who will be here for the Oct. 14 game weekend. But this morning we have news of other guests whose arrival is a little more on the immediate side — And of another guest who be making her entrance in Lincoln early in November —

• • •

In town for a brief stay are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinsey and their children, Newman, David and Jean, who have arrived from Colorado Springs. The Kinsey fivesome will linger just about long enough to say 'hello' and 'goodbye' to Mr. Kinsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey, and also to some of their old friends before taking off for Baltimore, Md.

We are sure you will be interested in knowing that Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey and their children will be making their home in Baltimore where Mr. Kinsey has been made zone manager for Sperry-Hutchinson.

Our November guest will be Mrs. William McKendree Craig of Rochester, Minn. widow of the late Dr. Craig who served as chief of the neuro-surgery staff at the Mayo Clinic.

Mrs. Craig will spend two or three weeks as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Russell.

• • •

On Saturday evening, for instance, the members of the Holiday Club will be out and about. We hear that the dinner dance will have an autumn motif, and that the dining and dancing will take place at the Lincoln Country Club.

The committee in charge of the party details includes Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henrion, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Waldon Howey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Lau, Judge and Mrs. Hale McCown and Dr. and Mrs. N. Richard Miller.

Then comes Sunday — more guests, and a brunch.

The guests include a group of art devotees and gallery patrons from St. Joseph, Mo., who are doing a weekend tour — Saturday they will be in Omaha and the Joslyn Museum.

But on Sunday their tour objective is the Sheldon Gallery in Lincoln. On hand to greet the visitors and to serve as hosts and hostesses at brunch at the Sheldon Gallery will be the members of the board of the Nebraska Art Association.

Honored at a series of farewell courtesies during the past few weeks have been Dr. and Mrs. Duane E. Loewenstein who will leave Lincoln Saturday for Erzurum, Turkey, where Dr. Loewenstein will join the agriculture extension faculty at Ataturk University.

Dr. and Mrs. Loewenstein who will be in Turkey for two years, will be accompanied by their daughter, Delaine, and son, Dennis.

In courtesy to Mrs. Loewenstein, a neighborhood coffee will be held Tuesday morning, when Mrs. Julius Astor will be hostess at her home.

Included among recent courtesies was a family dinner at East Hills Club for which Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Loewenstein of Bruning, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Loewenstein of Walnut, Iowa, were hosts and hostesses.

Miss Delaine Loewenstein was the honoree last Saturday evening at a surprise party given by a group of her Southeast High classmates. Host and hostess for the party were Bruce Wilson and Miss Sally Christensen.

• • •

The Backstage Club of the Community Playhouse has plans for Saturday evening, Oct. 8. The affair, a combination business meeting and informal party, will be held at the Saddle Club headquarters. If you don't know your way around we'll tell you that the Saddle Club is located one-half block south of Lee's restaurant on Van Dorn.

The short business meeting will involve the election of officers.

NEWS

While the deer-hunting season hasn't opened yet, "stag migrations" have been noted in suburbia the past weekend. These stags, however, were of the two-legged variety, traveled by car instead of "hoofing it," and engaged in a "friendly poker game" rather than the traditional horn-to-horn combat of the usual species of deer.

FIENE HEIGHTS

"Just like the Nebraska team Saturday, we couldn't back up!" said Bob Colburn of an all male Fiene Heights expedition to the Nebraska-Iowa State game.

The reasons for the "no retreat" policy, however was quite different, as he explained that on the drive to Iowa, the reverse gear of the car in which they were riding went out and forced the men to push the car whenever it was necessary to go backward.

In addition to Mr. Colburn, Harry Von Dane, Roland Seaberg and Herb Salzman, all of the Fiene Heights neighborhood, made the two-day trip. After a stay in Des Moines Friday night, the foursome arrived in Ames on Saturday, returning home after the Nebraska victory on Saturday.

Guests from Palmer are currently visiting with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Pokorny. The weekend visit began with the arrival Friday of Mrs. Pokorny's parents the Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Utterback of Palmer.

Yesterday, Mrs. Pokorny's sister, Mrs. Zoe Sanders, also of Palmer, arrived to visit the Pokornys, and to accompany the Utterbacks home on Wednesday.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Hardly able to call Prairie Valley home yet, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Macaulay have been on the move since their arrival in Lincoln in June.

Sept. 27, they left on a combined business-pleasure trip which took them to western Nebraska, and later to a visit with friends in Colorado Springs.

Returning to Lincoln last Thursday, they began plans for a trip to Charlotte, N.C., to visit their two daughters in their former hometown.

Grandson Brett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gilleland, will be the favorite topic of conversation for mother and daughter when the Macaulays arrive in Charlotte, Oct. 10.

But talk of college and the University of South Carolina will fill the next weekend, when their other daughter, Susan, also returns to Charlotte to see her sister and parents. Susan is a senior at the University of South Carolina at Chappel Hill.

Business and pleasure again will be mixed as Mr. Macaulay attends the Southern Furniture Market in Lemore, N.C. while Mrs. Macaulay visits in Charlotte. They plan to return around the first of November.

Shopping and visiting are two good reasons for Mrs. Esther Peterson's visit in Lincoln this week. Staying with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Beckman, Mrs. Peterson plans to continue her visit until Wednesday when she will return to her home in Holdrege.

Attendants Named

The bride-to-be has announced that the ceremony will be solemnized Saturday evening, Nov. 19, at St. Andrew's Lutheran Church.

Her matron of honor will be Mrs. John Slice, and Miss Arlene Ropers will be the bridesmaid. Miss Julie Riege and Miss Janet Riege of Nebraska City, twin nieces of the bridegroom-elect, will be the flower girls, and Mr. Riege's nephew, Mark Riege, will be ringhearer.

Miss Joan Riege of Nebraska City, also a niece of the prospective bridegroom, and Miss Sharon Feelhoff, Palmyra, will light the chancel candles.

Don Dickman will serve Mr. Riege as best man, and the groomsman will be Bill Morlok, brother of the bride-to-be.

Anniversary

In celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. John R. Morford will hold open house between the hours of 2 o'clock and 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 10, at their home, 5231 Colby. Their four children, Jerry, Larry, Robert and Joanne, will assist in greeting the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Morford, who were married on Oct. 10, 1941, ask that all friends, neighbors and relatives attend without further invitation.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 and am married to a pretty little 22-year-old girl from West Virginia. A few weeks after our marriage I got transferred up to Buffalo, N.Y. My wife lived with me for 29 days, and then she packed up and went to West Virginia because she was lonesome for her mother.

She has been down there since May 5th, and I have been sending her support money. I love her a lot and want her with me but she doesn't say when she's coming home. I don't want to give up this job and go to West Virginia after her. What should I do?

LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: Your bride is behaving like a spoiled child, and your spinelessness is netting you nothing but solitude. Be a man. This woman is your wife, so quit sending her money and tell her to shuffle off to Buffalo where she belongs. (And be sure she doesn't bring her mother with her.)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have been divorced and have no desire to marry again. I have been keeping company with a fine gentleman for two years. He is also divorced. We have marvelous times together, taking in shows, going boating, fishing, swimming, motoring. (All very discreetly.) He would marry me if I wanted it that way, but I believe that when two people live together they grow tired of each other. We love and respect each other, but there are times when we like to go our separate ways.

I don't recommend this way of life for the young, or for those with children, but ours are grown and we are in our fifties, and are quite set in our ways.

Now the problem: Many of our friends, and especially our children, believe we ought to get married. Why should we marry just to please people? I like my freedom and so does he, and there are times when you don't want anyone around. Not even the one you love. I would appreciate your opinion on this. Also anyone else's.

SATISFIED

DEAR SATISFIED: If you are satisfied, and he is satisfied, then so am I. Of all the reasons to marry, because people think you ought to is the poorest.

How You May
Never Take a Laxative Again!
New Miracle Regulator Keeps Waste Soft—So Bowels Move Naturally

New York, N.Y. (Special)—After 12 years' research, scientists have discovered a wonder-working substance that corrects constipation entirely without laxatives!

Doctors say most constipation occurs when waste loses moisture in the colon—becomes dry, hard, difficult to move. To give relief, laxatives have to force action by flushing, irritating or distending the intestine.

The new miracle substance—known medically as dioctyl sodium sulfosuccinate—works in a completely different way. It is not a laxative! It simply makes natural moisture in the colon moisten and soften dry, hard waste more effectively. Then normal elimination follows naturally. Thus by working only on waste, not on you, the substance corrects constipation and restores regularity as no laxative can.

This new discovery has now been made available at drugstores under the name REGUTOL. It is safe — not habit-forming. No warning on the label—no prescription needed. Try REGUTOL—discover for yourself that you may never need to take a laxative again!

BRIDE

At a candlelight wedding, which took place late Saturday afternoon, Oct. 1, Miss Sharon Ann Halada of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Halada of Crete, became the bride of Ronald G. Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin W. Beck of Wilber. White gladioli formed the altar decor in Sacred Heart Church at Crete, for the service, which was solemnized by Msgr. Max G. DeWitt.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Halada wore an Empire frock in romance blue fashioned with a lace basque and slim crepe skirt. Costumed identically were the bridesmaids, Miss Carol Halada, also a sister of the bride, and Miss Marlene Beck, the bridegroom's sister, and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Marlen Hayek of Wilber.

Serving his brother as best man was Dennis E. Beck, and seating the guests were Joseph Mares, Elmer Joe Branzovsky and John Beck, Wilber; Shelley Bruha, Dorchester; Gary Hupka, Lincoln; and Lumir Joe Kotas, Western.

The bride selected white Chantilly lace for her wedding gown. The long-sleeved bodice, designed with a sabrina neckline, was embroidered with pearls and iridescent sequins, and the wide skirt of lace tiers was complemented by an overskirt of the lace which continued into a cotillion train. Her silk illusion veil was held by a crown of jeweled lace.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	3 ♣	Pass	5 ♣

Opening lead — seven of hearts.

If you steal in everyday life, there is a good chance you will get caught and wind up in jail, but if the attempted larceny occurs at the bridge table, you occasionally get rewarded instead of being punished.

Here is a case in point. South got to five clubs, though three notrump would have been a much better contract.

West led the seven of hearts and East cashed his A-K. Declarer very cleverly dropped the 10-Q on the A-K because he knew that otherwise East would continue with the third heart for West to ruff.

It is hard to blame East for failing to see through the maneuver. He naturally assumed that West had the missing deuce and he therefore shifted to a spade which South won with the ace.

Given a life, South now took full advantage of the opportunity. After cashing the Q-J of clubs, he played the K-Q of spades and discarded a diamond. Then he drew three more rounds of trumps to produce this position:

North
♥ 9
♦ A Q

West Immaterial — East ♥ J ♦ K 10

♥ 2
♦ J
♣ 9

South now led the nine of clubs and discarded the nine of hearts from dummy.

East could find no convenient discard. He could not spare the jack of hearts, which would make the deuce a trick, so he discarded a diamond in the hope that declarer would not realize that the king had been left unguarded.

But South, remembering that East had opened the bidding and had to have the king for his bid, led a diamond, went up with the ace, caught the king, and thus made five clubs.

Betrothal Revealed

Of interest to campus circles is the announcement being made by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert LeZotte of Ogallala, of the betrothal of their daughter, Sandra, to James Amos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Amos of Beaver Crossing.

REAL ESTATE TIPS

Q. We have a large home that live on a busy street should appeal to a large family but we and I'm afraid this will eliminate prospects with children. Will it help if we fence the yard?

A. Save your money. The fact is that more children are injured on quiet streets than on busy streets. Even children know better than to play on a busy street. List your home with a Real Estate Company and let your agent point this out to interested parties.

Rechecking The Score

After hearing Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney at the Monday Extra Point Club luncheon discuss Saturday's 12-6 win over Iowa State, one fan leaned over to his neighbor and asked if there hadn't been a mistake in reporting the score of the game.

"It sounds like we should have won 50-6 instead of just 12-6," the fan observed. Actually the score could have been nearly the former had it not been for Husker errors at key points.

For instance, the Huskers Saturday in gaining 432 yards were only 65 shy of what the 1965 NU squad gained against the Cyclones. The 1966 edition gained only 61 less on the ground than in the 1965 game and four less through the air.

But the score in the 1965 game was 44-0 in favor of the Huskers while Saturday's game scared the breath out of several Husker fans before Harry Wilson wrapped up the 12-6 victory.

Devaney, in a post-game session with his players Saturday, had told them he was proud of their effort and that they should leave Ames, Iowa, with their heads held high. And well they should have.

Showing Devaney Class

Nebraska still is not a great team and it may not turn out to be a great team this season, but already they have shown some of the same class that has marked Devaney-coached teams every year at Nebraska.

They say it about the Green Bay Packers in pro football and this is no effort to put the Huskers in the same league with the Packers. But the Packers always seem to come up with just what it takes to win.

Thus far, the 1966 Huskers have been able to do that. They haven't run any of the first three foes out of the stadium and they may not do that all year, but if they continue to win, how can anyone complain?

One trademark of Devaney teams at Nebraska has been the ability to keep their poise. Husker gridders since the second year Devaney has been here have kept their poise even when trailing North Carolina State and Minnesota in the waning minutes.

And they kept their poise at Iowa State Saturday when troubles kept popping up to stop drives. Wouldn't it have been easy for this young team to figure they were destined to lose or draw after seeing three fumbles, two pass interceptions and three penalties stop marches?

How About Your Office

How many salesmen do you have in your office, who could set out in the morning with the important job of selling one of your best clients your product and have the following things happen to him, but still keep his poise?

Suppose when he leaves the house, he steps on his child's skateboard and suffers a bruised arm. Then when he gets to the office, he finds the elevator doesn't work and he has to walk 10 flights of stairs to get to the office.

Next, he gets a call from his wife telling him son Jimmy has just been expelled from school for cutting off Sally's pigtails. Now, already late for his appointment with the client, he gets picked up for speeding and, finally, upon arriving at the client's office, he finds he has left one important paper back in his office.

Do you think your young salesman could keep his poise through all this and still make the sale? Nebraska's young 18, 19, 20 and 21-year-old football players kept their poise Saturday and made the sale against Iowa State.

For the third straight week, the Huskers failed to beat the bookie points, but this is no time to jump off the Husker bandwagon. Just keep your money in your pocket though. Isn't winning enough?

Devaney Links Fumbles To Explosion

By HAL BORWN
Star Sports Editor

The land mine that exploded on the Iowa State football field prior to Saturday's game with Nebraska at Ames was jokingly blamed for the Huskers' fumble problems by NU coach Bob Devaney Monday.

"Those mines will make anyone nervous," Devaney told the weekly noon luncheon audience of the Extra Point Club. "It's much like the look out story in golf where the duffer is waiting at the first tee and the golf pro comes up swinging a club.

"The duffer says I'll play you for $10 if you give me two look outs. The pro figures, 'I can give this guy two of anything and beat him.'

"So just as the pro starts his downswing on the first tee, the duffer yells, 'Look Out!" and the pro dribbles his drive off a few yards. Then the duffer wins the next 17 holes while the pro is waiting for that second look out."

After master of ceremonies Lou Roper had explained that seats still remained on the Extra Point Club's bus to the Wisconsin game this week at Madison, Wis., Devaney quipped:

"If Harry Wilson hadn't showed up for that game Saturday, there would have been a lot more vacant seats on that bus to Wisconsin."

And while the Huskers are giving their fans a scare each Saturday, Devaney also explained his team is making experts out of the NU assistants who scout future foes.

"When our scouts say a team is going to be tough, we make them right on Saturday," Devaney joked.

Tom Osborne, who scouted Wisconsin in its 7-0 win over Iowa Saturday at Iowa City, came up with the usual scouting terms about how good the coming opponent will be, but offered a bit of clarification this time.

"Wisconsin is a much better team than the one we faced last year," Osborne explained. "I know we tell you that every week, but in this case, it happens to be the truth.

"Their offensive backfield is entirely different than the one that started against us last year and they still have three of last year's starters on the squad.

"This means that the sophomores they have this year haven't inherited jobs because of graduation, but because they are better than those who played those positions last season.

"For instance, quarterback Chuck Burt, who started against us last year, didn't even make the traveling squad to Iowa."

The Husker assistant also pointed out that the Badgers had completely revamped their offense.

"Last year, they ran from a pro set and threw passes on three of every five plays," he noted. "This year, they have gone to an unbalanced line and are running an offense very similar to what we use at Nebraska.

"They are trying to be a ball control team and we can expect them to try to control the ball against us."

While noting that he still was not completely satisfied, Devaney indicated pleasure with the Husker offense Saturday with the exception of the fumbles, interceptions and penalties that halted drives.

"There was a definite improvement in our offense," he pointed out. "We threw the ball more Saturday (27 times) than we did last year and our offense still gained 229 yards on the ground, so they had a pretty good average.

"Our line was opening some fine holes and our backs were running well. We were better offensively, but we still lack consistency."

"We were penalized in four situations that were critical," he recalled. "We had a back in motion on Wilson's first touchdown and we had an end line up offsides once and a tackle offsides twice."

Devaney answered those who thought he should have gone to Wayne Weber as a quarterback during the game by lauding Bob Churchich.

"We feel we can use Wayne at any time, but actually Churchich was having a good day," he said. "Bob threw the ball well and he ran well. Sure he threw a couple of interceptions, but even Johnny Unitas and Bart Starr have passes intercepted."

Turning to other individuals, Devaney pointed to these:

—"Paul Critchlow, a reserve who saw considerable action because Pete Tatman was ill, did a good job."

—"Kelly Petersen threw some good blocks and all of our linemen are improving."

—"Dennis Richnafsky, who tied Freeman White's record for pass receptions with eight, made some tremendous catches and Dennis Morrison and Tom Penney also made some good catches."

"Carel Stith and Wayne Meylan were our outstanding defensive linemen and I think Langston Coleman had his best day."

—"The other defenders all did a good job. When you hold a team to 77 yards rushing, you've done a good job."

"We got some big plays out of our pass defenders and they dropped some passes that could have been interceptions. The secondary coverage was good."

ROBERTS DAIRY COACHES

. . . LINE-UP COMPLETE

By Associated Press

The line-up of major league baseball managers for 1967 was set one day after the close of the 1966 campaign Monday when Mayo Smith was named to lead the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland filled its managerial vacancy with the appointment of Joe Adcock.

The development climaxed a hectic few weeks during which the situation was brought into sharper focus with the hiring of three other managers, plus the retention of seven more.

Dick Williams was hired by Boston, Dave Bristol by Cincinnati and Billy Hitchcock by Atlanta. Williams replaced Billy Herman, while Bristol and Hitchcock served as interim managers following the dismissal of Don Heffner by the Reds and Bobby Bragan by the Braves.

Retained were Herman Franks of San Francisco, Harry Walker of Pittsburgh, Wes Westrum of the New York Mets, Grady Hatton of Houston, Red Schoendienst of St. Louis, Hank Bauer of Baltimore and Bill Rigney of California.

Both Smith and Adcock were given two - year contracts.

Detroit's announcement ended weeks of speculation over a successor to the late Charlie Dressen, who died of a heart attack in August.

Bob Swift, a coach, had been acting manager until he was forced to quit because of illness, later diagnosed as lung cancer. The team wound up in third place with Frank Skaff, another coach, as interim manager.

Smith, a scout for the Yankees and former manager of the Phils and Reds, named Tony Cucciniello, recently a Chicago White Sox' coach, as the first member of his coaching staff. Skaff will remain with the team on special assignments as a scout in the major leagues and the Class AAA minors.

OU Boss Says Texas Same Without Bradley

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma coach Jim Mackenzie says Texas may be without star sophomore Bill Bradley when the Longhorns meet the Sooners Saturday, but he doesn't feel that's going to help Oklahoma a great deal.

"I don't think Bradley will play," Mackenzie said Monday, "but Andy White is a good quarterback. When White came in Saturday night in the Texas game with Indiana, Texas led, 14-0. When it was over, Texas led, 35-0."

Bosox Complete Staff By Adding Lakeman

—WAYNE AT KEARNEY—

Lead At Stake In NCC Clash

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

The two teams, along with Peru, 54-0 loser to the Antelopes last week, tied for the conference title last season, and both have 1-0 marks in the league so far this year.

Kearney, however, has the better season record with a 3-1 mark to a 2-2 showing for the Bulldogs to date.

Kearney's only loss was a 20-0 beating at the hands of Fort Hays (Kan.) State two weeks ago, while Wayne has lost to Midland, 17-9, and South Dakota State, 40-6.

The Antelopes swamped Peru without the services of two starters, injured quarterback Carl Satterfield and end John Creamer.

The Kearney scoring was well balanced with only Lee Jacobsen picking up more than one touchdown. He had two, both from outside the five yard line.

Fullback Blake Oleson capped a 73-yard drive for Wayne in the second quarter with a four yard scoring run. The key play in the drive was a 24-yard pass from Steve Gunther to Gene Hunting.

In other NCC games this week, Chadron meets Peru in Peru and Hastings goes outside the conference to face unbeaten Doane.

Concordia stopped Midland, 21-14, in Tri-State Conference action, while Dana fell victim to a 16-point fourth quarter explosion by Nebraska Wesleyan in a 16-6 loss to the Plainsmen.

The Vikings now stand 2-1 for the season and 1-0 in the conference.

In junior college action powerful McCook, victor by large margins in its first two games this year, took its first tumble since the National Junior College Bowl in Savannah, Ga. last season when the University of Colorado Freshman club clipped the Indians, 30-18.

It was the first regular season loss for McCook since the 1964 campaign.

Twenty points in the third period were enough for Ellsworth JC of Iowa in a 39-14 decision over Norfolk JC.

Mets Retain Entire Coaching Staff

New York (AP) — Coaches Yogi Berra, Sheriff Robinson, Harvey Haddix and Whitey Herzog have been rehired for the 1967 season, the New York Mets said Monday.

The changes followed a Stanky shakeup last week that brought the release of three veteran coaches, Tony Cucciniello, Don Gutteridge and Ray Berres.

Roberts Second In State Shoot

Roberts copped second high score in the 16-yard event, the 20-yard handicap, and the high-overall.

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Contrasting to the volatile Class A division, stability marked the performances of the Class B and C football leaders last week.

Aurora and West Point continue to set the pace in the B and C races with only one newcomer cracking the top ten list in each division this week.

The new entry in Class B is Fairbury, which enters at the No. 9 spot. The Jeffs, winners of their first two starts, dropped a 6-0 decision to eighth-ranked York two weeks ago, then almost upset unbeaten Beatrice last week.

Moving into the runnerup spot is Papillion, ranked No. 4 a week ago. The Monarchs routed Syracuse, 40-7, to move past conference mate Blair, now No. 3 after a 20-19 win over Missouri Valley, Iowa.

Lexington, third a week ago, was handed its first loss by Class A McCook and tumbles to the No. 7 spot.

Oxford, No. 7 last week, falls to No. 8 and Falls City Sacred Heart drops from No. 8 to No. 10 this week.

Nebraska Prep Ratings

By Don Forsythe

Class B

1—Aurora (4-0)	6—David City (4-0)
2—Papillion (4-0)	7—Lexington (3-1)
3—Blair (4-0)	8—York (2-1)
4—D.C. Aquinas (4-0)	9—Fairbury (2-2)

Class C

1—West Point (4-0)	6—Newman Grove (4-0)
2—Rushville (4-0)	7—North Platte S.P. (4-0)
3—Grant (4-0)	8—Oxford (4-0)
4—Wisner (4-0)	9—Humphrey St Francis (4-0)
5—Hooper (4-0)	10—Falls City S.H. (4-0)

Comment—Only changes this week are in bottom four positions. Top six clubs all had handy victories last week. Major clash this week sends Newman Grove against Humphrey St. Francis.

Rich Lilga Wins Kearney Drags Jr. Eliminator

Lincoln winners: A/Stock, Denny Reed; I/Stock, Harvey Nash; M/Stock, Jim Goodwin; G/Stock Automatic, Dick Zimmerman; B/Stock, Larry Gris; K/Stock, Victor Keller; N/Stock, Wayne; E/Gas, Emery Ratliff; I/Stock, Rich Lilga, and C/Stock, Louis Lovelady.

Managers Pick Series Starters

. . . McNALLY, BIG D. OPEN

Los Angeles (AP)—The strong arms of Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Claude Osteen make the Los Angeles Dodgers the 8-5 favorites over the hard-hitting Baltimore Orioles in the World Series, opening Wednesday at Dodger Stadium.

Orioles manager Hank Bauer named Dave McNally, a 23-year-old left-hander with a 13-6 record, to open for the American League champions who have had almost two weeks to prepare for the big test after clinching the AL pennant Sept. 22.

"Davey has the soundest arm on the club right now," said Bauer in Baltimore before leaving for the West Coast." If it goes seven games, we can give him three starts."

Given a similar choice of the pick of his staff, manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers would have named Koufax, his 27-game winning ace. But he was forced to pitch Sandy against the Phillies Sunday when the Dodgers clinched the National League Pennant in the last game of the season and barely escaped a playoff.

Koufax will be held for the second game of the best - of - seven series. If it goes seven, Koufax would have to come back for the finale with two days rest, just as he did last year in Minnesota after missing the opener due to the Jewish holy days.

Drysdale, 13-16, wasknocked out of the box by the Phillies in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader, but he undoubtedly will get the call for the first Series game from Alston. Big D. had won four in a row and was working on a string of 25 scoreless innings in a fine comeback until the Phils lowered the boom.

The other possibilty for the Dodgers is Claude Osteen, 17-14, a southpaw who was beaten by the Phils Friday night. He probably will work the third game.

Pitching is expected to be the hole card for the Dodger, whose staff has a 2.63 earned run average and 52 complete games compared to the Orioles' 3.35 ERA and only 23 complete games for the entire season.

The top winner for Baltimore was Jim Palmer, 15-10. He is due to face Koufax in the second game on Thursday afternoon.

The clubs will play the first two games in Los Angeles, starting at 4 p.m. EDT.

Friday will be an open date for travel and they will resume play in Baltimore Saturday, where the fourth game will be played Sunday and the fifth, if necessary, Monday.

If the issue isn't decided then, they will take another day off for travel and return to Los Angeles for a sixth, and possibly seventh game.

Nebraska Wildlife Chapter Formed

A Nebraska chapter of the Wildlife Society, designed to function as a coordinating body for all natural resource groups in the state, has been formed, it was announced Monday.

University of Nebraska professor Howard L. Welgers was elected president of the state chapter, and state Game Commission employes Ken W. Johnson and Bill Bailey were elected vice president and secretary - treasurer, respectively.

O-State Holds Light Workout

The game will be OSU's home opener and first conference game of the season.

Snyder Will Delay Hunting For Series

. . . NELSON NATIVE DOESN'T MIND

Baltimore (AP) — Russ Snyder, a Nebraska sharpshooter, will have to delay the start of his hunting season this year.

"That's all right with me," Snyder said. "I wouldn't mind having the same problem every year."

Snyder will be busy at least for the next week, preparing for and playing in the World Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Baltimore Orioles' outfielder had one of his finest seasons in 1966, finishing with a .306 batting average and 41 runs batted in. He was his usual hustling self in the field, and got on base enough while being platooned to score 66 runs.

Snyder, a 32-year-old veteran of eight major league seasons, led the American League in batting for many weeks although he obviously would not have enough plate appearances to qualify for the title.

"I'm satisfied that I did a good job this year," Snyder said. "It was a good feeling just being part of a club winning the championship."

Snyder, a fast runner, didn't bunt for base hits as much this season-and for good reason.

"I was in a good groove and hitting the ball," Snyder said, "and the other teams still kept their infields in looking for the bunt. That made it easier to hit the ball through, and I saw no reason to bunt."

"Every player looks forward to getting to the majors," he said. "And once he's there, he sets a goal of playing in the World Series-reaching a peak so to speak.

"A lot of guys who played longer than I have, never played in the Series. Its's frustrating when you keep trying and never make it."

After the Series, where he is expected to be platooned in center field with Paul Blair, Snyder will head for Nelson, Neb., where he hunts game and referees high school basketball games to stay in shape.

"I do a lot of hunting," deer, coyotes — you name it, I hunt it.

"Being outdoors a lot keeps me in shape," Snyder said. "When you get older, the main thing is to take care of your legs.

"I can get ready in the spring in less than a month. Some guys don't keep active, and they get hurt more in spring training."

Russ Snyder, always prepared, will be ready for the World Series . . . and the delayed start of the hunting season.

Cyclones Drill On Running

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Iowa State's football team, still replaying Saturday's narrow 12-6 loss to Nebraska, went through a light one-hour drill Monday as preparations began for a Big Eight meeting with Kansas here this weekend.

Fast Worker

Ernest Poland Catches 17-Pound Cat In Loup

Ernest Poland of Sargent was late in getting his report in, but the State Game Commission has awarded him a Master Angler prize this week for a 17-pound catfish caught June 27 in a gravel pit along the Loup River north of Taylor.

Other Master Angler applications included:

Huskers' Ground Attack Overwhelms Opponents

. . . NU SUPERIOR IN AIR, TOO

Nebraska, while narrowly winning two of its first three games, has nevertheless piled up a huge statistical edge over its opponents.

Skahan Returns As No. 1 Kansas QBack

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas Jayhawks came out of their 16-14 upset of Minnesota in good shape physically.

Bob Skahan, who injured his foot in the Texas Tech game, was running as No. 1 quarterback in Monday night's practice for the first time in two weeks.

Chicago Cubs Give Vet Roberts Release

Chicago (AP) — Pitcher Robin Roberts, who turned 40 last week, was given his outright release by the Chicago Cubs Monday.

The veteran right-hander, who was picked up by the Cubs in July after Houston made him a free agent, had a 5-8 record for Chicago.

—27 OF 58 STOPS—

K-State Linebacker Top Big 8 Choice

By Associated Press

Kansas State linebacker Danny Lankas, who made three touchdown-saving plays against Colorado and had a hand in 27 stops out of 58 Colorado plays, is the Big Eight Lineman of the Week.

He was a close choice over Kansas linebacker Mike Sweatman, who was in on 20 tackles including some key stops in a 16-14 victory over Minnesota.

Lankas made 8 unassisted tackles and assisted on 17 more, intercepted a pass at the K-State 5-yard line and returned it 15 yards, and batted down another pass at the K-State 30. Twice he saved a touchdown by stopping Wilmer Cooks, big Colorado fullback, for no gain a yard from the goal. His interception also saved a TD.

Lankas is a 6-foot, 211-pound junior from Atwood, Kan., and a heavyweight wrestler. He played five different positions as a sophomore at K-State, winding up as No. 1 fullback the last two games.

A broken ankle, two broken fingers and a variety of allergies haven't stopped him. A number of schools including both service academies were interested in Lankas in his junior year, but most of them backed off after the ankle injury, which included a torn ligament. He played only one game as a senior.

"One doctor predicted I'd never play football again," Lankas said.

Lankas had to move out of a player dormitory at K-State because he is allergic to the dust from blower-type heaters. He's also allergic to various foods including wheat, although he was raised on a farm.

Sweatman forced an unsuccessful field goal attempt by Minnesota with a hard tackle, then a pass rush ending with his tackle on the quarterback for a loss of 9. He had 12 unassisted, 8 assisted tackles.

Other line nominees were defensive tackle Carel Stith of Nebraska, who was in on 10 tackles and recovered a fumble to set up the winning TD; defensive tackle Dennis Esselmann of Iowa State, 9 tackles and a fumble recovery; and defensive tackle Frank Bosch of Colorado, 12 tackles forcing K-State to run to the opposite side most of the time.

Also cited was K-State defensive tackle Rich Wilkinson.

Missouri and Oklahoma State had no line nominees and Oklahoma was idle. Players are nominated by the coaches and voting is by a panel of newsmen.

Mueller Tops NU Defenders

Mueller has been in on 24 stops, Senkbeil and Meylan 23 each.

Iowa State Chem Pupil Fires Bomb

Municipal Judge John McKinney sentenced John Gale Stotz, 20, of Davenport to three months in the Story County jail and fined him $500.

The jail term was suspended pending good behavior for one year, but the fine must be paid or the tall, dark-haired junior must serve time in jail at the rate of $5 per day, or 100 days.

He said he just wanted to build up interest in the Cyclones' home football games, adding:

"I thought there wasn't enough excitement or interest in the games.'

Judge McKinney said the bomb, or land mine, which gouged out a hole about two feet long and six inches deep on the 46-yard line when a sod-rolling machine detonated it, could have seriously injured a player or spectator who stepped on it.

The judge said he took into account the fact that Stotz had never been in trouble before. The charge—the illegal manufacture of a bomb—carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $2,000 fine.

Steve Brown, driver of the sod-rolling machine, was not injured. The device, triggered by a cherry bomb, blew up a few moments after the machine had passed over it.

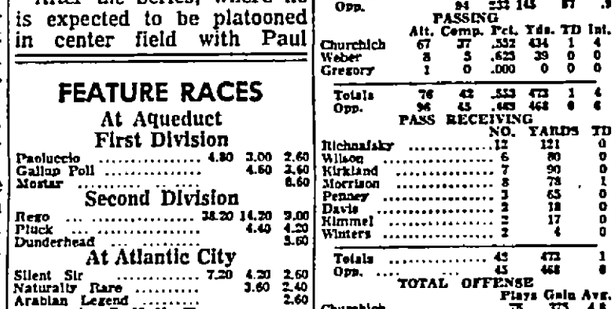

Anderson, Parker Join Missouri's First Line

Columbia, Mo., (AP) — Coach Dan Devine, dissatisfied with the play of Missouri's offensive line in last week's loss to UCLA, made some changes Monday which he hopes will perk up the Tigers' attack against Kansas State at Manhattan Saturday.

Join the parade to:
THE SMOOTHEST WHISKY EVER TO COME OUT OF CANADA!

Now step up to Windsor Canadian: the remarkable, sippin'-smooth Canadian that's already changing thousands of Americans' ideas on the whisky to serve.

Tonight compare Windsor! Pour two drinks—highballs or over ice—one with your usual, one with Windsor Canadian. Notice the superior smoothness and the flavor of Windsor.

2. Only Windsor Canadian is born of icy mountain glacial water drawn clear from underground streams.
3. Only Windsor Canadian is aged in the incredibly dry air of Canada's Rockies. Where, nearly a mile high, it gentles to sippin'-smooth perfection.

Yet it costs no more than leading domestic whiskies, because we import Windsor Canadian, then bottle it here. Thus saving on duties and other charges. Compare the price and the smoothness of Windsor. Once you do, you'll never settle for less or pay more. Join the parade... tonight!

POSTCARD by Stan Hall

English children are wheeled about in prams. And English mamas could hardly shop without the vehicle. A luxury pram costs around $200. It gives mama plenty status at the market.

There are advantages. The child and pram are parked outside. Rows of tykes sitting in their prams, cutting up baby touches. If you've wheeled an infant in a supermarket cart and had them reach out and topple the display of canned salmon, you get the idea.

The pram is ideal for wheeling home the groceries. Make the child sit up. Tuck the groceries in at the foot.

Show windows for prams are as elegant as the Rolls Royce agency. The salesmen wear morning tail coats.

The pram is functional. It is waist-high. The back wheels are two feet in diameter with 18-inch wheels in front. The body is slung on crescent-shaped springs.

"A well-built pram can also serve as the child's bed in a small apartment," says the pram manufacturer. "The two-wheel handbrake makes it entirely safe to leave the infant outside while shopping.

"Models are available in a variety of colors such as mushroom, mistletoe and blue mist. There is a double storm flap. The hood may be replaced in summer with one of tropical shantung. An extremely good value."

There's a fine pram shop up the road from my hotel in Knightsbridge. (Alongside a very good pub.)

"The children's nanny in uniform with a stylish pram was once a part of the London scene, much like the rented park chair," said the pram salesman. "Now fewer people can afford a nanny — where they've gone, don't ask me. Perhaps into the factories.

"Still the pram has social value, you might say.

☆ ☆ ☆

"The Rolls Royce models are the Hamilton or the Sandringham or the Gazelle," he said adjusting his cravat delicately.

"Then we have many people who prefer the smaller, sporty models. This York—14-inch chrome wheels with folding handles — is in the Jaguar class.

"The equivalent of the Mini Minor is this Fayette. The body can be detached from the wheels and put in the rear seat of your car."

For about $15, you can get a Somerset-style tropical canopy for summer.

There are pram bags for $6 — zippered carrying bags that hang on the handles.

A plastic dust cover goes for another $6. You can have a seat belt for the infant for $5. And for $2 more, you get attaching reins in case the little blighter wants to get out and walk awhile.

☆ ☆ ☆

"There are various protection nets to be had," said the pram salesman smoothing his smooth lapels.

"Suppose there is a cat in the domicile. Here is a string mesh anti-animal net for nine shillings.

"For country use we have a fine mesh anti-insect net. Same price."

Prams and accessories are built for twins. But if you have triplets, the pram must be custom-made.

"Anything for the little one's comfort is our motto," he said.

Small Paper Explained By Pen Editors

The latest issue of The Forum, inmate newspaper at the Nebraska Penal Complex, was smaller than usual—and for a reason.

As co-editors Jim La Rosee and Kenny Wells explained, the copy for the edition was prepared, then placed atop a locker in a trusty dormitory with a view to taking it to the warden's office for approval the next day.

Meantime, the dormitory lieutenant ordered a cleanup of the top of the lockers, and a porter removed the accumulation of papers, magazines and other paraphernalia, including the still-unpublished prison newspaper copy, and took the material to the dump for burning.

Discovering what had happened, the editors arranged for a quick trip to the dump, only to learn that the material had gone up in smoke.

Editors spent the next day and a half, re-creating enough copy to fill four pages.

Some inmate colleagues of the editors termed it "one of the most brilliant ideas we've heard to get out of picking beans." The editors denied any such plan.

Honeybee Sting Fatal To Giver

New York (UPI) — The honeybee can sting only once, and usually dies within a few minutes after stinging.

The bumblebee, however, says World Book Encyclopedia, can sting repeatedly, and so can its relatives — the wasp, the hornet and the yellow jacket.

Equity Union Eyes Future Service To Farmer

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Aggressive merchandising programs in the export field and better coordination of efforts toward serving the farmer were the goals outlined here Monday at the 50th anniversary of Equity Union Grain Co.

The company serves more than 200 country elevators in Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado.

Willard Cantin of Lincoln, Equity Union general manager, noted that efforts toward serving the farmer better in the future could include possible mergers or consolidation with other regionals to serve larger region whose functions are similar.

One of the speakers on the 50th anniversary Equity Union program was Fred Heinkel of Columbia, Mo., long time president of the Missouri Farmers Association. The farm organization changed its name last year to the Midcontinent Farmers Association.

Joint Formation

Midcontinent Farmers and Equity Union Grain Co. have been active in the joint formation of Kansas City Terminal Co. Elevator, expected to be a part of an export elevator operation to be developed at New Orleans by the two groups to assist in export operations in both European and Asian markets.

Edward Trautman of Yuma, Colo., Equity Union president, said, "Our responsibility is to continue that service to farmers which was created in 1916, regardless of the changes we need to make to accomplish the purpose for which the Equity Union Grain Co. was founded."

Cantin noted that company savings during the last few years have declined due to a reduction in storage revenue but that the organization with near $11 million assets is "in good financial condition to face the uncertainties of the future."

Net savings for Equity Union Grain Co. for the past fiscal year were $214,650, according to the annual report.

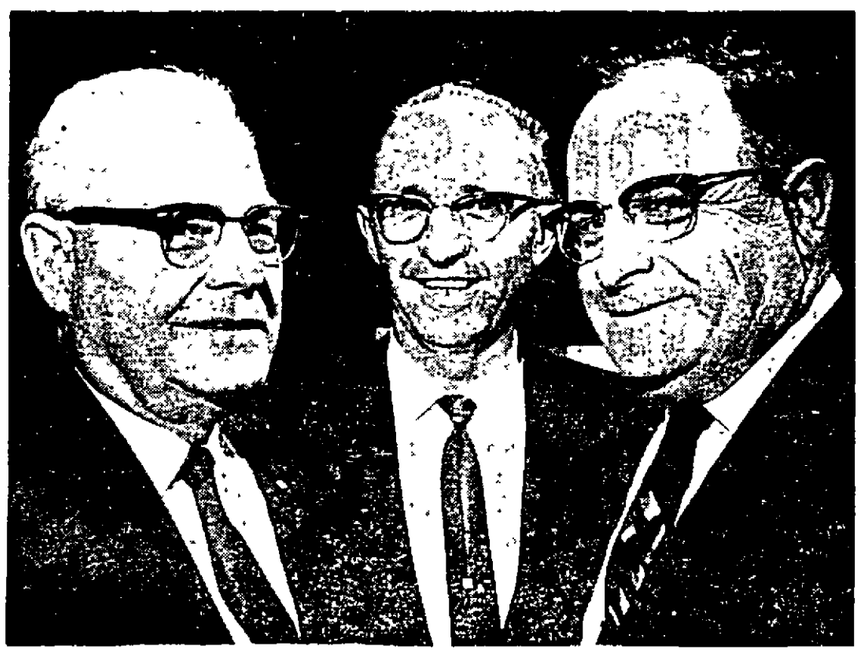

Kansas and Colorado country elevators continued to be the leaders in bushel volume with the St. Francis, Kan. Equity Union elevator leading with a 12,801,526 bushel volume.

While wheat volume has declined, the handling of feed grains has continued to increase with an all time high of near 11 million bushels being handled by Equity Union Grain Co. during the past year.

Roy Hendrickson, executive secretary of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives, Washington, D. C., told Equity members there will be expanding needs for soybeans, corn and grain sorghums.

Hendrickson estimated that 50 to 100 million more acres could be devoted to soybean production and that the United States is headed toward consuming an estimated five billion bushel corn crop annually.

Among the many Equity Grain Co. officials honored for years of service was Frank Hoyt of McCook, the only living past president of the organization.

State Commission Wouldn't Favor Bottle Clubs If Liquor Change OKd

By WILLIAM B. KETTER
United Press International

The chairman of the State Liquor Control Commission said Monday bottle clubs will not receive special consideration for class C liquor licenses if Lincoln votes in over-the-bar-sales in November's election.

"The fact that an applicant operated a bottle club will not mean a thing. Each case will be decided on its own merits," said Francis V. Robinson.

He said the commission will rely for the most part on recommendations of the City Council.

"If the council recommends issuance of a liquor license, and the person is eligible and no one files a protest, the license will be automatically issued," Robinson said.

"If the council recommends the application be denied, then the commission will schedule a hearing and both sides will be heard."

Robinson said he expects most bottle club owners to apply for class C permits if Lincolnites approve liquor-by-the-drink next month.

Up To City

"The fact that an applicant holds a bottle club license may mean something to the city but no special consideration will be given by the commission on that point," he said.

"The commission will apply the same criteria used in other class C cases."

There are presently more than 15 bottle clubs in Lincoln. Several new establishments have opened in the past six months, after the Chamber of Commerce announced it would launch a petition drive to put a liquor-by-the-drink proposition before voters.

The chamber successfully completed the drive last month. Only 3,376 valid signatures were needed.

Almost 2 To 1

Lincolnites last voted on the question in 1946, when the proposal fell 18,574 to 9,469.

Police Chief Joseph Carroll has said there might be some merit to allowing over-the-bar liquor sales in the Capital City.

He noted that without it, bottle clubs have flourished.

975 Licenses

Prohibition ended in Nebraska and the nation in 1934. Since that time the number of communities allowing over-the-bar drinks has steadily climbed, the commission said.

In the last two years 27 towns have voted in liquor-by-the-drink despite stiff opposition from church groups.

The Lincoln Council of Churches has announced it will fight the recent effort to approve the issue in the Capital City.

The council said a recent study revealed that per person consumption of alcohol averages nearly a gallon more in cities with liquor-by-the-drink compared to so-called "dry" communities.

Tabitha Requests For Health Care Service Up 400%

Requests for nursing care and physical therapy have increased 400% since Tabitha's Home Health Care Service began six months ago, according to Mrs. Martha Maseman, R.N., who directs the federally assisted program.

"We are gratified by the community response to our program and want to point out that we are equipped to handle more requests," Mrs. Maseman said.

According to Rev. Lorin J. Wolff, Pastor-Director of Tabitha, the only home of its type in Lincoln, a fee-scale is used to figure the cost of service, but individuals who cannot pay will not be denied the service.

Credit Control 'Possible'

Present Use Unlikely

FOWLER . . . gets set to testify.

Washington (UPI) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said Monday the administration would accept standby powers to control credit, although they would not be used now.

Fowler discussed the issue as he urged Senate approval of the House-passed version of President Johnson's plan to slow inflationary plant investment.

In testimony before the Senate Finance Committee, Fowler asked for quick passage of the bill to suspend for 16 months the 7% tax credit on expansions of industrial plants and equipment and the accelerated depreciation allowance on commercial buildings.

Fowler, who testified at the Federal Reserve Board, reported that consumers increased their installment credit by $602 million, seasonally-adjusted, in August — the largest expansion since March, but below the monthly average of 1965 and the first quarter of 1966.

New automobile credit, stimulated by selling at the end of the model year, rose $208 million in August, the board said. Credit for other consumer goods increased $203 million, while personal loans advanced $176 million.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee said consumer demand was playing its part in keeping inflationary pressures strong.

He noted that during World War II and the Korean War the Federal Reserve Board could regulate credit flows to insure that wartime business was given priority in borrowing what money was available.

Long asked if the administration — not the reserve board — would want Congress to approve standby authority to control consumer credit.

"The availability of such standby controls would be useful and acceptable," Fowler said. "But I don't think we need them now. I would not advocate their use if they were available today.

Sen. J William Fulbright, D-Ark., said more revenue would be needed to cover Viet Nam war cost. "I don't see why you won't ask for a tax increase now," Fulbright said. "You'll need the money for Viet Nam and Thailand and it will be a more effective anti-inflationary tool."

Fowler said estimates of cost increases in Viet Nam and the final size of appropriations bills now in Congress would determine if a tax increase would be needed.

Sen. John J. Williams, D-Del., implied that the decision to increase corporate and personal income taxes has already been made. "We'll learn about the details after the November election," Williams said.

Agate Fossil Bed Monument Ground Breaking Plans Made

Agate (AP) — Preliminary plans have been made for ground breaking ceremonies next summer when work actually starts on the $2 million Agate Fossil Bed National Monument.

President Earl Cherry of the Agate Fossil Bed National Monument Association said the ground breaking will be contingent upon the efforts of the Park Service to acquire the necessary land for the project. The Park Service plans to move five trailer units to the site where permanent buildings will be erected during the five-year construction period.

The announcement was made by Cherry, a ranger, at the annual meeting of the association held at the ranch home of Mrs. Harold Cook, a board member. All officers and directors were re-elected.

The ceremony will be held the day a large trailer is moved to the site for a temporary visitor center.

Richard Holder, superintendent of the Scotts Bluff National Monument, will be superintendent of the Agate project. He told the association funds of the Park Service for fiscal 1967, will include the $230,000 needed to purchase 3,150 acres of land plus funds for permanent utilities.

First year construction also will include a road to the trailer complex, but not a bridge over the Niobrara River, which flows between the visitor center and the fossil deposits in University and Carnegie Hills.

Holder's assistant, Al Werking, will move to the site early in the spring.

Garden Club President Urges Responsibility For Beauty

Mrs. Fred Mauntel, president of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, challenged an audience of 225 Nebraska Garden Club members to "be personally responsible for beauty and progress in your community and state."

Speaking to the 32nd annual convention of the Federated Garden Clubs of Nebraska meeting in Lincoln Monday and Tuesday, Mrs. Mauntel urged the women present to carry out the theme of the convention—"Nature's bounty; Ours to Use and Conserve."

"You have great natural beauty here in Nebraska," Mrs. Mauntel said, "and extremely fertile soil. These are your very special heritage."

"In our national program we are stressing conservation with the theme 'keep faith with tomorrow' " the Washington, Mo., native said. She said that in Nebraska a great deal has been accomplished through "trail blazing conservation."

Mrs. Mauntel urged Garden Club members to greater goals of "becoming involved with the forces around you. Be aware of beauty and make others aware of it," she urged.

In line with the conservation efforts of the National Federation of Garden Clubs, the Nebraska clubs were presented an award certificate from the U.S. Forest Service by Rocky Mountain Regional director Mary Louise Riede.

The award was presented to Mrs. Michael Edwards of Lincoln, outgoing president of the Nebraska federation," in recognition of the outstanding conservation work of the Nebraska Garden Clubs" in the area of water pollution control.

Also receiving a Forest Service award was Mrs. Lyle Johnsrud of Ft. Benton, Mont., director of the conservation program of the Rocky Mountain Region of Garden Clubs. She is leading the eight state region in its unified conservation effort of water pollution control, in hopes of obtaining the national award of conservation for her region.

William O. Dobler, editor of The Lincoln Star, was presented an award for his editorials which urge the same goals as the Garden Clubs—" conservation, civic development, and family life."

1,000 Die In Nigeria Bloodshed

Lagos, Nigeria (AP)—Clashes between proud militant Northern Nigerians and the ambitious Ibo tribesmen of the east have left about 1,000 dead — many butchered with swords—since last Wednesday, various reports from the north indicated Monday. From all accounts, most of the dead appeared to be Ibos.

Lt. Col. Yakubu Gowon, head of the military government, told the closing session of the constitutional conference in Lagos that the situation was under control after five days of bloodshed.

The conference, attended by delegations from the nation's four main regions who hope to hammer out a constitution to bring peace to Nigeria, was adjourned until Oct. 24.

Gowon expressed grief over events at Kano, the ancient walled city that was once a depot for caravans on the Sahara, 520 miles north of Lagos; where perhaps 300 Ibos were slain by mobs wielding swords. The massacre occurred Sunday at Kano International Airport and in the Sagon Gari, the foreign quarter outside the city.

Reports from the north said Lt. Col. Hassan Usman Katsina, the military governor, had ordered his troops to shoot anyone caught molesting others or looting.

Work was resumed at the $100 million Kainji Dam under the watchful eyes of 200 troops and police after clashes between northern and eastern workers left 32 persons dead last Wednesday and Thursday. The dam is 300 miles north of Lagos.

The fighting was provoked by the Hausa tribe, northern Moslems who suspect the Ibos of trying to dominate Nigeria politically and militarily.

'Mickey Moose' Is Hauled Away From Herefords

Boston (AP)—"Mickey Moose" is on his way to Franklin Park Zoo after several weeks of courtship with cows in central Massachusetts. This is rutting season for moose.

The 900-pound bull moose has been rubbing shoulders with a dozen Hereford cows at the Amherst farm of Dr. Frederick Ruder, a veterinarian, since Sept. 27.

Monday, zoo director Walter Stone and a party of state fish and game personnel shot tranquilizers into the moose and hauled him to Boston by truck.

This is the second time officials had captured the moose. The animal is rarely seen in Massachusetts. This one displayed it liking for cows when it joined the dairy herd of a Northfield farmer Sept. 19.

The moose wouldn't let the farmer get near his cows so the moose was shot with tranquilizers and taken to the Quabbin Reservoir area Sept. 22.

Farmers Halved

Chicago — Thirty-two million people lived on farms in the United States in 1910. That number had dropped to 30.4 million by 1930 and to 25.1 million at the latest count, in 1962.

Fill in the dotted areas

—to see how much "college money" $750 will buy if you start soon enough

In 17 years, the money you invest in United States Savings Bonds more than doubles.

This means that if you could invest $750 in Series E Bonds between the day your child is born and his first birthday—less than $15 a week—you'd have $1,508 toward his first year of college when he's 18. Do it for four years, and you'd have a substantial start on financing his whole college career.

With the new 4.15% interest rate, E Bonds mature in only 7 years, paying back $4 for every $3 you've invested. Then they go on growing for another 10 years under the automatic extension privilege.

So if you start early—and save regularly—Bonds can be the answer to the high cost of college. And while your Bond dollars are working for your child's future, they're helping Uncle Sam, too. Right now, for instance, they'll be backing our men in Vietnam.

Stock Mart Dives To New '66 Low

Multi-point losses were taken by many of the high-flying stocks which were most glamorous early this year when the Dow Industrials were climbing toward their record close of 995.15, with the legendary "Dow 1,000" a virtual certainty.

Monday the Dow industrials fell 16.26 to 757.96, their lowest close since Dec. 24, 1963, when they read 756.87. The drop was the greatest since July 25 when the average fell 16.32.

The decline revised a lot of thinking in Wall Street because the Dow industrials broke through the previous low of 767.03 made for 1966 might serve as a strong support level from which a rally could be mounted.

The market began Monday with a rise as it followed through on Friday's rally. The rally fizzled, however. Some of the glamor stocks began to take sharp losses. This prompted uneasiness about many other stocks.

Of 1,405 issues traded, 1,003 declined and 198 advanced. Lows for the year totaled 245. The two highs were Columbia Pictures and Sterling Drug preferred.

Volume was 6.5 million shares compared with 6.19 million Friday.

All of the 15 most-active stocks declined. Fairchild Camera was the most-active stock, falling 16⅞ to 15¾ on 144,900 shares. Last week the stock fell 15⅛.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 4.9 to 274.7 with industrials off 6.0, rails off 2.3 and utilities off 1.5

The loss in the AP average was the largest since Aug. 29 when it fell 5.5.

Actively traded Texas Instruments fell 11⅛ to 91⅛ and KLM Airlines dropped 11⅛ to 122.

Among other volume leaders Polaroid lost 9, Itek 8⅛, General Instrument 6, Pan American World Airways 5⅛, Motorola 7¼ and Eastern Air Lines 3½.

Specter Says Oswald Indisputably Assassin

Washington (UPI)—A Warren Commission lawyer said Monday there was no doubt that Lee Harvey Oswald killed President John F. Kennedy and that another investigation could not turn up any new evidence to alter the commission's verdict.

Arlen Specter now district attorney of Philadelphia, defended the commission's report against recent books and articles criticizing the investigation of the late president's murder.

In a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report, Specter said:

"There can be no real doubt on the subject, based on the factors of ownership of the weapon . . . the handwriting links to Oswald's having ordered that weapon, the fact that it is scientifically ballistically proved beyond question that the whole bullet . . . came from that weapon, that the two major fragments found in the front seat of the presidential limousine came from that weapon."

"Further indications of Oswald's guilt are his rapid exit, fleeing from the site of the Texas School Book Depository Building and the later killing of Officer Tippit, which was witnessed by several people, plus photographs showing Oswald holding a rifle identified as being the Mannlicher-Carcano which was used."

Specter said there was overwhelming evidence that the same bullet wounded Texas Gov. John B. Connally and there was nothing to indicate Oswald acted as part of a conspiracy.

"The commission left no stone unturned to track down Oswald's background to the maximum extent possible," Specter said, "to see if he had dealings with anyone else who might have been a coconspirator."

He said the commission did not start the investigation with 'the preconceived notion that Oswald was the assassin. The commission . . . did maintain an open mind on that subject and surveyed the evidence before coming to its conclusion."

Vehicle Growth Rapid

Lansing, Mich. — Car and truck owners throughout the world have about 170 million units in use, 34 per cent more than in 1961. In 1970, one auto manufacturer estimates, the total will be more than 200 million.

DR. NURAN TURKSOY

SANDRA CWIKIELNIK

Mother Of Septuplets Took Fertility Hormone

Boston (AP) — A 24-year-old Boston woman who gave birth to seven babies that died was reported comfortable at a hospital Monday and planning to try to have another child.

Mrs. Sandra Cwikielnik, who had been treated with a fertility hormone, gave birth to the septuplets Saturday. The four girls and three boys were born four months prematurely. One was dead at birth and the other died shortly after delivery.

Dr. Nuran Turksoy of New England Medical Center Hospital, who administered the hormone drug to Mrs. Cwikielnik, said her patient is "looking forward to the future" and is "anxious to try to have another child."

Mrs. Cwikielnik and her husband, William, 30, have one child, a 3-year-old boy. Cwikielnik is a shipping clerk for a clothing firm.

Mrs. Cwikielnik is the first American known to have given birth to septuplets.

The hormone preparation she received is the same as that linked with the birth of stillborn sextuplets and septuplets in Sweden last year and with quintuplets born in 1965 in New Zealand and Sweden.

Lesotho Wins Its Freedom

Maseru, Lesotho (AP) — The British protectorate of Basutoland became an independent nation named Lesotho Tuesday. It was the second black African country bordering white-ruled South Africa to win independence within four days.

Representing Queen Elizabeth II as the British Union Jack was hauled down at midnight Monday was Princess Marina, duchess of Kent, the queen's aunt. She flew here from Botswana, which was the protectorate of Bechuanaland before it became independent last Thursday.

The princess was met by Paramount Chief Moshoeshoe II, who becomes the constitutional monarch within the British Commonwealth.

Lesotho, a Maryland-sized land, entered independence with problems of poverty and primitive industry.

It has only about 2,000 whites in a population of about 1 million.

Moshoeshoe is dissatisfied with the new constitution. He wants control over defense, internal security, and foreign affairs and has the support of the powerful opposition Congress and Freedom Parties.

Jonathan has only a majority of two in parliament.

Eagle Killer Is Acquitted

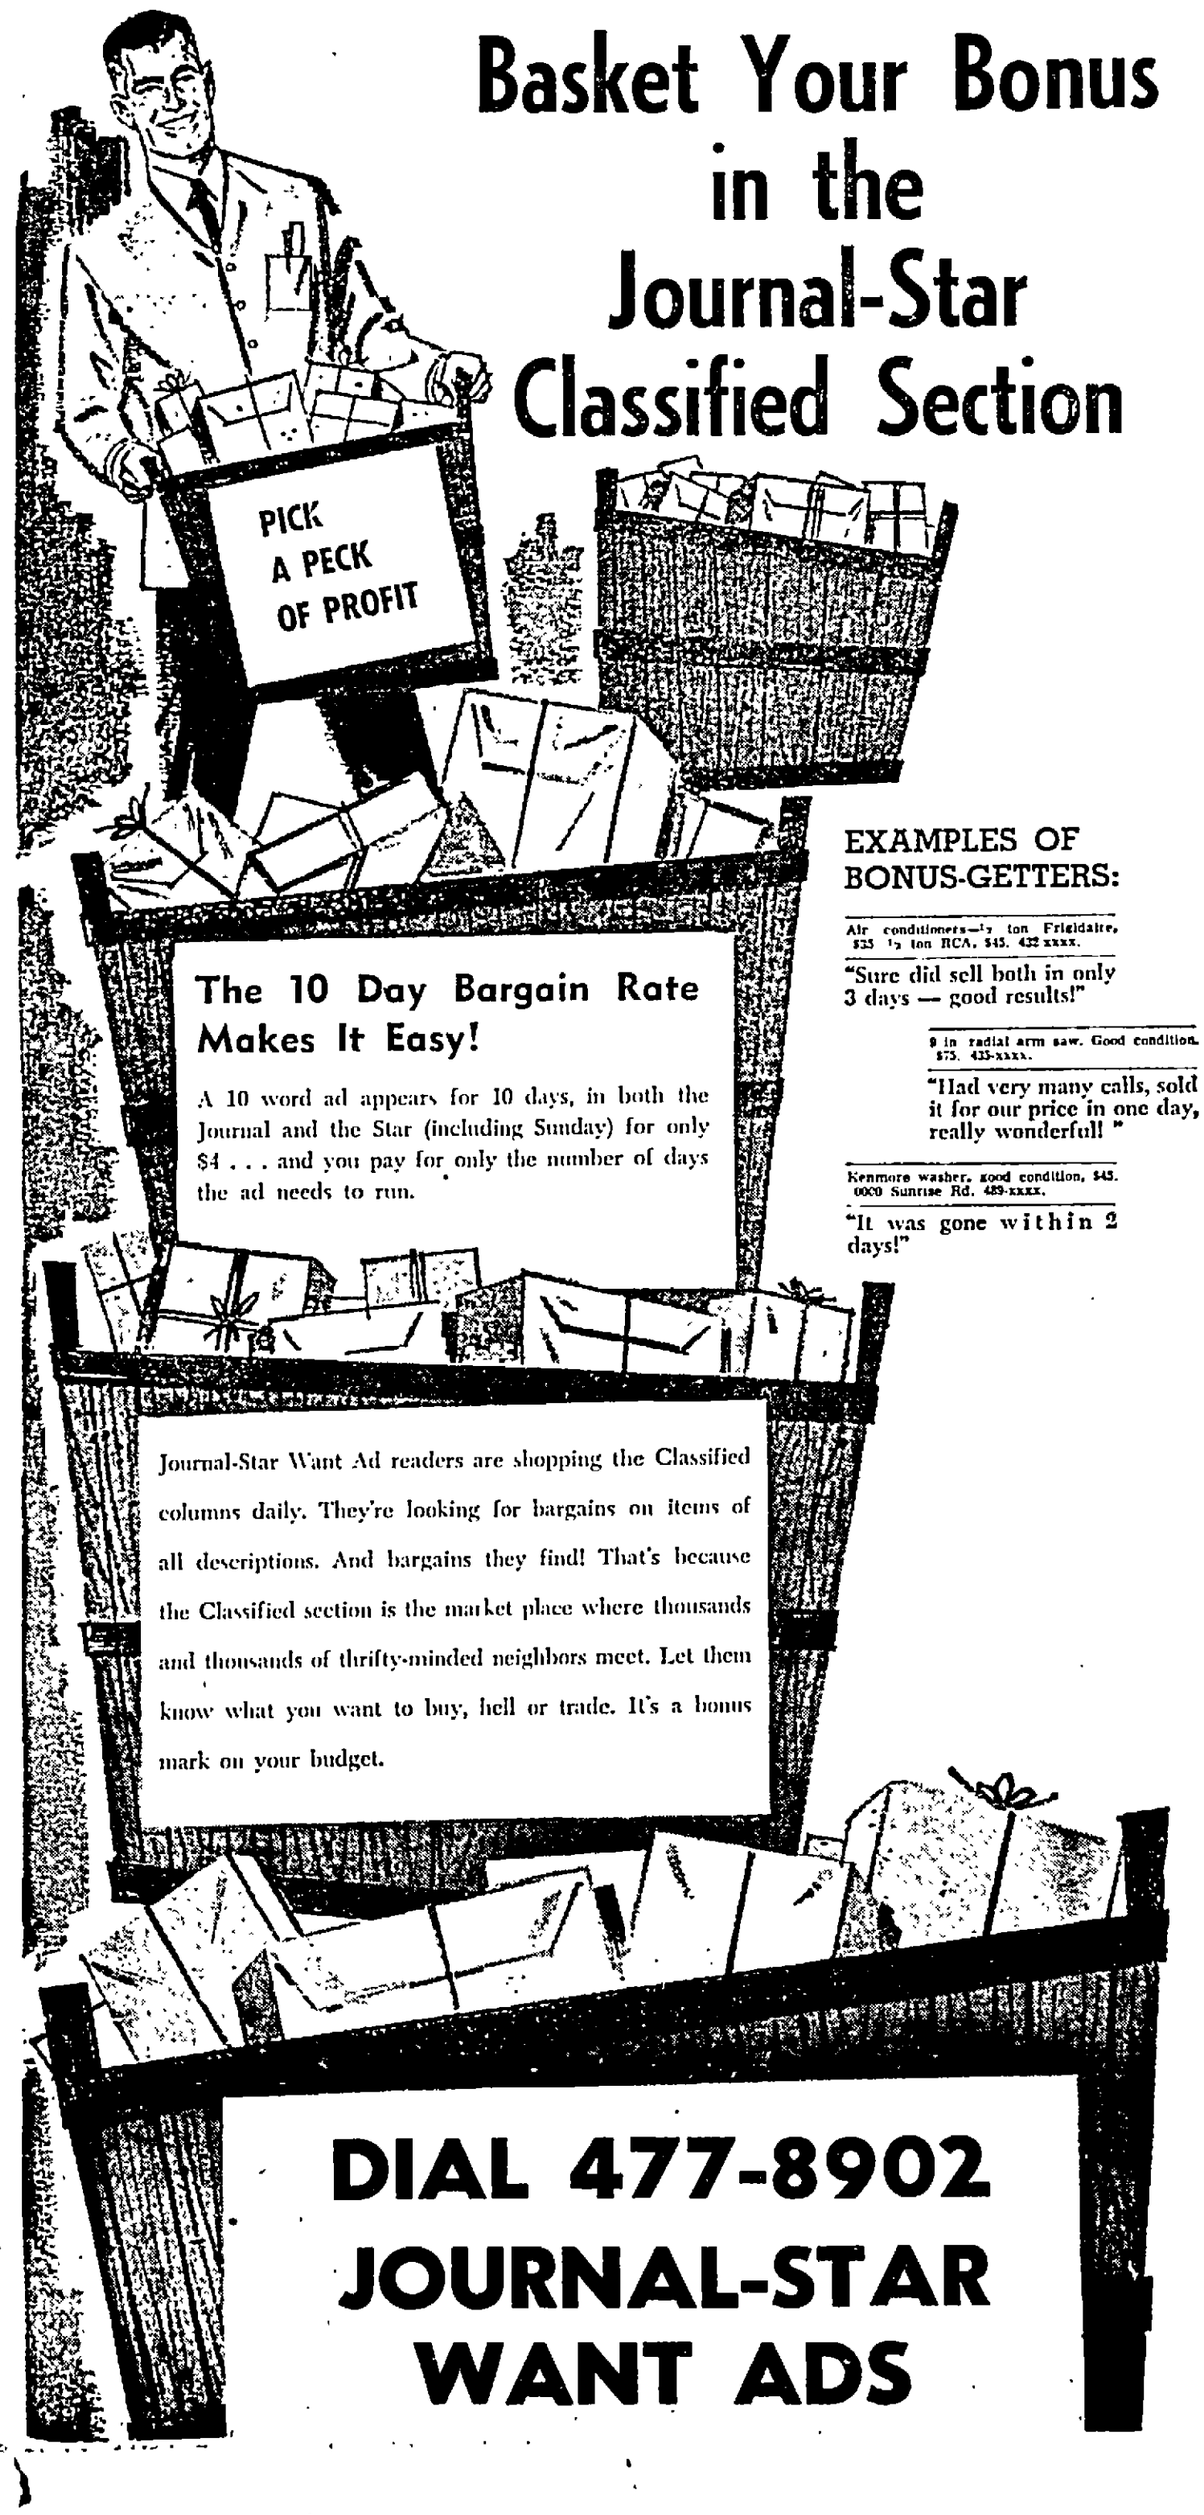

San Francisco (UPI) — A federal judge ruled Monday that Marin County rancher Leroy Martinelli was justified in killing two government-protected eagles that attacked his lambs last year.

U.S. Dist. Judge William T. Sweigert acquitted Martinelli, 36, of charges he killed a bald eagle Jan. 25, 1965, and a golden eagle the following day without obtaining a permit from the secretary of the interior.

The judge said he could not find that Martinelli was engaged in wanton slaughter, but warned his decision did not mean courts would allow killing of protected birds.

Livestock Auction

Sale Every Wednesday

We have a big run of livestock last Wednesday with prices on some kinds sharply lower while others were steady to weak. Although the market was weak, clearance on all classes was good.

Quotations from Sept. 28 Sale:

Hogs—Butchers, 190-230 lbs.	$21.50-$21.90
Butchers, 230-300 lbs.	20.50- 21.50
Sows, 250-500 lbs.	19.00- 20.40
Stock Pigs, 80-160 lbs.	21.00- 24.25
Feeder Pigs, per head (lightweights)	11.50- 14.25
Sows with Pigs, per family	106.00-111.00
Aged Boars	14.80- 15.25
Cattle—Baby Calves, all grades	20.00- 56.00
Calves, 250-400 lbs.	26.25- 29.00
Calves, 400-550 lbs.	24.00- 27.50
Yearlings, 550-700 lbs.	23.50- 26.00
Heavier Weights, 700 up	22.60- 24.90
Holstein Steers & Heifers (all weights)	19.25- 27.25

Breeding Ewes, per head	11.50- 18.00
Breeding Bucks, per head	16.00- 19.00

We now have 150 yearling steers and heifers consigned for next Wed. Also quite a number of butcher hogs, sows and stock hogs and there is plenty room for more. It is interesting to note that our hog numbers have steadily increased the past 3 weeks.

Listen to KFOR (1240) each Mon., Tues. & Wed. at 6:10 A.M. & 12:45 P.M. for latest market news.

An attendant is here each Tuesday until 10:00 P.M. to receive early and evening deliveries.

Boeing Openings for Production Workers

Lincoln Interviews
October 3 through 8

The new Boeing 747 jet transport program is opening the way for many interesting, good-paying aerospace production jobs in the Seattle area. The 747, largest airplane ever designed for commercial service, will carry 490 passengers or 100 tons of cargo at speeds over 600 mph. To build this modern jetliner, Boeing is erecting the world's largest-volume building — a manufacturing plant with 158,000,000 cubic feet of space.

Other career advantages at Boeing include unprecedented jetliner sales, and major contracts in the nation's most important military and space programs. The total result is the most accelerated expansion program in the company's history — and excellent job opportunity for qualified personnel.

You'll be working in the Seattle area, which is well known for year-round mild climate and top-ranked schools. In addition, fresh-and salt-water fishing and boating, hunting, camping, mountain climbing and skiing are all within an hour's drive of Seattle.

TRAINING OPENINGS (WITH PAY)
Beginner openings with Boeing's Manufacturing Department, in the Seattle-Renton area, start at $2.445 per hour. Applicants must be U.S. citizens, at lenst 18 years of age, and should have mechanical aptitude and working knowledge of mathematics.

SKILLED
Machinists — Tool & Die Makers

Apply in person or call the Boeing representative.

WE'RE STUCK
With a 1964 Chevrolet Impala Sport hardtop. We have had this car since July 28 and can't seem to get it sold. It has the right engine, 327, V-8, it's a 3 speed, it is beautiful inside and out and runs real good. It was traded in by a married man who liked sharp cars. We have priced it at $1795 but it must be too high. So—take it away at only $1695. Guaranteed too. 6c
